U. S.-CANADIAN JOINT BOARD TO STUDY DEFENSE

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 18.—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada today agreed to set up a permanent joint board of defense to safeguard North America from foreign invasion.

Gen. Marshall [top] and Admiral Stark.

The action grew out of their conference in the private car of the Presidential special train last night on a siding at Heuvelton, N. Y., near where more than 90,000 officers and men of the first army are engaged in maneuvers along the Canadian border.

The agreement was announced in a joint statement issued at Ogdensburg, N. Y., a few miles from the scene of the conference shortly before the two executives parted.

Joint Statement Issued.

"The prime minister and the President have discussed the mutual problems of defense in relation to the safety of Canada and the United States," the statement read.

"It has been agreed that a permanent joint board of defense shall be set up at once by the two countries. This permanent joint board on defense shall commence immediate studies relating to sea, land, and air problems, including personnel and material.

"It will consider in the broader sense the defense of the north half of the western hemisphere.

"The permanent joint board on defense will consist of four or five members from each country, most of them from the services. It will meet shortly."

Leaves for Hyde Park.

After issuing the statement, Mr. Roosevelt left for his boyhood home here on the Hudson river, and Mr. Mackenzie King left for Ottawa, the Canadian capital.

It is expected that American members of the joint board will include General George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the army, and Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations. Other members may be Maj. Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, and Rear Admiral John Towers, navy chief of aeronautics.

One of the first subjects for consideration by the board probably will be American acquisition of naval and air bases on Canadian soil to implement the defense of America by providing against invasion thru Canada. Defense experts long have agreed the United States should have bases in Newfoundland and Nova Scotia.

Roosevelt Repeats Pledge.

The conference between the two executives came within a few minutes after Mr. Roosevelt reiterated the pledge he made two years ago to the day that the United States would not stand idly by if Canada were attacked.

The prime minister went aboard the President's car at 6:35 p. m. for dinner and remained with Mr. Roosevelt until almost 1 o'clock this morning. The two talked behind drawn blinds in the dining and sitting rooms of the private car.

An hour before the statement was issued Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Mackenzie King attended field services under a blazing sun. The services were in commemoration of the 2,874 world war dead of Pennsylvania's 28th division, known as the "Iron" division, which participated in the battles of St. Mihiel, the Meuse, and the Argonne.

Stimson Attends Parley.

In the car with the two executives was Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, who remained for the final phase of the maneuvers, which begins at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning.

W. P. Chrysler Is Dead; Maker of Automobiles

Death came from a cerebral hemorrhage after an illness of more than two years. Chrysler had taken no active part in business since he was stricken with a circulatory attack May 26, 1938, but he maintained an interest in world affairs.

Children at Bedside.

At his bedside were two personal physicians and his four children—Walter P. Jr.; Jack, Mrs. Byron Foy, and Mrs. Edward Garbisch.

Funeral services, his associates said, would be held Tuesday or Wednesday at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church in New York City. Burial will be in Sleepy Hollow cemetery at Tarrytown, N. Y.

Chrysler, chairman of the board of the Chrysler corporation, was reputed to be "the most insured man in the world." One report said in 1931 he had taken out $12,000,000 in life insurance policies.

Walter Percy Chrysler was but 17 years old when he went to work as an apprentice machinist at Ellis, Kas., in 1892. His first pay as a wage earner was 7 cents an hour for wiping grease and carrying tools.

In 1937 the Chrysler corporation, of which he then was chairman of the board, paid him a monthly salary of $16,667 and paid the premiums on his life insurance policies.

Born in Kansas.

Chrysler was born April 2, 1875, in the Kansas hamlet of Wamego, near Ellis. His father, Henry Chrysler, was an engineer on a wood burning locomotive.

At the age of 33 Walter became manager of the American Locomotive company's plants at Pittsburgh.

It was while on his last railroading job, when he had headquarters in Chicago, that Chrysler became interested in automobiles. At the 1905 automobile show he wanted a big White automobile. Its price was $5,000. He had $700 in cash. A banker friend lent the balance to him. He had the car shipped to his home, cleared out a barn, and took it to pieces.

Enters Auto Industry.

Altho he was earning $12,000 a year with the locomotive company he jumped at the chance to take a $6,000 a year job with what was to become General Motors.

His first automobile job was as plant manager with the Buick Motor company.

After the formation of General Motors, of which he was executive vice president, Chrysler quarreled with William C. Durant in 1920 and resigned to direct the affairs of the Willys-Overland company. In two years Chrysler effected many economies for Willys-Overland.

Takes Over Maxwell-Chalmers.

When this job was finished a group of bankers induced him to try to save Maxwell-Chalmers from impending bankruptcy.

Four years after Chrysler took over its management the company had paid its debts, had $5,000,000 in the bank, 2,000 dealers, and a smoothly functioning shop. With the growth in solidarity of Maxwell came the chance to present the first Chrysler car in 1924.

The first year Chrysler sold 50 million dollars' worth of the new automobiles. He brought about a reorganization that resulted in the Chrysler corporation, one of the big three in automobile manufacturing, taking in, as it did, the Maxwell, Chalmers, and Dodge companies. This was in 1928.

Builds Chrysler Tower.

Aside from automobiles, Mr. Chrysler's main achievement was the Chrysler building in New York, a building second in size only to the Empire State building.

Mr. Chrysler married Miss Della V. Forker, a childhood sweetheart, at Ellis, Kas., on June 6, 1901. Mrs. Chrysler died Aug. 8, 1938, at the Chrysler home in Kings Point, N. Y. She was 62 years old.

VESSEL TORPEDOED OFF IRISH COAST, WIRELESS REPORTS

New York, Aug. 18 (AP).—Mackay radio intercepted an S O S shortly after 5 p. m. [Chicago time] today from a ship which reported it had been torpedoed about 300 miles west of Ireland.

Mackay said the ship identified herself with the call letters ONVF and was apparently a ship formerly owned by the United States Lines and sold to a Belgian company.

A British station, GCK, at Valencia, Ireland, first reported hearing the S O S and asked Mackay to listen for it. Mackay operators said they soon picked up this message:

"ONVF, position 55.28 north, 15.10 west. Torpedoed. Now in boats waiting to be lowered."

Style Creator to Broadcast Design Review

Travis Banton of Hollywood, an outstanding American style creator, has been chosen as commentator of the program Oct. 2 when The Tribune's American Fashions contest culminates in a colorful style review in the W-G-N audience studio, at which winning designs will be described on a coast to coast radio broadcast.

Travis Banton.

Banton to Describe Garments.

Banton was selected because for 20 years he has created characteristically American clothes and because of his belief in the fertility and the future of native American designing.

As mannequins parade across the W-G-N stage, wearing the 40 most distinctive designs submitted in The Tribune Fashions contest, Banton will give a word picture of each garment to the radio and studio audiences.

Banton ranks with Paul Poiret, Jean Patou, Lucien Lelong, Edward Molyneaux, and Main Bocher among great couturiers. His salon has been in Hollywood for the last 16 years.

Parade to End Contest.

The style parade he will describe will end the Tribune contest, which is intended to spur the development of American fashions for American women.

Entrants must submit unsigned designs, sketched on illustration board 14 by 20 inches in size, to American Fashions, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 435 North Michigan avenue, by the deadline at midnight Thursday. The designer's name must be inclosed in a sealed envelope attached to each sketch.

Sketches from which the judges will select the 40 outstanding designs are continuing to pour in to Tribune Tower. Cash prizes totaling $7,500 will be awarded the 25 winning garments. There will be one prize of $3,000, one of $2,000, three of $500, and 20 of $50.

GERMAN POSTS ALONG FRENCH COAST BLASTED BY WAVES OF ENEMY FLYERS

Dover Hears Hitler Masses Infantry on Channel.

LONDON, Aug. 19 [Monday] (AP).—Britain, grasping grimly for the initiative in the greatest air war of all time, struck earth shaking blows at German positions on the French coast today for the third time since Saturday night.

Despite the frenzy of defending their island from the suddenly renewed, massive German attacks of Sunday, the British sent great waves of bombers over the channel, and the port of Dover was lighted with the glare of echoing bomb blasts from Boulogne and Calais, a score of miles across the sea. The British appeared to be devoting the most attention to Boulogne, the spot from which Julius Caesar invaded Britain in 55 B. C.

Raid Shipping and Planes.

The air ministry declined to confirm a report by the British Press association that the R. A. F. had bombed into confused turmoil a German army of five divisions—up to 100,000 men—on the French beaches, and the Press association withdrew its story.

Nevertheless, reports were current in Dover that German infantry was massed on the French shore, and the sight and sound of battle tended to confirm these assertions.

The air ministry said the Saturday night raid on Boulogne was directed principally at shipping and seaplanes in the harbor there. When the attack ended, it was said, the basin was "ringed and crisscrossed by spreading flames." Three tons of high explosives, in addition to "showers of incendiaries," were dumped at harbor targets.

Battery is Silenced.

One bomber was reported to have opened fire on a section of antiaircraft guns with "less than 100 rounds" of machine gun fire and silenced the battery.

The British also attacked oil plants, munition factories, aircraft stores, and railway targets in Germany and 26 airdromes in northwest France, Holland, and Belgium, Saturday night.

SEES BRITISH ATTACK

BY TAYLOR HENRY.

AN ENGLISH TOWN ON THE CHANNEL COAST, Aug. 18 (AP).—I saw waves of British aircraft cross the channel today to carry out bombing raids on Nazi targets along the northern coast of France.

The dull thud of heavy explosions across the channel could be heard only a few minutes after what seemed to be three waves of medium British bombers flew over the coast.

At the same time dogfights took place between British Spitfires and Hurricanes and German Messerschmitts, which came up to intercept the British. The air immediately was filled with the angry roar of diving and zooming planes.

At one time there was the typically heavy sound of German bombers crossing inland, while to the west what appeared to be a British bomber squadron was crossing outward.

Raids Last Four Hours.

Fighters engaged in a dogfight high in the air were leaving a crazy pattern of condensed vapor from their exhausts as they twisted and turned some four or five miles above us.

The afternoon raid by the British lasted about four hours. Just before the raid ended six Messerschmitts dived against a balloon barrage, sending two of the silver sausages floating down in flames.

Altho antiaircraft batteries put up an almost solid barrage, the six Messerschmitts dived thru and coasted to their bases on the French side of the channel.

During the first part of the raid one Messerschmitt crashed inland.

Wed as Bombs Fall; Groom Calls It "a Good Start"

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—"I do," said the bride as the bombs fell and the vicar of a church in southwest London stubbornly went on reading the marriage service during today's German raid. "This is a good start," grinned the bridegroom.

HITLER TESTS NAVAL WEAPON FOR INVASION

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 18 [Via Airplane to Berlin] (AP).—In preparation for the German attempt to invade England, Adolf Hitler's navy is trying out a new weapon that officers insist will surprise the world when the moment comes to use it.

Tests of the device are being conducted in a harbor which I visited during a three day tour of the Belgian-French coast opposite England. The nature of the weapon and the exact location of the preinvasion trials thru which it is being put are, of course, withheld from publication.

Military Supremely Confident.

But an atmosphere of supreme confidence prevails among the troops waiting in this area for the grand assault on England to begin. Ask any German officer or private along the coast between Ostend, Belgium, and Boulogne, France, how much longer he expects to be on duty and he will tell you with conviction:

"O, by September [12 more days] it will all be over. By that time our troops will have conquered the British Isles, and the English, like the French, will have begged for peace."

From such glimpses as I obtained of their preparations, made behind one of the most effective screens of camouflage ever devised, I can only say this confidence is understandable. Every eventuality apparently has been taken into account, and weapons of the weirdest character have been devised for this final phase, as the Germans regard it, of the conflict.

Wait on Air Force.

For the moment the troops are waiting for the German air force to complete its task of routing and demolishing Britain's air defense.

That does not mean they are idle. There still are vast quantities of war booty, captured from the Belgians, French, and English, which must be sorted and prepared for shipment to Germany or put in repair for use elsewhere.

All this is being done with German thoroness. When I last visited the western front in June all this booty was standing around. Now one sees drivers and mechanics putting French tanks into battle condition, or army engineers tinkering with captured railway locomotives.

Trainloads of steel cars, copper ingots, and other raw materials are rolling east to Germany.

Starting Tomorrow!

"THE CAMPAIGN—BOTH SIDES OF IT"

Because virtually all the people of Chicago and suburbs depend on the Tribune for news, the Tribune, starting tomorrow, will print the views of the Democratic and Republican National Committees. Each party will be given equal space and opportunity to present its side of the Presidential campaign. Look for this new feature, "The Campaign—Both Sides of It," in tomorrow's Tribune.

Croydon Airport and Portsmouth Naval Base Attacked.

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—German bombers struck with massive new force at the bastions of Britain today, but England's determined defenders reported they destroyed 140 enemy planes and completely routed the second of two great raids directed at London and its defenses. In combating the renewed raids after Saturday's sudden German layoff, the British acknowledged the loss of 16 planes.

The air ministry said that "having regard to the numbers of planes employed" the German loss "represents the heaviest defeat he [the enemy] has yet suffered at the hands of our fighters and ground defenses."

The claim of 140 planes stands second highest in the British listing. Last Thursday's toll was given as 180.

[The German command in a special communique said 138 British planes were destroyed yesterday as against 34 missing for Germany. The German radio later broadcast that the total of British losses for Sunday had reached 182. The Germans reported Kenley, Sutton, and Biggin Hill, suburbs of South London, were bombed.]

650 Raiders Take Part.

It was estimated that 650 or more German planes participated in the raids, which continued into the night. As many as 100 bombers were reported in individual formations.

In the first German onslaught on Sunday the British air ministry acknowledged that "bombs were dropped on several royal air force airdromes where some service personnel were killed and others injured." [This apparently included Croydon, London's great airport.]

But in the second big sweep toward London 42 Nazi bombers were driven out to sea before they ever got to the objective, and at least three of this flight were shot down, the British declared.

Eighteen German bombers and 12 fighters assaulted the area of Portsmouth—British south shore naval base—but six of them were destroyed and the others jettisoned their bombs and fled, the British asserted.

Smash at Channel Towns.

While these attacks were in progress, other waves of German fighters and bombers smashed at the channel towns, Kent and Hampshire, the east coast, the southwest, and the Midlands.

The vigor of the fighting over England was signified by the disclosure that 14 German planes crashed on just 14 miles of British beach in one phase of the fighting.

A great air battle raged over the outskirts of London as German planes tried to smash thru the British capital's defenses. Two air raid alarms were sounded in London.

At midday bombs were dropped in the outer fringe of the south London area, it was announced. Some civilian casualties were caused in the neighborhood of Croydon.

Appear as Specks in the Sky.

One eyewitness describing the clash between defense forces and the first wave of bombers said:

"For a time they battled so high in the sky they looked like specks diving in and out of the clouds, before the raiders turned tail."

About 15 minutes later the second wave of bombers came over and dived. Houses were shaken by the detonations and by the vibration of answering antiaircraft batteries.

Sirens sounded the first alarm in London shortly after noon—the third alarm in three days—and soon afterward the roar of motors high in the sky, the crunch-crunch of distant explosions, the splatter of firing and the shriek of diving fighters shattered the city's usual Sunday quiet.

Cartridge Cases Fall.

Soon empty cartridge cases, spent machine gun bullets, and shell fragments were rattling in the deserted streets and on the roofs of outlying sections. Near South London the earth shook with the crash of falling bombs.

One bomb, striking just back of a house, tore a crater 25 feet deep, but the occupants who were sheltering under a staircase escaped without a scratch.

In the second raid the Germans crossed the southeast coast near Dover and South Foreland. They attempted to penetrate the London defenses along both sides of the Thames estuary. "They were broken up by our attacking fighter planes in an hour's battle and driven back over Kent and Sussex," the air ministry announced. The planes were seen heading for their bases over the North sea and the English channel.

Many Fail to Return.

Observers who saw one mass wave of 100 planes cross the coast and dash toward the capital said they counted but 53 returning in a ragged formation.

An eyewitness in a southeastern area said he saw three groups of 12 bombers coming over, and "I could see one of the formations swoop down at its target.

"The other two made off in different directions, chased by [British] Spitfires spurting machine gun fire."

In addition to the bombs dropped in the south London area, raiders dumped their loads at many points, ranging from the south and southeast coasts to the outer defenses of London, and in the southwest and Wales.

Incendiary Bombs Loosed.

One raider attacked a southeast coast section with incendiary bombs, and then machine gunned farms in the vicinity.

A single bomb was reported to have fallen on the northwest coast.

Numerous fires were reported after these bombings. Kent and Hampshire felt numerous bombs.

Some houses were wrecked in a residential district near a midland town but most bombs were said to have fallen on soft ground. Fires broke out on the southeast coast before British fighters chased off a squadron of 22 German planes in a battle.

In the southwest an undisclosed number of soldiers were killed when they approached a delayed-action bomb.

Prepare for World Offensive.

In the midst of Nazi air raids, Britain is preparing its armed forces vigorously for a world offensive, Minister of Supply Herbert Morrison said in a speech today.

"The ground plan of our future production activity is drawn on the assumption that our task will be a world offensive when the moment comes," he asserted.

Morrison said the equipment of British forces was not yet "fully satisfactory," but added that the army had sufficient weapons to "perform its immediate task successfully even if the call should come tonight."

Three months ago, he explained, Britain was in "great peril," but since then a "transformation" had taken place.

NAZIS PUSH WAR AGAINST DRINK AS HEALTH MEASURE

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—Determination of German authorities to push their warfare against alcoholism was revealed today at the annual conference here of antialcoholists. It was stressed that the fight against drinking now is part of the health program of the nation, and will be waged until the people attain bodily fitness "which the Fuehrer so often has desired."

One of the leaders, a Dr. Graf, stated that "advertising of propaganda for alcoholic beverages must be drowned out by the voices of the state party."

3 SWISS CITIES HAVE ALARMS; FIRE ON PLANES

BERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 19, Monday (AP).—Air raid alarms screamed warnings during the night to the inhabitants of Berne, Basel, and Geneva. Here in the Swiss capital, which had two alarms, antiaircraft batteries fired upon the trespassing planes.

The second of the two alarms apparently was caused by the return flight of the foreign craft. It was the fourth night of air raid warnings within a week. Darkness masked the identity of the planes but they were believed to be British.

American Pilot Injured in Air Fight Over Dover

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—Arthur G. Donohue, American pilot who joined the Royal Air Force in fifteen minutes after trying for eight months to get into the United States air force, is nursing slight burns in a hospital in Kent after being shot down in a dogfight over the Dover area. Donohue, former instructor at a flying school at Laredo, Tex., brought down an enemy bomber the first day he saw action.

Churchill May Discuss Naval Bases for America

LONDON, Aug. 19, Monday (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill will make his first full public review of foreign affairs since he assumed office in a statement Tuesday before the house of commons. American-British talks regarding American acquisition of bases on British soil in the new world may be among his topics.

Nazi Forces on Channel Await Attack Order.

BERLIN, Aug. 18 (AP).—Germany hurled countless bombers against London and its great Croydon airport today while others were reported concentrated in the Low Countries and France "impatiently waiting orders for a mass attack on England."

Wave on wave of German bombers streaked over the English channel to loose explosive steel in the heart of the British empire, its southern suburbs of Kenley, Biggin Hill, and Sutton. Croydon was declared "again in flames."

"Trained German pilots with machines ready to start have been concentrated in Holland, Belgium, and France, where German airmen are impatiently waiting orders for a mass attack on England," said the official German radio.

Claim 182 Planes Downed.

In a special communique the high command put at 138 the number of British planes destroyed today, counting 23 wrecked on the ground, and said that 34 German planes were missing. Later the German radio broadcast that 182 British planes had been downed.

A destroyer plane squadron named for Horst Wessel, a Nazi party martyr before Adolf Hitler's rise to power, was credited with shooting down 51 of the British planes.

It was the second attack on Croydon, only eight miles from Charing Cross in the heart of London, and the third on the British capital in four days. Last Thursday the Germans bombed the city's big airport and the sprawling Tilbury docks and followed up this assault with a rain of bombs on the southwestern London area on Friday.

Triangle South of London.

The region attacked today forms a rough triangle in the south London area with Biggin Hill, north of Croydon, the nearest point toward London proper.

Kenley is in a comparatively sparsely inhabited area about three miles south of Croydon, just off the main highway from London to the port of Brighton on the channel.

Sutton, picturesque suburban community of stone fences and thatched roof cottages, is four miles west of Croydon and in the vicinity of the famous Epsom Downs race course.

In addition to the British planes destroyed, the Germans were reported to have sent seven barrage balloons crashing in flames.

Hit Other Objectives.

While the squadrons were driving home the attack in the London area other Nazi squadrons unloaded bombs on military objectives in Kent, southeast of London and in Hampshire, to the southwest.

At Eastleigh, in Hampshire, the airdrome was heavily bombed.

Airports were especially targets of today's attacks and it was said several were "destroyed" by bomb hits. Five hangars were reported destroyed at an airport near Maidstone, Kent.

Heavy air fighting occurred over the south coast naval base and port of Portsmouth, German military circles reported.

Bad weather was said to have held up the full fury of the German attack until this afternoon. Even then the operations were by "only a few German squadrons," the German radio said.

Report Deaths in Brussels.

During the night the Nazi air force and the British traded heavy blows. The Germans reported the British killed four civilians and wounded 22 in an attack on central Brussels. At Dortmund, Germany, "a number" of civilian casualties were reported, including many dead.

The German high command said its bombers directed especially heavy attacks against factories at Filton, three miles north of Bristol, where Britain's Bristol Blenheim bombers are manufactured; aircraft factories near Birmingham, in the midlands; industrial plants at Reading, 45 miles north of Portsmouth; harbor facilities at Swansea, in Wales; Avenmouth, five miles north of Bristol, on the Severn; and Bournemouth, on the south English coast.

Other attacks were directed at British antiaircraft and searchlight batteries and flying fields in central England.

It added that the number of British planes downed on Friday had been increased from 89 to 92.

REPORT RUMANIA MOVING OUT OF SOUTH DOBRUJA

TURNU-SEVERIN, Rumania, Aug. 18 (AP).—Informed sources predicted tonight that Bulgaria would win quick success but that Hungary would run into a stalemate in negotiations with Rumania over their territorial demands. Evacuation of southern Dobruja—object of Bulgaria's demands—by civil and military authorities was reported already under way.

Some reports said, too, that the enshrined heart of Queen Marie, which was at Balcic, in Dobruja, already had been taken back into old Rumania. Rumanian delegates headed by Alexander Creteanu will arrive in Craiova Monday to meet Bulgarian negotiators. Political observers predict Rumania will cede all of southern Dobruja.

Chances for agreement on Hungary's demand for two-thirds of Transylvania were regarded as much slimmer. These negotiators also meet Monday.

EDITOR IS SLAIN IN SHANGHAI; ON JAP BLACKLIST

SHANGHAI, China, Aug. 19 [Monday] (AP).—Chan Ching-chong, an editor of the American owned newspaper Tamei Wan Pao, was shot and killed by unidentified assassins today as he left his home in the French sector of the International settlement to go to his office.

The attack on the editor, one of a number of prominent Chinese "blacklisted" by the Japanese sponsored Wang Ching-wei régime, was the third such incident during the weekend.

GERMANY SEEKS BLOCKADE DEAL WITH IRELAND

Proposes Arrangement to Pass Shipping.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—Germany's official announcement of an unrestricted blockade of England involves Ireland. This was revealed at the foreign office today when the German economic ambassador, Dr. Karl Ritter, sought to explain Germany's newest move against England.

The Germans declared they had informed the Irish government that they were ready to make special arrangements that would enable Ireland to receive the supplies she needs, and that they would welcome Irish suggestions in this connection. It is surmised here that the Germans would grant free passage to vessels sailing under the Irish flag provided the sailing schedule of these ships and their routes had been agreed upon between the Germans and the Irish.

Threaten Convoyed Neutrals.

While the unrestricted blockade practically has been in existence since the early weeks of the war, the Germans now proclaim that any ship sailing in any British convoy automatically loses its neutrality in German eyes and can be sunk immediately. Ships carrying English navicerts [certificates that pass ships thru the British blockade] were also branded as unneutral and threatened with immediate sinking.

The zone of the blockade was defined thus by the Germans: From the Atlantic coast of France at 47 degrees 30 minutes North and 2 degrees 40 minutes West, to a point 45 degrees North and 5 degrees West, to a point 45 degrees North and 20 degrees West, to a point 58 degrees North and 20 degrees West, to a point 62 degrees North and 3 degrees East, then southward to the Belgian coast, and along the Belgian-French coast to the starting point.

Lisbon Out of Zone.

Lisbon, Portugal, is not in the blockaded area and American and other neutral ships can use that port.

The United States troop transport American Legion, steaming homeward from northern Finland with about 900 refugees and other passengers from Scandinavia, was believed to be nearing the danger area. The German government yesterday disclaimed any responsibility for the safety of the ship in the danger zone.

The "totalitarian blockade" will, many Germans assert, prove most effective because the air force will play a big part, whereas in the world war it played only a minor part. The Germans assert they will respect the spirit of international law but that the enforcement and interpretation of international law changes.

The Germans hold that many of the fundamental tenets of naval codes are based on agreements made in Paris in 1856 "at a time when the steamship was still in its infancy, not to speak of aviation."

Nazis express hope that the fear of a possible more effective blockade of England, coupled with terror spread by German Stukas [dive bombers] and air attacks, will undermine the British spirit and induce the people to overthrow their government.

German propaganda denounces the "men in charge of the British government, who are the only stumbling block to peace."

Some German circles continue to speak with the greatest sympathy of the duke of Windsor, creating the impression that they received word he is ready to make a compromise with them.

Irish Will Act Today.

DUBLIN, Ireland, Aug. 19, Monday (AP).—Germany has approached Ireland's government on the question of exempting Irish shipping from the "total blockade" of the British Isles. Frank Gallagher, secretary to Prime Minister Eamon De Valera, said, "German messages have been received and they will receive official attention today."

A "Nazi Promise," Say Britons.

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—British sources scorned today as "merely another Nazi promise" Germany's suggested arrangement whereby Ireland's shipping could escape the new Nazi "total blockade" of Britain.

"It isn't worth the paper it's written on," commented one source.

FRENCH FIGHT ITALY IN SOMALILAND WAR, SAYS FASCIST EDITOR

ROME, Italy, Aug. 18 (AP).—The authoritative Fascist editor Virginio Gayda, whose utterances often foreshadow the decisions of Premier Mussolini, today charged that the French were helping Britain's defense of British Somaliland, object of an Italian East African campaign.

He accused the governor of French Somaliland of commanding French troops beside the British.

Besides throwing up fortifications which the British are using, he said, the French left "a generous gift" of cannon, machine guns, munitions, pilots, planes, and high officers to the British in British Somaliland after the French armistice.

RUSSIA DISPLAYS SECRET BOMBER IN BIG AIR SHOW

MOSCOW, Aug. 18 (AP).—The soviet air force today showed an aviation day crowd of 500,000 Russia's secret bombers, glider trains, and new parachute troop drills in a display hailed as proving Russia is safe from aerial attack.

Four new planes raced by the stands, permitting glimpses of an unusual fishlike back fin and double tails. They were described as high speed bombers.

Sixteen airmen descended with parachutes opened by an alarm clock-like mechanism instead of the usual rip cord. To climax the show, 150 men dropped from planes with bright vari-colored parachutes.

A TRIBUNE MAN SEES AIR RAIDS FROM A HILLTOP

Hears Chatter of Guns, Rumble of Bombs.

BY JOSEPH CERUTTI.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—From one of the hills which ridge the southern section of London I had a panoramic view today of renewed German raids on the southeastern and southwestern sections of the city. These new attacks seemed to dwarf the raid on Croydon last Thursday, both in the number of planes involved and the damage inflicted by both sides.

A haze made visibility uncertain and it was impossible to pick out the number of machines involved in the battles. But sharp bursts of antiaircraft fire and the heavy rumble of exploding bombs left no doubt that a fierce fight was going on.

Planes appeared and disappeared. Two long spirals of smoke twisting toward the earth were believed to indicate doomed German planes by the crowd of curious onlookers gathered on the hilltop.

Hurtles Out of Sky.

Another machine soon was seen hurtling vertically out of the sky. Puzzling to those who watched was a sudden flash of flame shooting toward the ground. The flash was accompanied by a dull boom.

It was the general opinion that an antiaircraft gunner had scored a direct hit on the bomb rack of a German plane. The comment of one grizzled world war veteran that "There goes another. . . ." caused high glee.

The first action lasted about an hour. After about 30 minutes two big spirals of smoke and a half dozen smaller ones, which obscured the horizon, marked the path of the raiders. It was estimated that the line of fire was from 8 to 10 miles away.

Few Fly in Formation.

The only German machines flying in formation as seen from my vantage point were seven darting off to the left in triple formation. The last plane trailed behind the leaders at a much slower speed.

The raiders attempted to repeat Thursday's maneuver of attacking Croydon airport, 8 miles south of central London, but so far as I could observe they met with scant success.

One machine coming in from the east swooped lower and lower toward the airport but encountered a terrific antiaircraft barrage.

Stay Out of Raid Shelter.

The imperturbable calm of the British public was manifest on this ridge, which is the center of a popular park. At the entrance to it stands a brick and concrete air raid shelter. It was almost unoccupied.

Many of those on the hilltop evinced annoyance that the raiders should interrupt their picnics and dinners.

However, there were many spoiled dinners and teas, for the second raid of the day came at a time when Londoners sit down to cold meat, salad, bread and butter, and tea, the traditional Sunday evening meal.

ARMY BOMBER FALLS IN LOUSIANA, BURNS; FOUR FLYERS KILLED

Ruston, La., Aug. 18 (AP).—Two officers and two enlisted men were killed tonight when a B-12 army bomber crashed into an open field and burned, seven miles southwest of here.

The dead were: Second Lieutenant James H. Griffin, 27 years old, the pilot, of Asheville, N. C., at Barksdale field, Shreveport; First Lieutenant Hubert T. Elders, 33, Columbia, S. C.; Private E. E. Quinker, Valdosta, Ga., and Private Daniel C. Johnston, Elberton, Ga.

Lieut. Griffin was crushed to death after bailing out when his parachute failed to open. The others were burned inside the plane, which exploded after crashing.

Boys playing near the place where the plane crashed said that Lieut. Griffin attempted to bail out before the plane crashed, but that he was too close to the ground and his parachute failed to open.

ITALIANS SMASH AT BERBERA WITH PICKED TROOPS

British Resistance Wilts as Enemy Advances.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 18 (AP).—Italy has thrown the pick of her Ethiopian troops into the battle for British Somaliland and a stronger grip on the Gulf of Aden, military sources said here today.

These troops, supporting columns already converging upon Berbera, Somaliland capital, were said to be spearheaded by picked Blackshirt regiments which had been stationed in Ethiopia.

Already heavily outnumbered, British defense forces are reported to be falling steadily back toward Berbera, fighting every inch of the way. The invasion started a fortnight ago with advances by three motorized columns.

Converging on Capital.

One broke into Zeila, on the Gulf of Aden, and is advancing down the coast toward Berbera. That column is supported by artillery, tanks and airplanes and has been attacked at least once by British warships shelling the coastal road.

The other columns have forced a way into the mountains and are pushing thru passes to reach the capital simultaneously with the attack from the north by the coastal column.

Meanwhile Great Britain is making a more impressive fight against Italian forces in northern Africa. Further details revealed today of Saturday's fighting in Italian Libya served to bolster British hopes that a serious crimp had been put into Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's preparations for a thrust at the Suez canal and the Red sea.

Claim Blockade Succeeds.

The British reiterated claims of heavy damage inflicted on the Italians Saturday when British warships shelled Bardia, Libya, and planes dropped hundreds of bombs. Fort Capuzzo, 30 miles inland from Bardia, was reported abandoned as a result of air raids. The defenders were said to be suffering from lack of water and supplies, as Italian ships have kept away from this coast.

The stone fort at Capuzzo was taken by the British early in the war, but later fell to the Italians. British explained their strategy was to let the Italians keep the fort but repeatedly bomb and shell it.

They made the Italians pay dearly for their tenancy, they said, systematically blasting every attempt to bring up water, food and munitions.

Fleet Action Called a "Show."

ROME, Aug. 18 (AP).—Foreign observers speculated today that the British fleet's heavy bombardment of Italy's big Libyan base at Bardia might have been intended as a show of strength for the benefit of Greece, which faces possible territorial demands by Italy.

Authorized Italian sources said that Italy still has not made specific territorial demands on Greece, but it was intimated strongly demands would be soon made for the Ciamuria section of Greece adjoining Albania. The Italian press kept up its campaign against Greece.

An Italian communique which described the bombardment yesterday covered action at sea, on land, and in the air and reported:

1. British warships attacking Bardia fired "not less than 300" shells into the city and other inland positions, killing one soldier and wounding 11 others.

2. Italian battle planes shot down seven—possibly nine—British planes which accompanied the attacking fleet and bombed inland objectives. Three Italian planes were lost.

3. An Italian submarine sank a 900 ton British tanker "somewhere in the Atlantic."

Learns Flying in Day

ANGEL STEVENS.

Los Angeles, Aug. 18 (AP).—Angel Stevens, 24 years old, a stenographer, proved today that learning to fly isn't such a tough task. She started her first lesson at 6 a. m. and at sundown made a solo flight at Metropolitan airport.

"She proved an apt pupil," said Flight Instructor Gordon Buck.

"I feel like celebrating," said Miss Stevens. "I wanted to prove that learning to fly was safe and easy, and that it's not necessary to have a college education to become a capable pilot."

U. S. NOTE WARNS BERLIN AGAINST 'MOLESTING' SHIP

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—The United States informed Germany in a formal note made public tonight that it expected the army transport American Legion, steaming homeward with nearly 900 Americans from Petsamo, Finland, would not "suffer molestation by any action undertaken by the German armed forces."

Publication of the note followed the German government's statement in Berlin yesterday that it would not be responsible for any harm that befell the ship if it followed the course outlined by the United States.

The state department said that Alexander W. Kirk, chargé d'affaires in Berlin, had been instructed yesterday afternoon to deliver this government's communication to the German foreign office.

Standing pat on the United States' decision that the transport should pass between the British island of North Rona and Cape Wrath, off the northern coast of Scotland, the note declared the question had been given "serious and protracted consideration" by this government and that it had been determined that "no other practical course existed."

The vessel was believed steaming toward waters north of Britain tonight. It sailed from Petsamo on Friday night.

GREECE VITAL TO BRITAIN'S WAR IN MEDITERRANEAN

Her Bases Valuable in Fight for Suez.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—While the attempt of the Italian army to conquer British Somaliland approached a climax, other developments in the Mediterranean today continued to mark time, preparatory to possible large scale operations from Gibraltar to the Gulf of Aden against British mastery of the Mediterranean, the Suez canal, Egypt, and Palestine.

An apology by Italy to Greece for attempting to bomb Greek destroyers "mistaken" for English ships, is believed to have eased the threat of an immediate Italo-Greek conflict, but a warning by Il Popolo d'Italia, Premier Benito Mussolini's newspaper, that there were reasons to believe "some kind of a secret agreement was existing between the Greek and British governments, allowing Britain to use Greek islands as naval bases" signifies this danger will recur.

Importance of Greece.

The strategic importance of Greece in eastern Mediterranean operations is considerable. If Greece sided with Britain it would furnish Britain with valuable air and naval bases from which operations could be conducted against Italy herself. In Italian hands, the same bases would serve as springboards from which attacks might be launched against the British fleet and land forces in Egypt and Palestine.

If Italy were able, thru sheer weight of numbers, to drive the British from Egypt, the English defense positions in Palestine might still be held as they can be supplied by an overland route from Bagdad and the Persian gulf. As long as Britain can hold this key position she is able to bar the road to Iraq oil, and Bagdad and the Persian gulf.

Palestine as a Fortress.

The geographical position of Palestine is most favorable to withstand a siege. It is protected by desert from the Suez—a wilderness over which Moses led Israel—and the settled part is compact. The Palestine uplands—the hills of Moab, Gilliad, Judea, Samaria, and Galilee—rise from the surrounding desert and sea.

Mobility and surprise, both vital elements in modern war, would be lacking in an attack. In the wild hilly country mechanized forces of any size would not be able to achieve speed except along a few roads which could be blocked and destroyed.

Palestine, while thus almost a fortress in itself, forms an excellent base for an attack on Egypt and therefore it is believed a possible Italian march across Egypt would be far from proving decisive even in the present operations in the middle east.

Chungking's People Hide 10 Hours from Jap Bombers

CHUNGKING, China, Aug. 18 (AP).—The sleepless populace of Chungking spent 10 hours in hot underground air raid shelters Saturday evening and Sunday morning. Japanese war planes hurled incendiary bombs and set numerous fires in three visits to this provisional Chinese capital.

Spy Peril Beaten, British Say; Only 'Small Fry' Still at Large

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—Only small fry have eluded Britain's fifth column net, officials believe, confident that they have licked the peril of an inside enemy. Altho large, undisclosed numbers of fifth columnists are in prison, the authorities are not being lulled into false security. An army of undercover agents remains on constant guard against spies and saboteurs.

The tumultuous session of the house of commons only last Wednesday was proof of the anxiety with which Britain has watched the silent struggle against Nazi agents and tipsters whose operations in Scandinavia, the Low Countries, and France helped pave the way for quick German conquest.

Act in Secrecy.

The parliamentary name calling was aroused by Prime Minister Churchill's refusal to disclose details of secret investigations by a mysterious committee. Parliament just had to take his word for it.

But the problem was a dangerous one as late as three months ago. All Prime Minister Churchill would say was that it has been reduced "to proper proportions." The whole story is likely to remain untold until after the war.

Here, however, are three examples of the diversified form that traitorous activity is reported to have taken:

Investigators found that confidential diplomatic reports on British official affairs, which are transmitted in a code known only to friendly nations, were reaching Berlin.

Embassy a Relay Point.

An embassy in a nearby neutral country was one of the relay points.

At least two men, one of whom was connected with the embassy of a friendly power, now are in jail as a result of this plot.

[Tyler Kent, former clerk of the American embassy in London, has been held on an undisclosed charge under the official secrets act.]

A neat trick to direct raiding warplanes to a munitions factory was discovered by a vigilant royal air force official. Red tile roofs put on a row of houses purchased during the first month of the war by a reputed Dutch concern were pleasing and innocent looking to civilian eyes.

But the RAF officer discovered that they formed a mammoth red arrow pointing toward the munitions plant.

For a short time, officials knew, the Germans were aware of the signals used by British planes to identify themselves as they passed over the home coast.

Signaled to German Planes.

Armed with them, enemy bombers might have been able to fly inland toward their targets without being molested by antiaircraft fire or fighters. Soon it was discovered that a small number of persons on the ground were signaling the British code to Nazi airmen with colored lights. The signalers now are in jail.

Among the elusive small fry are distributors of a letter which asks people to join a "peace chain."

"Revolt against Churchill and save Britain from destruction," these letters exhort.

NORSE TRAITORS ACTUALLY FEW, OFFICER ASSERTS

Contrary to previous reports received in America, no wholesale acts of treason occurred among Norwegians at the time of the German invasion. This statement was made yesterday by Capt. Hjalmar Riiser-Larsen of the Norwegian navy in a speech at the 45th annual picnic of the Norwegian Old People's home society in Norwood Park.

Maj. Vidkun Quisling, notorious as Norway's No. 1 fifth columnist, was virtually the only traitor, according to Capt. Riiser-Larsen. He said the others who caused Norway's downfall were Germans sent there ostensibly as salesmen. Many of them had been taken into Norwegian homes as children during the world war, and knew the language and terrain, he explained. Use of Norwegian uniforms by German troops also caused confusion, he said.

Capt. Riiser-Larsen saw active service during the invasion, escaped with his wife thru Sweden, and came to the United States as naval attaché to the Norwegian legation. He returned to Washington, D. C., last night, and next week will go to Toronto, Ont., to train Norwegian flyers who have joined the British cause.

Will Map Safeguards for North America.

when a Blue force, representing the United States, meets the attack of a coalition of an Eastern and European enemy.

As Stimson said good-by to the commander in chief, Mr. Roosevelt said jokingly: "Bring back your shield, Henry, or come home on it."

Ten thousand officers and men of the division joined in the services conducted by Lieut. Col. Frederick Houghton, chaplain of the unit and secretary of the Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania.

After a prayer Lieut. Gen. Hugh Drum, commander of the 1st army, was presented. He hailed the war record of the Iron division.

Fire 21 Gun Salute.

The chaplain pronounced benediction and taps were blown for the dead. A 21 gun salute was fired for the commander in chief. This was followed by the national anthem, played by the massed bands of the division.

On the way back to the services Mr. Roosevelt took his distinguished visitor to the Ogdensburg airport to inspect 131 pursuit and bombing planes operating with the Blue army in the maneuvers. The two said their good-bys aboard the private car.

During his 70 mile inspection tour Mr. Roosevelt asked each division commander if he were getting more modern weapons. All politely muttered that things were beginning to move, except one general, who frankly stated that all he was getting was "stovepipe."

Many of the artillery batteries in the maneuvers are simulated. Men are manning stovepipe to represent cannons. There also is a dearth of tanks—trucks being substituted—and other material.

TRIBUNE ADVANCED PLAN

The proposal for a defense agreement with Canada was brought to the fore by THE TRIBUNE in an editorial in this newspaper on April 3, 1938.

On Aug. 18, 1938—President Roosevelt, at the dedication of the International Thousand Isles bridge pledged the United States to defend Canada against foreign aggression.

In April, 1939, THE TRIBUNE, in a news story from Washington, pointed out that nothing had yet been done to promote joint defense by the two countries.

Since then, and particularly after Canada's entrance into the European war on England's side, THE TRIBUNE has commented editorially on the necessity for an immediate pact with our northern neighbor.

Urged to Prepare in Advance.

The editorial on April 3, 1938, was entitled "Continental Defense" and declared that it was generally accepted that the United States would come to Canada's assistance if the dominion were invaded. The editorial pointed out it was obviously advisable to prepare in advance for assistance and coöperation and the knowledge of such coöperative preparedness would go far to render aggression unlikely.

"Both nations rejoice in relations which are assurance of no attack from each other," the editorial continued. "They are proud of their unfortified boundary. But to foreign attack on either country the unfortified boundary constitutes an open flank. The strength of our army and its equipment and of our navy and air forces is such that no enemy would venture landing on our shores.

"An enemy attacking the United States from the east would land in Canada and Canada would be the first battleground. If a formidable power or combination of powers should undertake operations on this side of the Atlantic, the Gulf of St. Lawrence is a wide open door.

"Canada has no navy. The door would have to be closed by the navy of the United States. But there are no bases in the St. Lawrence waters and a fleet cannot operate without bases. Bases for capital ships cannot be improvised and the American ships would have to operate at a distance from their bases that would seriously if not fatally reduce their efficiency. Against an enemy attacking Canada from the west, Alaska and the Aleutians form a natural barrier. In the face of a Canadian-American agreement, no enemy of Canada would dare pass them by."

The editorial said that events in Europe might deprive Canada of the assistance of the English fleet, that the United States could not afford to gamble on this fleet protecting Canada, and that "at her [England's] very door, military powers are growing apace and combinations are making which threaten the imperial system and even the safety of her own shores."

Reveal Lack of Action.

Concluding, the editorial said: "The American and Canadian governments should not procrastinate on this important duty. They ought to confer without delay and work out a system of coöperative defenses. A treaty should be entered into providing the necessary legal basis for operations on their respective territories in specified circumstances, and proper provision should be made for bases and fortified points. If this is achieved, the protection of the continent from invasion or formidable attack would be virtually impregnable."

On April 18, 1939, the Tribune news bureau at Washington reported that altho eight months had passed since the President's speech at Kingston, nothing had been accomplished for joint defense of the two nations.

"No plans for assistance or coöperation have been prepared or even advanced," this story read, "and no military information has been exchanged by American and Canadian general staffs, according to authoritative sources.

"Military experts declare that the United States must defend Canada because any attack on this country would most likely come thru the territory of our northern neighbor. Canada would also come to the aid of this country should America be attacked because if an enemy could take the United States she would certainly go on to Canada, these experts say."

Last June 19, another editorial, entitled "A Defensive Alliance with Canada," said a formal military alliance with Canada for common defense of our countries should be made at once.

Demands "Common Defense."

"Our maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine," this editorial said, "demands that we make common defense arrangements with all the nations of the western hemisphere, but Canada stands as a special case. Among other reasons, there is the fact that it is the only American nation besides our own with a demonstrated capacity for waging modern warfare. Ypres, Vimy Ridge, and a score of other battles testified to the quality of the Canadian soldier. Canadian industry is further advanced than our own in the change-over from peacetime to wartime production."

After listing other commitments which the two powers have—such as Canada's duty as a member of the British commonwealth in the European war and our responsibilities in South America and the Caribbean—the editorial went on: "Important as these independent interests are to our two nations, they are not conflicting and they are less important to either of us than the defense of our shores against invasion.

"That is our common problem and we should prepare for it together, thru a defensive alliance to be followed immediately by conferences between the Canadian general staff and our own on the joint operation of our armed forces.

"Face It Together."

"It would be presumptuous for the United States to offer to protect Canada. What we should do is say to our neighbors: 'Here, we have a common problem. Let us sit down and plan to face it together'."

Another editorial—on June 22—was entitled "The Monroe Doctrine and the Islands" and discussed the Caribbean islands as offering a potential threat to our military defense.

"That threat," the editorial read, "would be removed if Canada held the British islands, particularly if we were able to conclude a defensive military alliance with our neighbors on the north . . . So far as Canadian objections to Caribbean responsibilities were based on either military or fiscal reasons, the United States could well afford to meet them by proffering an alliance and by bearing the major cost of joint air bases and naval bases essential to the protection of the Caribbean and the enforcement of the Monroe Doctrine."

An editorial entitled "Guarding the Americas" was printed on Aug. 11. It pointed out that "the defense of our eastern coast would be greatly strengthened if we had a fleet and air base in Britain's Bermudas, 500 miles off the Virginia capes. The defense of eastern Canada and the northeastern states requires at the very least a defensive alliance with Canada which would permit our fleet to use Halifax."

KLAN AND BUND GET TOGETHER IN JERSEY CAMP

Andover, N. J., Aug. 18 [Special].—The New Jersey Ku Klux Klan and the German-American bund had a joint meeting today at Camp Nordland, a bund center here. There were between 800 and 1,000 persons present. Except for 24 robed and hooded klan members, 11 of them women, and a few dozen Storm Troopers in the new uniform of black trousers, white shirts, and black ties, it was impossible to tell how the forces were divided.

Speakers denounced both Democrats and Republicans as bent upon war, and there was a good deal of jeering and booing, but the only disorder was the result of a schism in the bund. Twenty-seven adherents of Fritz Kuhn, former bund leader who was convicted of theft, got into a dispute with the present leaders of the bund and six of the Kuhn followers were arrested.

1,500,000 HELP TO SERVE BRITONS DURING AIR RAIDS

Fire and Rescue Units Long Trained.

BY GUY MURCHIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—While Britain's fighting gunners and air men battle Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's air armadas in the sky, extensive services meet a vital need by taking care of the civilian populations below.

Altho there have been few casualties, the safeguarding and rescuing services may become almost as important as the fighting arm by maintaining both civilian and military morale.

Britain has more than 1,500,000 persons in these services. They are divided into air raid wardens, auxiliary firemen, decontamination squads, rescue parties, and ambulance parties. They have been continuously trained since the war began and in the recent attacks on Britain are said to have proved their efficiency and courage.

Signals Warn of Raids.

When German bombers are reported over the English coast by detector posts of the antiaircraft defenses, the areas toward which the Germans appear to be heading get a signal. This warning is flashed to police and air raid posts, where a signal to stand by, which is known as "a yellow," goes up. Each of the various corps prepares for duty and remains ready until an all clear signal or an alarm, known as "a red," is sounded.

Sounding of an alarm means "you" to all within hearing. It is the signal for the auxiliary fire service engines to begin to patrol the streets in their assigned areas. Air Raid Precautions men urge civilians to take cover, advising them where they can go.

Wardens at All Big Buildings.

Besides the A. F. S., there is the regular fire service, and every large building has house wardens who man hoses. All householders are supposed to have sand and small spray pumps ready for fires.

The expectation of fire comes from two sources: 1. From exploding bombs shattering gas mains and shorting electric mains, and combustion from the flame of the explosion; and 2, from incendiary bombs. The latter have enormous fire potentialities; one bomber can carry more than 1,000 two pound incendiary bombs, and a squadron might drop 10,000. To meet this the A. F. S. squads have been assigned to comparatively small areas, thus permitting them to reach any spot within a minute. They are supposed to reach the scene before the incendiary bombs, with their terrific heat, have time to ignite buildings.

Rescuers Search Wreckage.

When a report comes that a bomb has been dropped within their control area, fire parties are dispatched, followed by repair parties of engineers and workmen, rescue squads, and ambulances. While the fire squads concentrate on the fires, the rescue squads search the demolished buildings for trapped victims.

Backing up the Air Raid Precautions personnel are the medical services. Besides the first aid parties always on duty with the A. R. P., medical services send auxiliary parties to man additional first aid posts as soon as a yellow warning is given. Working with this section are mobile hospital vans, each carrying a doctor, sister [head nurse], other nurses, and fairly complete emergency equipment.

The Spanish war having demonstrated that the lives of a high percentage of patients suffering from shock can be saved by blood transfusions, the fullest arrangements are provided for this service. Blood banks have been set up over all Britain and a blood transfusion service is ready to rush help to wounded or shock victims anywhere.

It has been shown that air bombings cause numerous mental cases thru shock or nerve strain. To meet this, Britain has a psychiatry service ready.

Some 700,000 women belong to the women's voluntary services. Of these women, 120,000 help the A. R. P. services, 36,000 drive ambulances or cars for local authorities, and 66,000 are in nursing auxiliaries.

Model Leaves U. S.

PUK PAARIS.

New York, Aug. 18 [Special].—The whereabouts of Puk Paaris, beauteous Danish model ordered out of the country by United States immigration authorities, became known today. She is in Havana, altho immigration officials have not been notified of her departure. She left New York last week—by request. Miss Paaris, whose name has been romantically linked with those of actors, entered the United States on a six month visitor's permit last September and received an extension good until Sept. 5. By posing professionally, the model violated visiting permit regulations. Three weeks ago immigration authorities canceled her permit.

SYMPHONIC HOUR LISTENERS GET IN ON A SURPRISE

Party Given for Weber and Miss Claire.

W-G-N-Mutual listeners and those of the Canadian Broadcasting corporation got in on a surprise farewell party last night in the closing five minutes of the Chicago Tribune Symphonic hour. The guests, whose looks of bewilderment soon changed to smiles, were Marion Claire, soprano star of the hour, and her husband, Henry Weber, conductor of the W-G-N Symphony orchestra.

They are beginning their vacation today. William A. Bacher, producer and W-G-N program chief, arranged the surprise. As the orchestra concluded a medley from "The Chocolate Soldier" Weber's assistant, Joseph Johnson, abandoned his violin and took the baton from Weber's startled fingers.

Musical Well Wishes.

Guest stars will appear on the Symphonic hour while they are away.

The orchestra during the whole hour seemed bent on sending Mr. Weber away with pleasant thoughts of its playing. Two of the most enjoyable selections were the Andante Cantabile from Tschaikowsky's Fifth Symphony and Johann Straus' "Tales from the Vienna Woods."

Number Loudly Applauded.

The latter was loudly applauded by the many listeners who have heard this waltz tortured in juke boxes.

Miss Claire's soprano was heard in two solos, "I Wept While Dreaming," and "When Love Is Kind." She and the W-G-N chorus collaborated in "The Chocolate Soldier" medley and Miss Claire brought it to an end with the always popular "My Hero." The chorus claimed the spotlight for itself earlier with the carnival scene from "Pagliacci."

CHIEF JUSTICE OF AUSTRALIA MADE ENVOY TO JAPAN

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 18.—Premier Robert G. Menzies today announced the appointment as Australia's first minister to Japan, of Sir John Greig Latham, chief justice of the commonwealth high court, and expressed hope a Japanese minister to Australia would arrive shortly.

It was said that the exchange of ministers would enable Australia to play her full part in working out the destinies of the people of the Pacific regions.

John McEwen, minister of external affairs, said the appointment was the culmination of a desire by Australia and Japan for more direct and more intimate relationship.

BULLITT VISIONS NAZIS PLANNING INVASION OF U. S.

Raid to Follow England's Fall, Envoy Declares.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 18.—In the most inflammatory speech yet delivered by an official of the Roosevelt administration, William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France, declared tonight that Nazi Germany is planning an immediate invasion of the United States if Great Britain is defeated.

Ambassador Bullitt.

"Agents of the dictators already are here preparing the way for their armies," Bullitt said. He expressed his "conviction that the United States is in as great a peril today as was France a year ago."

Bullitt's speech was delivered before the American Philosophical society in Independence square and had the official approval of the state department and the Roosevelt administration.

Known as War Monger.

Bullitt has been denounced by senate noninterventionists as the foremost alarmist and war monger of the Roosevelt administration. Early in 1939 he and Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain, were called home to testify before a joint meeting of the senate and house military affairs committees to set the stage for the administration's project to help Great Britain and France by repealing the arms embargo.

The purpose of Bullitt's speech tonight was stated frankly. He sought to arouse the whole country to a state of alarm and preparation for war. Altho he did not advocate a declaration of war against Germany, he did appeal for immediate adoption of the administration's conscription program, for universal compulsory military service of some unspecified nature, for mobilization of the nation's material resources, and for public support of the administration's program to release 50 or more of the navy's destroyers to Great Britain.

Appeals for Public Aid.

Bullitt's appeal for immediate action to help stop Hitler came in the midst of increasing indications that the administration is getting ready to release destroyers to the British. There are reliable reports that Attorney General Robert H. Jackson is preparing an opinion holding that the sale or exchange of such warships would be legal, notwithstanding his opinion last June that the sale of the navy's "mosquito" fleet to Great Britain would be unlawful.

Bullitt appealed to the people to put pressure upon congress in support of his proposals.

"Write and telegraph to your senators and representatives," he said. "Write to your newspapers. Demand the privilege of being called into the service of the nation. Tell them that we are back of Gen. Pershing."

[Gen. John J. Pershing, retired, commander in chief of the world war expeditionary force, appealed for the release of destroyers to Great Britain in a radio address two weeks ago.]

Urges Nation Awake.

Bullitt inquired why Americans are sleeping and asked when they intend to wake up.

"When are we going to tell our government that we want to defend our homes and our children and our liberties, whatever the cost, in money or blood?" he asked.

"When are we going to let legislators in Washington know that we don't want politicians who are afraid of the next election and scared to ask us to make the sacrifices that we know are necessary to preserve our liberties and our declaration of independence and our constitution? When are we going to tell them that we want to know what are our duties, not what are our privileges?

"Do we want to see Hitler in Independence Hall, making fun of the Liberty Bell? No!"

Bullitt said he could not tell when and where the attack upon the United States would come "any more than the French general staff could have told you that the German attack would be made at Sedan on the 13th of May."

Declares Full Power Needed.

"But I am certain that if Great Britain is defeated, the attack will come, and that all the strength of this nation will be needed—mobilized, organized, equipped, and ready—if we are to parry it and save the independence of our country," he said.

"What stands today between the Americas and the unleashed dictatorships?" Bullitt asked. "The British fleet and the courage of the British people. How long will the British fleet be able to hold the exits from Europe to the Atlantic? I cannot answer that question, nor can any man.

"You have heard the appeal of Gen. Pershing for aid to the British fleet. You have heard the appeal of Admiral Standley. You have heard the appeal of William Allen White and his associates. If you let those appeals go unanswered, and the British fleet goes under, do you realize what that would mean to you, to all of the people of this country?

Foresees Wider Control.

"Great Britain and Ireland, along with the whole continent of Europe, would be organized into one economic unit directed from Berlin; a unit which would be far stronger in productive capacity than the United States, which would have five times our capacity to produce warships; a unit whose trade would be controled by one trading trust directed from Berlin.

"No country of North or South America would be able to trade with Europe except on such terms as might be pleasing to the dictators. Those conditions for many of the countries of South America would be the acceptance of a measure of Nazi control."

Under such circumstances, Bullitt said, powerful Nazi and communist movements already in existence in South America would be able to seize power and invite the dictators to organize air forces on their territories.

Believes Canal Objective.

Those air forces, he suggested, would move northward with dive bombers to the Panama canal and then on northward against this country. He asked whether we could be sure that our existing fleet and air force could defend even the northern route to the United States by way of Greenland, Newfoundland, and Canada.

"It is clear as anything on this earth that the United States will not go to war," he said, "but it is equally clear that war is coming toward the Americas.

"The truth is that the destruction of the British navy would be the turning of our Atlantic Maginot line. Without the British navy the Atlantic would give us no more protection than the Maginot line gave France after the German troops marched thru Belgium."

FRANK ESPOSITO GETS CARROZZO'S UNION RULERSHIP

Street Workers Elect Him President.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Frank Esposito, who preferred that his home address not be made public, was elected president of four street workers' unions yesterday. He thereupon became the leader of 2,800 city employés whose labor organizations formerly were the personal property of Mike Carrozzo, labor boss who died Aug. 4.

Frank Esposito.

Esposito's acquisition of authority over the unions was accomplished without noticeable opposition or dissention from any of the 1,000 men present in the Ashland Boulevard auditorium, where a joint meeting of the unions was held. There was no mention at the meeting of Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti, whose shadow had been seen reaching greedily for the seizure of Carrozzo's labor sceptre.

The 1,000 unionists stood in silence for one minute as a tribute or otherwise to the memory of Carrozzo. An immigrant, Carrozzo rose to wealth and power from a humble start as aid to a vice lord and later as a "torpedo" for a budding labor dictator named Tim Murphy.

Meet to Hail New Ruler.

Mike had become a labor dictator, too, of paving contracts and contractors, and with a work or starve authority over 15,000 workers. And now King Mike was dead and the assembly was to declare fealty to another ruler.

A move toward autonomy had been reported Saturday when Victor Olander, secretary of the Illinois Federation of Labor, had been consulted by representatives of another portion of the Carrozzo domain—the construction laborers' group. It was decided then to ask Harry A. Millis, professor emeritus of economics at the University of Chicago, who is a former member of the United States labor board and is a recognized authority on social science, to become associated with the Carrozzo unions in a supervisory capacity.

The construction laborers' group was represented at the meeting by A. C. D'Andrea, next to Carrozzo in command of the Hod Carriers, Building, and Common Laborers' district council. Esposito was Carrozzo's vice president in the four unions known as street workers, but including street sweepers and paving workers of all kinds. They are locals No. 1001, No. 1002, No. 1003, and No. 1004.

Dues Payers Invited.

Tony Augustino of Joliet, an old lieutenant of Carrozzo, presided at yesterday's meeting to which, as far as was known, all dues paying members were invited.

The election of a president for the four unions was accomplished with little difficulty, Augustino announced it as the next order of business at the meeting.

Esposito was nominated by Nick Cantone, a city employé. Mike Maglardi, also a civil service worker in the city, seconded the nomination.

A colored man arose and asked whether the officers were to come from the rank and file of the unions.

Vote Is Unanimous.

"Esposito has carried a card for 20 years," said Augustino. "He was an asphalt worker, then a business agent, and now is vice president."

"I move that the nominations be closed," said some one, and this was ordered by unanimous vote.

By the same process Tony Francisco, 1643 Marquette road, a foreman of city paving gangs, was elected secretary-treasurer.

"Now you ought to decide for how long these men are elected—three or five years," Augustino told the rank and file. At first about 15 stood up to vote for three year terms for the new officers and then all stood up to vote Esposito and Francisco five year terms.

RESCUE 5 AFLOAT IN LAKE 3 HOURS AS CRUISER SINKS

Guards Battle Waves to Reach Party.

Five Chicagoans, three of them women, were rescued from the stormy waters of Lake Michigan late yesterday, more than three hours after their power cruiser sank about seven miles off Michigan City, Ind. Near exhaustion from a buffeting by the waves, they were finally pulled ashore at the Indiana Dunes state park by lifeguards who swam to their aid.

As the boat was sinking all donned life preservers, and their survival was credited partly to their presence of mind in then tying themselves together in the manner of mountain climbers.

Bellhop Gives Alarm.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. O'Neill, 1369 Hudson avenue, owners of the boat, the Neptune, a 36 foot craft, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coari, 435 Oakdale avenue, and Miss Agnes Burke, 1100 North Dearborn street, a sister of Mrs. O'Neill.

The five were seen in the water about a half mile off the park by Arthur Gustavson, a bellhop at the Dunes Arcade hotel. He notified Leo Sanders, waterfront director. A rescue boat could not be launched because of high waves, so Sanders and his life saving crew of six began swimming toward the five.

After half an hour five of the life guards reached the party. They found Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill tied together, clinging to one preserver, while the other three, each wearing a life preserver, were also tied together.

Boat Owners Tell Story.

The rescuers each took a victim in tow, and, after another half hour, all reached shore. After hot coffee and first aid had been administered O'Neill told the following story to Kenneth R. Cougill, park superintendent:

"We left Michigan City about 11 a. m. When we were 10 or 12 miles out it got rough and the boat began to leak. We turned back, but realized soon that we couldn't reach port because water was coming in too fast. So we all put on life preservers and tied ourselves together.

"We also tied a life preserver to the collar of our dog Mike, an Irish setter, but he was driven away from us after the boat went down."

All Are Exhausted.

Members of the party were too exhausted to give a detailed account of their struggle for the next three hours. The boat went down about 3:30 p. m., O'Neill said, after the party had bailed water for two hours. All were lashed together until shortly before the rescue when Mrs. O'Neill became separated from the others and lost her life preserver. O'Neill went to her rescue and tied her to him.

Cougill said all five were suffering from exhaustion and the women from shock.

Wreckage of the boat washed ashore last night at the park. Michigan City coastguardsmen were searching for the lost dog.

Lifeguards who aided in the rescue were James Krieger, University of Michigan student; Newton Yost, student at a Chicago physical education college, and Wyatt Miers, Dan Bassett, Campbell Kane, and Paulus Strack, students or graduates of Indiana university. Kane is a track star and Strack is a champion swimmer.

The guards were assisted by Cougill's secretary, Tom Craven, also of Indiana university.

O'Neill is an executive of the Central Cold Storage Co., and Coari is an official of the D. Calamari company, nut meats concern.

Rescue One of Several.

Coastguardsmen from the Holland, Mich., station found a party of four in distress aboard the 50 foot cruiser, Nailind, after the vessel lost its rudder 10 miles south of Holland in a moderate gale. The Nailind is owned by Warren E. Lind, 1065 Spruce street, Winnetka, of the Lind Hardware and Supply company, 5211 North Clark street, Chicago. Lind, accompanied by his wife and two daughters, were en route from Muskegon to South Haven.

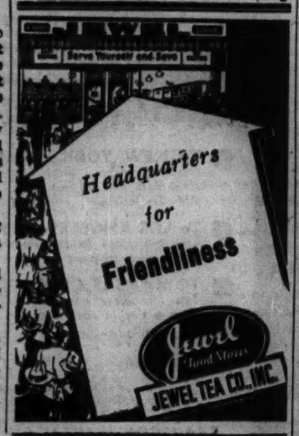
Three youths were brought ashore by a coastguard crew under Boatswain James Lesnick when their sailboat, Tod II. overturned a mile off Belmont harbor. Those saved are Myron Steinberg, 1257 Granville avenue; Jerry Chambers, 853 Carmen avenue, and Sam Miska, 3753 Wilson avenue.

The high winds and waves delayed the excursion steamship Theodore Roosevelt for three and one-half hours on its return trip from Benton Harbor, Mich., last evening. Scheduled to dock at Navy pier at 9 o'clock, it arrived at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

Prom Queen to Wed

EMILY RUTH CROXTON.

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 18 [Special].—Miss Emily Ruth Croxton of Angola, queen of the 1937 Junior prom at Indiana university, is to be married next Saturday at Angola to Dr. Herbert Lee Nigg, who is associated with the Grace hospital in Detroit, Mich., where they will live.



675 SPIES LURK ON WEST COAST, DIES DECLARES

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 18 (AP).—Congressman Martin Dies told interviewers today there were 675 German and other foreign spies in and around San Francisco and that some of them were in key positions and industries. He did not mention names.

Dies arrived from Los Angeles to continue the hearings of his committee on un-American activities. In Los Angeles the committee heard allegations that numerous screen personages were linked with communism.

Dies said James Cagney, one of those named in the Los Angeles testimony, would fly here from New York Tuesday to answer the Los Angeles accusations and that Franchot Tone also might come. After a look at the west coast situation, Dies said, he would return to Washington and tell congress that another 60 days and another $60,000 would be needed by his committee to go fully into matters in this area calling for the attention of his committee.

SIX LOSE LIVES, THREE HURT IN BLAZE ON FARM

Middle River, Minn., Aug. 18 (AP).—Six persons were killed and three others were injured today when fire destroyed the Alfred Knutson farm home, 13 miles east of here. The dead were Mrs. Knutson, 31; her three children, Beverly, 8; Donald, 6, and Lorna, 1; Mrs. Knutson's niece, Shirley Ann Knutson, 6, and Knutson's mother, Mrs. Anna Knutson, 60.

The injured are Knutson, 30; Miss Irene Erickson, 20, who worked on the farm, and Knut Bolle, 79, who lived with the Knutsons.

Dr. H. M. Biegen, Marshall county coroner, said the fire started from an undetermined source about 4 a. m. Knutson was aroused by screams and rushed downstairs. Dr. Biegen said the only entrance to the house was thru a kitchen door. This exit was blocked by the fire. Bolle, Miss Erickson and Knutson leaped from windows.

4 Killed and 3 Injured as Two Autos Collide

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 18 (AP).—Four persons were killed and three others injured early today in an automobile collision near suburban Robbinsdale. The dead, all of Minneapolis, were Frank Palaia, 17 years old, driver of one car; Peter John Diwi, 18; Carl E. Link, and Betty Hoffman, 14. The injured are Jack Leroy Brick and Lorraine Link, each 16, of Minneapolis, and Jack Selloff, 22, of Robbinsdale, driver of the other car. They will recover.

WILLKIE TO MAKE FIRST CAMPAIGN TALK IN KANSAS

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rushville, Ind., Aug. 18.—Wendell L. Willkie, after lunch and a long talk with Joseph W. Martin Jr., chairman of the Republican national committee today confirmed tentative plans to open his campaign for the Presidency with a speech at Coffeyville, Kas., about the middle of September. Friends whom he met when he taught school there in 1913 and 1914 urged him to make the engagement. The geographical location is suitable to draw an audience from three or four states.

The Republican nominee will begin his detailed discussion of major issues at Coffeyville, unless President Roosevelt accepts the challenge to debate which Willkie made yesterday in his acceptance speech at Elwood and wants to start the series sooner. Willkie has heard nothing from the White House and is "waiting patiently," he said today.

Bridges May Answer Ickes.

Willkie said that he and Congressman Martin had decided to ask Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire to "polish off" Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes in reply to Ickes' scheduled assault on the G. O. P. nominee tomorrow night.

"I hope Ickes doesn't make his usual attack, because Senator Bridges might get a little rough," Willkie said with a smile.

The response to his acceptance speech is "surprisingly great," the nominee said. "Telegrams, telephone calls and editorial comment are pouring in, and all of it is of a friendly nature, he added.

Beyond spending the next three or four days in Rushville—which is Mrs. Willkie's home, as well as the site of his farm land—Willkie's plans are indefinite. He may stay the remainder of the week and then leave for New York. He is thinking of going from ther to Maine, which on September 8 votes on state offices and indicates what it will do in November.

May Go to West Coast.

Under discussion is a swing thru the west from Coffeyville, which surely would include Los Angeles and Seattle. Willkie still is considering going to Texas. It is likely that he will campaign thru the middle west on his return from the coast.

A fine rain fell in Rushville today, which led a reporter to remark to Willkie that "you took care of the drouth today."

"Even a Presidential candidate must have some modesty," was the grinning response.

Willkie ate and talked with Martin in the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Cora Wilk, and received reporters in the small but pleasant living room there. He didn't look like the man who spoke under a blazing sun for almost an hour yesterday, drenched with perspiration.

On the front porch was a 98 pound watermelon, sent to him from Anderson by John Manghelli. John's brother, Joe, used to employ Willkie to sort vegetables in Elwood when he was a boy, but Joe is supporting Roosevelt, he has announced.

John Manghelli sent word that he and the rest of the family will support Willkie, and referred to Brother Joe as "the black sheep of the family."

Hear Sermon from Paul.

The Willkies attended church services in the gray stone, turreted United Presbyterian church, where a 30 year old minister in his first pastorate, the Rev. Frank E. Wiley, preached from Paul's epistle to the Romans—"For as many as are led by the spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

The church was so crowded that it was necessary to open the Sunday school room, altho there hadn't been much advance notice that the nominee and his family were to attend.

Mrs. Willkie wore pale blue with a white turban and white shoes, gloves, and handbag. Willkie wore a gray suit and was hatless.

The Rev. Wiley said he was happy to see so many visitors, but made no direct mention of the nominee. Most of the men in the congregation came in shirt sleeves and the pastor invited the others to do likewise. Willkie kept his coat on.

Schwaben-Verein's Picnic Draws Crowd of 10,000

About 10,000 German-Americans yesterday attended the 63d annual picnic of the Schwaben-Verein in Riverview park. They were entertained with sports events on the athletic field of Lane Technical High school, and with musical comedies, dramas, and dancing in the park's picnic grove. Proceeds of the picnic will be turned over to various charitable organizations.

Chaplin as Dictator

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 18.—Nearly 2½ million dollars' worth of film production that many Hollywood observers believed would languish forever in a studio vault will be released next month when Charlie Chaplin's much discussed "The Great Dictator" begins showing thruout the country.

Originally conceived by the famous comedian when dictators were considered more comic than threatening, the picture was finished last spring just as the German war machine began to roll across western Europe. Showgoers, sickened with newsreels of the Nazi conquests, were believed to be in no mood to laugh at the Chaplin satire and "The Great Dictator" was withheld from circulation.

DEMOCRATS FIND LEADERSHIP IN WILLKIE SPEECH

New York, Aug. 18 [Special].—The "Democrats for Willkie" group, headed by John W. Hanes, former undersecretary of the treasury, and Alan Valentine, president of Rochester university today hailed Wendell L. Willkie's acceptance speech as providing the true democratic leadership.

"The thousands of Democrats opposed to a third term found true democratic leadership yesterday in Wendell Willkie's speech of acceptance at Elwood," said Hanes and Valentine in a joint statement. "At the outset, he put himself on record as a liberal Democrat and served notice that party lines are down in the Presidential race.

"Mr. Willkie's speech was a brilliant restatement of sound democratic principles. We Democrats have found a leader we can follow and in that speech a liberal platform true to the best traditions of the Democratic party."

ELWOOD'S GLORY FOR DAY FADES WITH THE RAIN

Only Litter and Memory Left for Townsfolk.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Elwood, Ind., Aug. 18.—Today this is only another Hoosier town at the cross roads of two lightly traveled highways, Ind. 28 and 13. All that remains of yesterday's glory and glamor are refuse and litter. Wendell L. Willkie again has left Elwood behind him as he did in 1917.

The rains came in the late forenoon and were continuing in the late afternoon. They ended a drouth that had lasted since June. They broke a heat wave that continued thru yesterday when 125,000 visitors heard Elwood's distinguished native son accept the Republican nomination for President of the United States.

Crowds Are Gone.

The crowds were gone today. Willkie was in Rushville, 75 miles from here, visiting his wife's relatives.

The rains cooled this town of any lingering fever of yesterday's excitement. They washed sidewalks and street pavements of the dust of many feet. They faded those flags and banners remaining on some building and house fronts, assuring early removal.

The rains fell in 40 acre Callaway park, scene of the notification ceremony, bringing vital moisture to trampled grass. The water fell in the 160 acres of fields used for parking, settling the dust and bringing new life to tire torn meadows.

In some store windows, Willkie rally souvenirs were tagged at half price. There were no sales. Soft drinks which cost a dime yesterday could be bought for five cents today if any one wanted to buy one.

Taverns Are Closed.

The taverns that were publicized last week as jitterbug centers were closed today. The Willkie notification headquarters was closed. At the city hall, hectic headquarters for a one day police force of 750 visiting coppers, the desk sergeant was reading a newspaper telling about what happened yesterday. The hospital reported that all of yesterday's 45 heat prostration cases had been discharged.

Telephone and telegraph companies have removed their special wires. Elwood is no longer a national news center. Maybe this is the Elwood story to end all Elwood stories.

THRILLED AT SUCCESS, MUSIC FESTIVAL CAST MEMBERS START HOME

Bands and choruses that took part in the 11th Chicagoland Music Festival in Soldiers' field Saturday night were departing yesterday for their homes in many states, jubilant over the festival's tremendous success.

John Charles Thomas, the operatic baritone who thrilled the great crowd with his songs, went to New York by airplane.

Mrs. Edward MacDowell, widow of the composer of "To a Wild Rose," was the guest of honor at several gatherings. The Egyptian Choral club of West Frankfort, Ill., entertained her at a dinner in the Stevens hotel. She was the guest of J. Wesley Jones, who conducted the festival's Negro chorus, at the Metropolitan Community church in the afternoon.

The composer's widow will leave today for her home at Peterborough, N. H.

Wednesday's Fair Event Is at Top of Calendar.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Having attained notable distinction at the Willkie debut at Elwood, Illinois Republicans reached home yesterday and prepared to put in some real work for their party on their home grounds.

They found a long series of important events on their political calendars. First there is the state fair at Springfield. Republican day is Wednesday, and a state-wide turnout is predicted. Saturday night many of the leaders will attend a Peoria rally which will feature National Chairman Joseph W. Martin Jr. as a dinner speaker.

Bridge Celebration Aug. 28.

On Aug. 28 there is the big annual Trask bridge celebration in Winnebago county with a crowd of between 40,000 and 50,000 expected. On the following Saturday, Aug. 31, the Democrats will have their day at St. Charles' annual fall festival where the program will be turned over to the Republicans the next day, Sunday. Monday of that week is Labor day, bringing with it the big annual Cook county Republican picnic at Riverview park.

After two or three false starts by local managers, the program for Republican day at the Springfield fair has been built around the top men on the state ticket, Dwight H. Green and Wayland Brooks, nominees for governor and United States senator, respectively. It is felt that the team will be a better drawing card than would a national speaker not widely known in Illinois. Most of the crowd will be drawn from downstate as the Chicago organization has concentrated its efforts on the Elwood and Riverview celebrations.

Democrats to Celebrate.

For the second consecutive year, the Democrats on Thursday will observe Governor's day at the fair without the presence of Gov. Horner. Last year it was Harry B. Hershey, then chairman of the state central committee, who read the speech delivered in Horner's name. This year Hershey is the nominee for governor and will be given the spotlight on his own account. Probably a brief message in Gov. Horner's name will be read by some one else. Mayor Kelly is expected to talk, and some effort is being made to obtain a speaker from the national field.

Brooks will be the Republican speaker at the Trask bridge celebration. Hershey will speak for the Democrats, and Dr. Francis E. Townsend will speak for his own old age pension organization.

Both Brooks and Green will speak at the St. Charles festival. Republican organizations in 32 northern Illinois counties have arranged to participate and it is estimated that not less than 25,000 will be in the crowd on that day. The festival opens next Friday with a water pageant and carnival on the Fox river, which flows thru St. Charles.

Other Republican dates of interest to Illinoisans also are coming up. On Aug. 27, Senator Charles L. McNary, nominee for Vice President, will receive his formal notification at Salem, Ore. Col. Frank L. Smith of Dwight is the Illinois member of the notification committee named by the Philadelphia national convention.

The annual Duquoin state fair, a Perry county institution which attracts a large attendance of southern Illinoisans, will observe Republican day on Sept. 4.

Select the answer which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 25.

1. A young woman said her physician told her to take a drop of tincture of iodine in a glass of water twice a week. She probably has an Inflamed Appendix Enlarged Thyroid Peptic Ulcer Colitis.
2. The number of cylinders in the ordinary farm tractor is 2 4 6 8.
3. The name "Houdini" should remind one of a famous Violinist Portrait Painter Magician Scientist.
4. If a wealthy friend of yours said he had just bought an oyster plant, would it mean he had purchased a Garden Vegetable Pearl Factory Seafood Restaurant Speedboat?
5. The word "trap" should suggest which type of sport Fishing Skating Golf Tennis?
6. You have probably passed hundreds of barber poles. Some of them have a large, striped base, on top of which is a smaller revolving pole. Others omit the latter. The standard symbol of the barber trade is the striped pole forming the base of the combination pole just mentioned. How is it painted?

FARMING BOOMED IN NEW ZEALAND TO FEED BRITAIN

Government Helps with Cash, Machinery.

BY QUENTIN POPE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Aug. 18.—New Zealand's biggest farm production plan in history is under way. The government has agreed with representative members of the farming industry on methods to step up food supplies for Britain, now cut by the German armies from shippers in Europe.

The program aims at immediate results during the coming southern summer and fall, but also embraces measures to keep Britain supplied if the war runs into 1942.

The government plans to keep butter production at the peak figures of this season, to increase cheese production by 20,000 tons, so 110,000 tons will be available for British mouths; to produce 10,000 tons more of bacon, to maintain the mutton and lamb output at last season's level and to grow more beef.

Boost Egg Shipments.

Eggs and pasture and clover seeds are to be shipped in the greatest possible quantity.

First steps in the plan are to sow additional acreage to guarantee plenty of feed for stock in the event of bad summer and fall conditions. New lands, owned by the government, will be brought into production under this plan. Mechanized equipment owned by the public works department will be used for the preparation and cultivation of the land, and seeds, fertilizer, and working capital will be provided by the government.

Farmers are being told to restrict the culling of their herds, to breed from more cows and heifers and thus build up their total, and to milk cows even if they are inferior producers. Quality, always the aim of the dairy farmer here, has given place to quantity.

Plans for Beef and Sheep.

Beef raisers are being told how to develop heavier carcasses by better feeding, and sheep ranchers are being instructed to hold their lambs until they are older and thus gain greater quantities of meat without increasing the number of animals.

Great store is placed in pigs. This country never has exploited the hog market as much as its leaders would like. Now the government has instructed farmers to get two litters from every available sow, restrict killings and, where feed conditions on one farm point to a reduction of stock, transfer their animals to another farm.

Something that looks like communism will be seen on the grazing lands if the proposal for coöperative use of implements is adopted. Extra living accommodation will be provided for the farm hands. Public works employés' lists are being combed to see if they will help in the "dig to victory" plan, and 1,000 of the first 2,000 have offered to take jobs on the land.

Aid for Dairy Farmers.

In order to help the coöperative dairy plants reach maximum capacity and stay there, special facilities will be set up so suppliers who have not previously sent their milk to the factories can do so. They will be given milk cans and the government will provide extra equipment for the factories.

The government also is arranging for essential imports such as fertilizer, making finance available thru the regular channels, and supplying plant and labor. It also is insisting that dockers shall speed up the loading and unloading of the cargoes of ocean-going ships, that factories shall expedite all processing, and that adequate supplies of coal be made available by miners for factory use.

3 LATIN NATIONS PROFESS LITTLE FEAR OF ATTACK

War, However, Puts Big Crimp in Trade.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Aug. 18.—Despite considerable foreign penetration in agricultural and trade fields, Nicaragua, Honduras, and El Salvador, the three least progressive of the Central American nations, show little fear of attack from outside or inside.

President General Anastasio Somoza rules Nicaragua with a strong hand, tolerating no open organizations that oppose his régime. Somoza is in reality a dictator who for nine years has imposed his will upon the Nicaraguan people despite numerous enemies that he has exiled or pauperized thru seizures of their property.

The country is extremely poor and backward with more than 70 per cent of the total population of 800,000 persons illiterate. It was fought over so often in the years from 1910 thru 1931 that nine years of peace barely have been sufficient for the peons to begin cultivating enough corn, black beans, maize, and rice for their own food.

Rich Gold and Silver Mines.

Almost the only wealth in Nicaragua is mineral. Not far from Managua, the capital, are some of the world's richest gold and silver mines. These mines are still being developed—chiefly by American concerns—thru the assistance of Transportes Aereoeos Centro Americanos, better known down here as TACA.

TACA airplanes have flown in all the machinery, supplies, and personnel of these mines—landing on airports literally carved out of the jungle. Two or three of the mines have begun to produce between $100,000 and $125,000 worth of pure gold or silver each month. Ultimately this mineral wealth should raise the living standard of all Nicaraguans, but at the moment it is low.

Friendly with United States.

Gen. Somoza is extremely friendly with the United States, and is known thruout Central America for his poker playing with American friends.

Honduras is similar in many respects to Nicaragua. The president is Gen. Don Tiburcio Carias—definitely a dictator who has been in power since 1931. Carias rules thru his army of 2,000 troops and his air force of 27 planes. He dislikes the Germans and keeps them under a tight rein that they are plotting to cast off.

While Germany supplied nearly 50 per cent of all Honduras' imports in 1938, there are not many Germans living in the country today. Dr. Salvador Aguirre, the foreign minister, told me that not more than 750 Germans live in all Honduras.

Big Banana Exports.

Bananas are the source of 80 per cent of all exports, and almost the entire crop—running up to 20 million stems of the fruit—went to the United States in 1938 thru the United Fruit company. This fruit was valued at $9,000,000 when it left the country. The European war, closing much of the fruit company's European market, cut down banana exports in 1939 and will still further reduce those in 1940.

The population of Honduras, just under 1,000,000 in number, is chiefly Indian and fully 50 per cent illiterate.

The Indians bow only to force. Soldiers in their brown cotton uniforms are seen everywhere in Tegucigalpa with rifles and fixed bayonets. Gen. Carias admits that if the country had a little more wealth it would be more difficult to control, and therefore he is willing, he tells American visitors, to see Honduras remain poor.

Germans in San Salvador told me that they can cause an uprising in Honduras at any time merely by providing the funds for equipping a rebel army that would rise from the Indian villages in the mountains.

Anti-American Feeling.

Anti-American feeling appears to exist only in El Salvador, the smallest and most densely settled country in all the Central American group.

There President General Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez gives some unofficial sympathy to the Nazis, who own a large share of his country's coffee farms. The San Salvador newspapers—they are the only ones printed in the country—all give some prominence to Nazi news service dispatches.

In El Salvador, a country where 1,631,970 people live in a total area of 13,716 square miles, a German political syndicate has purchased a radio station thru which it hopes to broadcast German tinted news into Guatemala, Honduras, and Nicaragua. The station is in San Salvador, the capital, a clean, pretty little city of 100,000 persons, just high enough inland to be free from the coast's extreme heat.

The Germans are strong because they are the owners and operators of fine coffee farms. Their farms are found all over El Salvador and the coffee raised here—and coffee is 92 per cent of the country's total exports—virtually all went to Germany before the war. Naturally the closing of the seas to German ships has worked great hardships on El Salvador and most of last year's coffee still is in warehouses.

BOYS DOWN IMAGINARY BOMBERS WITH MODEL OF ANTIAIRCRAFT GUN

The influence of air battles in Europe became evident to northwest side residents yesterday when four boys set up a homemade model of an antiaircraft gun on the sidewalk at 5241 Strong street and began "shooting" at imaginary bombing planes.

The model, with a broom handle for a barrel, can be lowered or raised by means of a wheel, turns completely around and is equipped with sights. Some of its parts were taken from a cannon which the boys made previously.

The young "gunners" were Norman Hoeffleur, 14 years old, 5240 Strong street; John W. Nessler Jr., 11, of 5139 Winona street; George Heuvelman, 10, of 5241 Strong street, and George Hendricks, 12, of 5242 Strong street. Nessler's father is a captain in the 122d field artillery, Illinois National Guard, and is now at Camp McCoy, Wis., for the 2d army maneuvers.

FINDS BOWEN MAY KEEP JOB THRUOUT YEAR

A. L. Bowen, state director of public welfare who was removed from office after being found guilty of gross omission of duty, probably will be able to remain as head of the state department thruout 1940, according to an opinion yesterday by his counsel. Bowen was found guilty of malfeasance in office by Judge James V. Bartley of the Circuit court at Kankakee on June 27. On July 12 Judge Bartley imposed sentence—a fine of $1,000 and removal from office.

Bowen asked and obtained a stay of execution for 60 days pending an appeal. Meanwhile he remains in charge of all state and penal institutions, including the hospital for insane at Manteno where 60 persons died last year during an epidemic of typhoid fever. Judge Bartley ruled that Bowen had deliberately and willfully refused to furnish pure water to the hospital after being informed that the hospital's drinking supply was contaminated.

Bowen has until Sept. 10 to file the request for an appeal and several months more may elapse before the appeal is decided, his counsel said.

FRANCE PLACES INDUSTRY UNDER STATE CONTROL

Commissar to Rule Each Branch of Trade.

VICHY, France, Aug. 18 (AP).—All industrial and commercial activity in France virtually passed under a Fascist form of government control today. A new law published in the official journal permits appointment of commissars in each industry to regulate private initiative. "Industrial democracy" is ended, as least temporarily, in France, the journal asserted.

Committees of control acting under authority of the government will be empowered, in case it is deemed merited, to order such punishments as the ousting of directors of industry and the fining of any industry up to 10 per cent of its business turnover.

The journal stated that decrees soon would be forthcoming dissolving national workers' and employers' unions or confederations which have been the ruling powers in big industry. The largest of these are the powerful labor organization C. G. T. [Confederation Generale de Travail] and the C. G. P. [Confederation Generale de Patronale], the nation's foremost employers' union.

The law declares that the government, if it wishes, may issue decrees dissolving big combines considered "incompatible" with the functioning of the new system. The largest combine in France is the Comite des Forges [steel combine] but neither this nor any other was named.

System Is Explained.

Here is how the new system will operate:

The ministry of labor and industrial production will name a special high commissar in each industry. These commissars will be the key control men of the nation's entire planned industrial and commercial life.

Control committees, or committees of organization, made up of workers and employers, will be appointed for each branch of industry and commerce as a national body under close supervision of the commissars. Vital matters in a particular branch of industry or commerce will be subjected to authority of this committee. Its power will extend even to such matters as shifting stocks and raw materials from one industrial concern to another to establish a proper balance, and dividing up business orders.

Government's Word Final.

The committee can control prices, inflict punishments and handle any disputes arising between employers and workers. In all such matters, however, it must submit its decisions to the commissar, which means the government will maintain control. Workers and employers will be permitted to propose names of committee members, but their appointment will be by the government.

A printed prelude to the law indicates it is effective only in unoccupiel territory.

The prelude said state control was necessary to prevent throwing hundreds of thousands of men out of work and to get industry and commerce into working order.

Stoppage of war industries, difficulties created thru separation of the country into free and occupied zones, and the halting of foreign commerce were given as compelling reasons.

A complete, permanent system for a coöperative order, functioning on the basis of coöperation among employers, workers, and the government, is under study.

"IT'S THOSE EXTRA MILES PER HOUR THAT COUNT WITH ME"

"AND IT'S THOSE EXTRAS OF SLOWER BURNING I LIKE ABOUT CAMEL CIGARETTES"

SLIPPERY TURNS at 120 miles per hour! Hub to hub duels at 150! For 500 blistering, nerve-wracking miles—laboratory equivalent of 50,000 normal highway driving miles. Yes, it's America's most thrilling classic of auto speed. It's also a proving ground of your safer and more efficient car of tomorrow. For the aerodynamic design, high-compression motor, alloy pistons, the safety glass of your car today had their testing at the hands of these daring men. And, three times, Wilbur Shaw (above) has come through with the extra degree of mechanical perfection—the extra daring and extra skill—that wins. He has the "extras"... he appreciates the extras... in cigarettes, too. Camels give the extras. Wilbur Shaw smokes Camels.

WITH WILBUR SHAW—with millions of others—the "extras" in slower-burning Camels are the difference between just smoking and smoking pleasure at its best. Your own experience tells you that cigarettes that burn fast, burn hot. And that excess heat destroys flavor—makes your smoke flat, harsh. Light up a Camel... the slow-burning cigarette of costlier tobaccos ...and get the "extras"—including extra smoking (see right).

JOBLESS MIGRANT INQUIRY TO OPEN IN CHICAGO TODAY

House Committee to Hold Three Day Hearing.

Jobless and destitute workers who pull up stakes and seek a new start in another part of the country, migrants who follow the harvest across the nation looking for temporary work—these and the thousands of other Americans who constantly are on the move will be the subject of an investigation beginning today in the federal building.

Representative Tolan.

The inquiry will be conducted by Representative John H. Tolan [D., Cal.], chairman of the special house committee investigating the interstate migration of destitute citizens. Others on the committee are Claude V. Parsons [D., Ill.], John J. Sparkman [D., Ala.], Carl T. Curtis [R., Neb.], and Frank C. Osmers Jr. [R., N. J.].

The committee will conduct hearings in Chicago for three days. Previous hearings have been held in New York City and in Montgomery, Ala.

Congress to Get Study.

The committee will seek to determine methods to alleviate the conditions of migrants—both urban and rural—and will present its findings to congress. Several weeks or months may be required to complete the study.

Approximately 30 witnesses will be called during the Chicago sessions. Others who will testify include Mayor Kelly, Neil H. Jacoby, chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission; Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the IERC; Joel Hunter, general superintendent of the United Charities of Chicago; M. W. Torkelson, director of regional planning for the state of Wisconsin; Edith Abbott, dean of the school of social service administration at the University of Chicago, and sociologists, health officials, farmers, and statisticians.

Broad Problems Cited.

Dr. Robert K. Lamb, chief investigator for the committee, said the investigation will be concerned with health, sanitary, residence, and educational aspects of the problem presented by destitute migrants.

"The testimony heard thus far indicates that migrants present many problems other than that of their own care and housing," Dr. Lamb said. "Often they carry diseases, create unsanitary conditions, and upset the economic balance of the communities they enter. And their children's schooling usually is neglected."

INQUIRY PUSHED INTO SLAYING OF BOOKIE MANAGER

Fillmore street police yesterday were investigating the slaying of Milton Astracham, who was shot down Saturday in a handbook he operated at 4006 Roosevelt road. Astracham, who was 36 years old and lived at 1240 Independence boulevard, was shot by one of two men who entered the gambling place and announced that it was a holdup. Police were told Astracham was shot when he did not obey the robbers' commands to raise their hands. Most of the 40 patrons fled after the shooting. The handbook is said to be owned by Ben Zuckerman, a west side gambling czar. One of the holdup men was said to be colored.

Federation of Labor Picks 3 Convention Delegates

Three representatives to the convention of the Illinois Federation of Labor opening in Rockford Sept. 23 were elected by delegates to the Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday. The three are Tom Curry of the Printing Pressmen's union, John L. Harrison of the Postoffice Clerks' union, and Agnes Johnson O'Connor of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union.

ROOSEVELT GREETINGS ARE SENT TO LASSER ON SECURITY PARLEY

David Lasser, resigned president of the Workers' Alliance and chairman of the American Security conference which opens today in the Skyline club, 188 West Randolph street, announced yesterday the receipt of a letter from President Roosevelt stating that "a 100 per cent American movement of unemployed, WPA workers, and other underprivileged is legitimate and laudable."

The President, Lasser said, expressed hope the meeting will prove beneficial to those represented and to the nation. The conference, to be attended by more than 200 delegates from 30 states, is to form a "pro-American" organization of reliefers, WPA workers, and unemployed, Lasser said.

Among those scheduled to speak at the three day meeting are Mayor Kelly, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John O'Grady, secretary of the National Conference of Catholic Charities; Ernest Pugh, regional director of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, and Senator James E. Murray [D., Mont.].

3,274 New Students Get Permits to Enter U. of Ill.

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 18 [Special].—A total of 3,274 permits have been issued to new students to enroll in the University of Illinois next month, it was announced today by registration officials. This is an increase of two over the number granted at this time one year ago. Of the number 2,245 permits have been issued to freshmen students.

FEW PAY ROLLERS EXPECTED TO BE TAKEN BY DRAFT

Most Are Considered Too 'Valuable' to Go.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—Few if any of the 1,011,066 federal employés need to worry about being drafted for compulsory military service under the New Deal's conscription program, well informed sources in the capital said today.

Pay rollers who will be eligible under the terms of the legislation, it was said, expect political influence and the fact they are connected with the government to save them from the travail of soldiering and military camp life.

This became increasingly apparent in the last few days as the administration bill, providing for the creation of a mass conscript army, neared passage in the senate. The measure is expected to receive senate approval and be on its way to the house before the end of the week.

Influence for Others.

And, according to information in congressional circles, it is more than likely that the same influences which are expected to save the bulk of eligible federal pay rollers from being drafted will be brought to bear for the same cause in behalf of the millions of state and municipal employés.

The excuse probably will be that these employés are doing "important" governmental work and cannot be replaced. The result, it was said, will be that the army and navy will secure from this group of citizens only a comparatively few unimportant clerks and office employés whose jobs the patronage bosses want anyway.

The very nature of the draft machinery, observers said, will lay the conscription program open to all sorts of political interpositions. Wide discretion will be given the local drafting boards in the selection of those who must serve.

Jobs for Politicians.

The drafting boards, the bill provides, are to be appointed by the President upon recommendations of the governors of the states in which they serve. It is expected that the posts on the boards will fall in with other state jobs to be distributed to local political figures or close friends of the politicians.

In the federal government, according to the civil service commission, nearly 20 per cent of the 1,011,066 pay rollers are women. The overwhelming majority of the 808,000 men, approximately, are ineligible, it is believed, being married or outside the 21 to 30 age limits set in the pending bill.

Of those who remain, the largest portion have jobs as special police, are employed in arsenals or working in the navy yards, which automatically places them on the deferred list, which is tantamount to exemption. Thus out of the original list of pay rollers—more than ever before in the history of the nation—only a handful could be drafted.

The Present Exemptions.

As the act stands as it nears passage, the only men who have outright exemptions are members of the army, navy, marine corps, coast guard, National Guard, and all reserve units as well as foreign diplomatic or consular representatives.

The measure places on the deferred list all those with dependents and those employed in industry, agriculture, and other occupations deemed necessary for the public health, safety, and interest. This, it has been explained, includes policemen, firemen, duly constituted health officers, utility employés and, in industry, particularly those holding essential jobs in munitions and armament factories.

Also on the deferred list are the Vice President of the United States and all executive, legislative, and judicial officials of federal, state, and local governments. As interpreted by the army, this is taken to mean the policy making officers, and it is expected that most of these will be beyond the maximum age limit for conscription anyway. The administrative officers working under the policy makers are not deferred, according to the army high command. But the final determination of who makes the policy of the various governing units and who administers it rests with the drafting boards.

Force of Public Opinion.

Asked how the government can prevent the drafting boards from being subservient to political influence or open to a fix, one high army official replied:

"We expect public opinion to make the law work. The army is not going to police the draft. It has no power along that line. But when a citizen sees his son going off to military camp and a neighbor's son staying at home, he's going to ask questions. Then it will be a matter for the federal courts and the United States attorney to decide whether there is anything wrong and where the blame lies."

THE STANDARD RAISED AT ELWOOD.

Mr. Willkie's acceptance speech helped the American people to an understanding of the political change which is complete all except in party names. The Democratic party retains its name but nothing else recognizable except the elements represented by the metropolitan Democratic machines which now, as always, are interested principally in the control of jobs, vice, and contracts. Otherwise the Democratic party gets its ideas from persons who are not seeking action within the frame of the American political system but against it.

The New Deal theorists who give the party its working program believe in the doctrine of class warfare. As Mr. Willkie said, they have the idea of distributing scarcity. They are levelers and not producers. In working out their program they have achieved a stagnant society which they say represents the full maturity of American productive forces unsocialized. It is the assumption that private enterprise has failed, that the law of its own limitations has caught up with it, and that it is now necessary for the government to become the banker and producer.

The Democratic party never took such a position before. No great party in American politics ever held these doctrines. They have been found only in the small parties, such as the socialist and communist organizations. Because the Democratic party has fallen into the hands of men committed to the program of governmental control of finance and industry there has been a revolution in the American party system. Many changes in party affiliations are taking place.

Mr. Willkie described himself as having been a liberal Democrat whose party disappeared. He was a Democrat when there was no revolutionary distinction between the two major parties from which American government was derived. There then was no such doctrinal difference between them as there is now. It was not to be expected that if a Democrat was elected President the country would get a totally different economic, political, and social order than it would have if a Republican was elected. The system of government would be substantially unchanged, regardless of elections. Recent years have brought about a tremendous change. The two parties now are poles apart. They stand for totally different things.

The new political theories of the so-called Democratic party as it is now controled have already produced the conditions which Mr. Willkie described. The young person of today does not have the opportunities which Mr. Willkie said were his opportunities when he was a young man. The present day young person doesn't have them because the policies of the present government have frozen the processes by which Americans invested their money and produced their goods.

Big and little business have been prevented from doing business. Persons have been kept from employment because the government has taken the money which would have made the jobs. The federal government, which has been seizing power, has tried to instill a spirit of defeat in order that it might increase its authority and its control over people convinced by it that they had failed and therefore could find no alternative to the mastery of government over them.

So much already has been done to break down the nation's private enterprise that the people will be obliged, as Mr. Willkie said, to sweat over the problems of getting back on their course again. The destruction has been very great, both to morale and material. The road back will not be an easy journey, but it will be easier to begin now. It may be impossible to begin it later. Mr. Willkie asks the country to believe that eight years of stagnation, with wasted money and wasted men, with a palsied effort and stricken spirit, do not represent either the necessities or the prospects of America if it can get different political management.

It would be very strange if a majority of the American people were willing to admit defeat or concede that they had exhausted their talents, lost their hope, and had become tamely submissive to the dictates of a government in whose arms they must take refuge from ills they could not correct themselves. Mr. Willkie says this is a condition which is not to be accepted. It is one which cannot be accepted. That is the domestic side of the campaign. Mr. Willkie's speech indicates that he perceives all the characteristics of the revolution which has been promoted for the last eight years and that he can make its meaning plain to all the people.

The Republican candidate's criticism of Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy was severe, but it was called for. He said that Mr. Roosevelt has dabbled in inflammatory statements and manufactured panics, that his attacks on foreign powers have been useless and dangerous. "He has courted a war for which the country is totally unprepared—which it emphatically does not want." Mr. Willkie truthfully accuses Mr. Roosevelt of having secretly meddled in the affairs of Europe—that "he has even unscrupulously encouraged other countries to hope for more help than we are able to give."

As President, Mr. Willkie said, he planned to reverse these policies. "I should threaten foreign governments only when our government was threatened by them and when I was ready to act. I should consider our diplomacy as part of the people's business, concerning which they were entitled to prompt and frank reports to the limit of practicability."

Probably it was inevitable that when the third term was sought it would be by a man whose work and words would prove the value of the unwritten limitation of tenure. That limitation would never seem more important than when that man tried to break thru it. He would have revealed his ambitions before then. His attempt would be the conclusive proof. He would have met a test of character and have failed.

Two conflicting and irreconcilable systems of government are to be put up for the choice of the American people. Mr. Willkie will prove to be an able champion of the form of government the people have known and have defended and under which they have heretofore prospered beyond the expectations of other masses of the world's population.

67 CENT WHEAT.

September wheat in Chicago sold last week for 67 cents a bushel, 44 cents below the peak price for that delivery. The low price is not due to a bumper harvest. This year's crop of 760 million bushels compares with an average of 755 million for the 10 previous years, the average being held down by two serious drouths.

But besides what is raised this year, there is a carryover equal to half a crop from last year and the year before. And so we have about 1,050 million bushels, and can eat in a year only about 700 million bushels, in the form of bread, cake, breakfast food, and noodles.

The extra grain, representing the carryover from past years, would be no problem if the markets of the world were open. Many old customers for American bread grains are not now accessible. The world's leading importers of North American wheat used to be Great Britain, Belgium, Holland, Italy, and Germany. Of these the British market was by far the largest, and it is theoretically still open to us. However, Britain is in duty bound to buy Canadian wheat if it is available. And is it available! There is so much wheat in Canada that the storage space is inadequate. Considerable Canadian wheat is going to be held thru the winter in American elevators.

Our present wheat problem can be traced to the failure to clear the market of the two previous crops during the crop years. Loans were offered to induce the farmers to hold grain off the market in 1938 when all the world markets were open and in 1939 when most of them were open even in the last four months of the year. The loans kept the grain in this country instead of letting it pass into consumption channels.

The United States department of agriculture issued a bulletin last month showing the annual cash income from grains from 1910 to 1939. From a chart on the front page of the bulletin it appears that a billion dollar income from grains is necessary to make grain farmers just moderately prosperous. The chart shows that previous to 1930 in only one year did the farmers' grain income fail to come up to the minimum level for moderate prosperity. In eight of the 20 years before 1930 the one and a half billion dollar mark was reached; in four years the 2 billion dollar level and in 2 years the 2½ billion dollar mark was exceeded.

Contrast that with what has happened since 1930. In only one year in the 10 has the level of moderate well being, one billion dollars, been reached. This year the figure can hardly be greater than ¾ of a billion dollars.

After 10 years of agricultural control the cash income of farmers from grain has not been raised to the level of the worst year in a long preceding period. In the face of this record it can not be seriously maintained that the Roosevelt administration has solved the farm problem.

X MARKS THE SPOT.

There are more than 3,600 miles of streets in Chicago. According to a study made by the city's traffic engineer, Leslie Sorenson, a third of all the deaths in automobile accidents last year occurred on only 160 of these miles. Something like 33 per cent of the accidents took place on 4 or 5 per cent of the streets.

The city council's committee on traffic wisely decided that safety efforts be concentrated in these areas of proved danger, and Capt. David Flynn of the police traffic division agreed with this proposal. Most of the deadly thorofares have been widened and, in addition to automobile traffic, carry street cars. At all hours of the day and night persons are obliged to walk to the middle of the street and stand there, waiting for a car. For the most part they are protected by safety islands while waiting but they are targets for speeding automobiles until they get to the safety zones.

Abuses of the widened streets have been permitted. Parking near the corners, which cuts off the view of approaching automobiles, is frequently tolerated. Double parking, tho illegal, is not punished. Insufficient patroling has encouraged speeding. The result is that these streets are death traps. Now that the danger has been proved, every effort should be made to reduce the hazard by a rigorous enforcement of the motor code. Patrols should be concentrated in the area of danger and required to exercise the most careful surveillance of traffic at all hours.

Until Chicago has a system of elevated highways there will be hundreds of avoidable deaths from automobiles every year. Meanwhile the best way and probably the only way to limit the casualties is to concentrate police effort where it will do the most good.

FULFILLMENT.

Across the field where grains, abundant, stand
And wait the reaper's scythe, so soon to come,
I hear above the bees' low drowsy hum
The harvest ripening thruout the land.
And in the hollow, now the sun's warm hand
Transforms with magic touch each pumpkin from
A seed into a golden sphere. And plum
And peach are bursting forth with sweetness bland.
Is not this time the loveliest of all
Earth's varied phases, when from bounteous store
Unstintingly, in answer to the call
Of sun and rain, she gives enough and more
To feed and nourish all of those who crawl
Upon her surface, when the summer's o'er?

British Spirit.

A British visitor, recently arrived from London, tells of an incident at Dunkirk that further exemplifies the British spirit. The Grenadier guards, who were helping hold the Germans while their comrades were being evacuated and were convinced that death awaited them, doffed their battle dress—the overall like garment that came into use in this war, and put on their good uniforms—their service kits, in military parlance. Then they made a bonfire of their soiled and weatherbeaten battle dress. If they died they were going to die like gentlemen. They were safely evacuated, and when they landed their handsome appearance amazed the waiting populace.

Seamen's Service.

A second story the British visitor tells concerns the nurses who were evacuated from Dunkirk. One group, weary from miles of trekking up and down the beach trying to get passage home, as well as from their grueling hours of service, finally were taken aboard a destroyer. Exhausted, they sank down anywhere and went to sleep as soon as they were aboard. British seamen picked them up, carried them to cots, and when they were settled for comfortable sleep, carried off their clothes. These they laundered and pressed and returned to them. Thus they, too, stepped off the boat looking as spick and span as picture nurses.

Americana Notes.

A bit of Americana from the Elwood scene we have not seen reported elsewhere concerns the bit of routine practiced by Wendell Willkie when he reached the speakers' stand and faced his great audience. The Republican nominee for President of the United States carefully licked the fingers of one hand, then removed a piece of chewing gum from his mouth. This he disposed of in the manner he probably did when he went to school in Elwood; he stuck it on the underside of the nearest object of furniture, which happened to be the lectern on the platform. The chewing gum safely disposed of, Mr. Willkie began to speak.

Little Dipper.

It seems the name suggested by a scout for a cocktail lounge atop a loop skyscraper, "Tip Top Tap," already is in use. The Allerton club has a Tip Top Tap; so has the streamliner Hiawatha. A still nicer name is suggested by Leona W. Mead.

"I think of such a cocktail lounge as up among the stars. I'd christen it 'The Little Dipper'," said Miss Mead.

Alec Templeton.

A soul stood at the Gate of Birth and turned to look once more at Life Eternal. . . . "I shall not see such loveliness on earth; I must remember this and keep it in my heart." Then with a gesture of farewell he turned, and as he left the fields of heaven the Angel smiled and said, "You shall remember, and with beauty all your own shall share its joys with those whose ears can hear and hearts can understand.

"'And in your path the incense of their love shall rise as songs of praise where'er you go."

By Way of Report.

William Wyler, who has just finished directing The Letter, with Bette Davis in the rôle Katharine Cornell created on the stage, was in town over the week-end, visiting Rene Traveletti, with whom he went to school at Lausanne, Switzerland. Wyler, one of the most brilliant of the Hollywood directors, was on his way east to talk over The Little Foxes, the next picture he will direct, with the author, Lillian Hellman. Bette Davis will play the rôle Tallulah Bankhead played on the stage, if it can be arranged. The plot of The Letter, taken from a story of Somerset Maugham's, is based on a true incident, a murder in Singapore. According to Wyler, Maugham's story brought out facts that had not been revealed at the murder trial and the case was reopened. Thus do facts become fiction, and fiction, facts.

GUARD THE CIRCULATION IN THE FEET.

THE old saying that "A man is as old as his arteries" may be amended by adding the words "in his feet." Within recent years physicians have become acutely aware of the importance of the pedal structures and particularly their circulation.

There was a time when gangrene—the aftermath of narrowed or blocked blood channels—appeared without the slightest warning. But thinking persons realized that there must have been danger signals that should have foretold the approach of disaster. Furthermore, it was reasoned that could these be recognized soon enough, the victim might be saved a distressing experience.

We now know that there are two ways in which trouble may arise. One is because nerves can bring on a spasm of the smaller blood vessels. The resulting contraction is so complete that no blood can get thru for several seconds. If these episodes are repeated at all frequently some clotting is likely to occur, thus interfering with the flow of nutritive fluid. Second, we are all familiar with the "hardening" process, which means that the caliber of each affected conduit is reduced gradually until—if the disease is progressive—total plugging takes place.

This may happen to any one who has given little attention to health and who has punished the supply system of the tissues [the blood vessels] unduly. Whenever one suffers rather consistently with pains, cramps, unusual fatigue, or numbness of the legs, a physical inventory is in order. Some will complain of burning while others will assert that the parts are chilly altho every one else in the room is perfectly comfortable. Tingling sensations, unusual pallor, blueness, or redness may all point to the fact that the life fluid is reaching the area in inadequate amounts.

A simple test has to do with temperature. If one foot is warmer than the other, or if cold spots are detected here and there, the arteries should be examined carefully to determine whether they are doing their assigned jobs. Another check may be conducted as follows: With the individual lying down, elevate the legs about thirty degrees and have the patient move the feet up and down at the ankles. If marked pallor or marbling comes on quickly we may assume with reason that there is a circulatory deficit. These same extremities — when allowed to hang down [without touching the floor]—will become deeply congested or bluish and will feel cool to icy.

Fortunate is the one who catches indications of "squalls" in the beginning stages, for relief is possible if warmer covering can be provided and socks are worn at night. More rest must be insisted upon and the best remedial measures call for contrast baths. This plan consists in transferring the lower extremities from hot to cold water and back again for a total of twenty minutes. This maneuver may be utilized three or four times daily. The skin is then dried and massaged with cocoa butter, stroking toward the body.

The next step is exercise, at which as much as one-half hour may be spent with profit. The legs are raised above the level of the bed and then lowered. The movements are deliberate but regular. It will be of no value to do this quickly, as two or three minutes in each position are required. The procedure may be repeated over and over again and has the advantage of alternately filling and emptying the channels.

It may be stated that in the absence of diabetes we will encounter little difficulty in remedying the condition if it is discovered early. In advanced states, however, drugs or the glass suction boot may be employed.

Altho the excessive use of tobacco is a factor in many cases, the weed cannot be blamed for all—as nonusers may exhibit the disorder.

UNDEVELOPER.

REPLY.

With rest and a normal diet, fat is deposited while muscles will melt away. I would suggest a spare menu—a reducing program. Curtailing activity will bring some atrophy of the muscles. On the other hand, massage and exercise will develop them.

NASAL SYMPTOMS.

J. T. writes: Is there any difference between nasal allergy and rhinitis?

REPLY.

Rhinitis may be the result of bacterial infection and may have no relation to true allergy—sensitivity to some offending substance, such as a food.

TUBERCULAR KIDNEY.

D. R. writes: Is surgery the only cure for tuberculosis of a kidney?

REPLY.

Yes, if the remaining kidney is normal.

STIRS HONEST ENERGIES.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 16.—The Willkie movement has touched off all the latent veins of stanch character in Americans. The secret admiration for our pioneers has sprung to life. Men, women, and children are rubbing their eyes from slumber and with clear minds are tracing a finer tomorrow. The devil that whispers of an easy life is denounced and the beguiling fascinations of tricky living have proven northern lights of deceit.

The Willkie movement has lighted the match to the young energies still nestling in Americans' hearts. It looks to the dawn of stronger character for America.

PREFERS TIPPING SYSTEM.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—In reply to vacationists' complaints about the handling of baggage at depots, let me point out that the red cap is as much a victim of the new system as the passenger.

The United Transport Service Employés of America, the red cap union, in a poll of opinion among its members found 90 per cent of the red caps of the country are opposed to the 10 cent baggage charge placed upon the passenger.

Following a complaint filed before the Interstate Commerce commission, a hearing will be held on Sept. 9 at Cincinnati. The complaint, filed by a passenger, charges that the Cincinnati Union Terminal company violated various sections of the interstate commerce act. In this connection, the red caps' union has entered the proceedings supporting the contention of the complaining passenger.

FRIEND OF THE RED CAPS.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Why all this complaining about paying 10 cents a parcel at railroad stations for handling baggage? I have worked 28 years on passenger trains, and know a little about this question. Before this 10 cent rate went into effect many people gave the red cap five to six pieces of luggage; he would cart them two blocks to a taxi and receive 10 to 15 cents for his trouble.

V. C. SCHRAMM.

HOW TO LIVE ON $41.49?

Chicago, Aug. 15.—I am receiving the Social Security pension. The amount [for my wife and myself] is $41.49. We are paying the least possible, as follows:

Rent, $25; light, $2; gas, $1.25; car fare, while hunting for work, $6; newspapers, $1.50; total, $35.75.

We, two people, are expected to live on the balance of $6.08 per month, buy food, clothing, soap, and other necessary articles used by cultured people. I am just over 65, am well, and cannot get a job, tho I'm trying.

NAVAL SHIPS AND WARPLANES.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Your editorial states: "The sale of naval ships to a nation at war is an act of war and would be recognized as such by every government in the world."

For the benefit of a puzzled reader will you please assert the distinction between selling a warring nation a fighting ship and a fighting plane? We have sold Britain some 2,000 fighting planes, with more to come, and the dire results which you so unequivocally asserted have not come to pass. Fifty destroyers then should not add to your worries. Tribune Tower is still safe from the blitzkrieg.

HARRY HASTINGS.

APOSTLES OF AVIATION.

Oak Park, Ill., Aug. 15.—How can we condemn one of our great citizens by calling him a fifth columnist? Read "Northwest to the Orient" and "Listen, the Wind," by Anne Lindbergh, and see what she and her husband have done for aviation and for the good of mankind in general. Theirs were always visits of peace and good will. You can get these books at the library and they are very good reading. May Col. Lindbergh's love for his country be ours. E. R.

VALUATION IS PERTINENT.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—In your editorial on the traction muddle, you dismissed the question as to the valuation of the properties of the surface and elevated lines with the statement that the matter of rates and fares is not involved in the ordinance in question, since under the law the transit commission will exercise rate-making powers and that not until that time will the question of valuation "be a pertinent question."

I beg to differ with you and to point out that it is very pertinent at this time. The rate of fare will be determined by the valuation placed on the properties; altho the city has no power to fix a rate of fare, there is nothing in the law to prevent it from agreeing with the companies either as to a valuation or as to the methods by which such valuation shall be determined, and in the fixing of rates in the future the transit commission would act upon such an agreement.

The 1930 ordinance set out a valuation for rate-making purposes as well as for purchase purposes and an ordinance which does not do so is a departure from established practice in Chicago traction ordinances.

The people are entitled to have the question of a satisfactory valuation or the methods by which it is to be determined arrived at across the conference table and embodied in the terms of the ordinance before they grant a franchise. Otherwise they are giving a blank check to the transit commission, the personnel of which is not even known to them, to fix any amount of a valuation they want and, if a higher valuation is made, a higher fare will result.

DRAFT A GODSEND TO BOYS.

Harvey, Ill., Aug. 15.—Why all this hysteria over the draft bill? I think this would be one of the finest things that ever happened to the youth of America. I realize unless some amendments were made it would be a hardship on some, but a blessing to others. But I move the age should be 18-31. This would cover the unemployed lads just out of high school. They don't know what they want and can't get it if they do. They are two or three years getting adjusted. Thru idleness they get restless, indifferent, and irresponsible.

They are a worry to themselves as well as to their parents. Too many are pampered by the family car and large allowances. Parents of today allow children too much freedom. They rule the household. They do not know the meaning of self-respect or self-sacrifice to their elders.

If we have the draft the boys will be better prepared to meet war because of this training. I am for it 100 per cent, if they change the age to 18-31.

A VOICE FROM FLORIDA.

Miami Beach, Fla., Aug. 15.—Your paper is becoming nothing but a political pamphlet. Your articles are poignant and repulsive. You seem to publish only such articles that are derogatory to our present régime. Why don't you print both sides of the story? Or better still, remain impartial! EDW. G. WHITE.

HERE—OUT IN THE STICKS.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Recently in these columns there have appeared some mild boasts about truck gardens growing within sight and sound of Michigan avenue traffic. With no thought of belittling the efforts of these energetic citizens, I think they are completely eclipsed by the luxuriant hay field which flourishes in the railroad yards between 12th and 18th streets, immediately south of the 12th street station. Here is one of the finest stands of sweet clover ever grown in Illinois. Much of it is over four feet high.

Careless section men, in search of the hidden rails, have damaged a few plants, but as a whole the crop should go two tons to the acre. Within 50 feet of the proud New York-Chicago trains, this field of waving clover effectively conceals from the visitor the fact that he is within the gates of the great city. As the yawning eastern business man, who naturally has a low opinion of Chicago at all times, looks out of the car window on his arrival at the station, he can truthfully write a postcard to the folks back home and say "Here I am—out in the sticks."

STELLA M. WILLIAMS.

CYCLISTS' PET PEEVES.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—It's about time bicycles got some attention, and here are some of the cyclists' pet peeves:

The driver who pulls away from the curb in front of you without even so much as a toot of warning.

The double parker. You have to risk your neck by going out into a stream of traffic just to get around these boxes who are too lazy to park next the curb. [Look around the intersection of Clark and Division if you want proof.]

The drivers who get out of their cars on the street side. You never know when a door is going to come out and hit you in the face.

I'll wager I have the sympathies of every other bike rider.

MORTGAGE ON CROPS.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In March, 1940, A gave a mortgage on live stock and his interest in a crop to be grown this year—specifying the acreage of each crop—viz., corn, wheat, and clover. In June, 1940, I took a judgment on a judgment note against A. Kindly discuss the validity of such a mortgage on a crop not grown—corn not even planted, and if it is possible this way to evade payment of my judgment.

H. A.

Where a mortgage is given on crops, the seeds to produce which have not been sown, it is held in some jurisdictions, in the absence of statutory provisions to the contrary, that the mortgage is void at law as being a mortgage on future property [Roy v. Goings, 6 Ill. A. 162: affirmed 96 Ill. 361, 36 AmR 151]: Stowell v. Bair, 5 Ill. A. 104], altho it may confer a lien on the crop, on its coming into existence, which a court of equity will enforce against persons other than bona fide purchasers without notice [Roy v. Goings, 6 Ill. A. 162: aff. 96 Ill. 361, 36 AmR 151, 113 Ill. 656].

BUSY WITH HIS OWN CAMPAIGN.

[Tulsa Tribune.]

It now is an established fact, and the whole country knows it, that in the basement of the Chicago convention hall the Chicago superintendent of sewers manufactured the outcry of all states for a third term of Roosevelt for the nation to consume over the radio. Another exhibition of low political fraud.

It rises up now to further embarrass Mr. Roosevelt in his own manufactured draft for his indispensable services.

The searchlight play upon the secret, dark, hidden basement manipulations are revealing Mr. Roosevelt's too close tie-in with the notoriously corrupt political machines of the Kelly-Nash organization in Chicago, just as in the east he is tied to the Frank Hague machine of Jersey City and all the infamies of Tammany.

Mr. Pendergast of Kansas City was a piker compared to the political machines of Chicago, New York, and Jersey City. With a grand gesture of political righteousness the Roosevelt administration clamped Mr. Pendergast in the penitentiary, where he belonged.

The Roosevelt administration was heartily commended for this. It deserved to be. That would rest where it is and with all praise to Roosevelt for the performance were it not that he picked Kansas City alone for his righteous crusade. Kansas City is not a city of first magnitude or political importance. Why make the demonstration there and not do precisely the same thing in the nine times larger town of Chicago, where corruption and crime protection are at least nine times more violent and offensive?

This is a question the punished Pendergast and the prosecuted Huey Long followers in Louisiana are asking. They are saying, "You do to them what you did to us. If we were guilty, they are guilty. And if you do not do to them what you did to us, we have the inroad of crime channels that will make it easy for us to throw the searchlight on the New Deal in our national political life. Unless you repudiate the Kelly-Nash, the Frank Hague, and the Tammany machines, we will proceed with revelations that will repudiate you."

These are political pictures that have come to the front since Mr. Roosevelt heard the echo of his own insistent call that he set aside his personal plans and wishes and yield to his own appraisal of the one indispensable man.

In one of the most brilliant exploits of the revolutionary war, Maj. Henry [Light Horse Harry] Lee captured Paulus Hook, now part of Jersey City, in a surprise attack with a small, irregular corps. The settlement was fortified by the colonists early in the war, but it had been abandoned to the British after the battle of Long Island. For his feat Lee was promoted to lieutenant colonel.

1 DEAD, SCORE ARE HURT BY BLAST IN WINDSOR HOTEL

Midnight Dancers Among Explosion Victims.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 18 (AP).—A midnight explosion during a dance in the basement grillroom of the 12 story Norton-Palmer hotel killed one person and injured a score, two critically. Clarence J. Defields, fire chief, said today that the blast apparently was caused by gas generated by the hotel's transformers which had been undergoing repairs.

"There is no indication of sabotage," he declared. Provincial authorities are investigating, however.

Altho many high Canadian officials were in Windsor in connection with the public appearance here today of William Avery Bishop, the British empire's outstanding flyer in the world war and now an honorary air marshal, none was among those injured.

Hotel Employé Killed.

Kenneth Schrum, 25 years old, of Windsor, food checker at the hotel, was killed instantly. In a critical condition are Frank Brennan, 30, of Windsor, manager of the grillroom, and Mrs. Dorothy Croker, 20, of Detroit.

The less seriously injured are: Ralph Roland, 22, Philadelphia, a guest at the hotel; George Holland, 48, Windsor, a hotel employé; Mary Thompson, 22, Detroit; Edmund Brennan, 25, Windsor; Arnold Otto, 28, Windsor, and Mrs. Robert Knudsen, 35, Windsor. Roland, Holland, Brennan and Mrs. Croker are being X-rayed to determine the evact extent of their injuries.

Dancers Away from Blast.

All the injured were in the grillroom. The explosion demolished the wall at one end and blew out the doors in a nearby elevator shaft all the way to the hotel's roof.

Inquest Today Into Young Woman's Death Plunge

An inquest will be held today into the death of Miss Jean Angnos, 26 years old, who was killed early yesterday in a plunge from the roof of the five story Mark Twain hotel, 111 West Division street, where she lived. In her purse was a suicide note. Other cards indicated she was a restaurant cashier or hostess.

HANGS HIMSELF IN BASEMENT.

Stefan Boor, 71 years old, hanged himself yesterday in the basement of his home at 4211 Leland avenue. Boor, who had been ill, was a retired employé of the Crane company.

U. OF C. TO OFFER BALLISTICS CLASS AS A DEFENSE AID

Course Will Study Nature of Bullet's Flight.

The University of Chicago will offer a course in exterior ballistics this fall as part of the defense preparation program being formulated in coöperation with the government, Robert M. Hutchins, president, announced yesterday.

The course, dealing with the flight of projectiles—bullets, shells, and air bombs—after they leave the gun muzzle or bomb rack, will be directed by Dr. Gilbert A. Bliss, chairman of the department of mathematics.

Visits U. S. Proving Ground.

Dr. Bliss was a scientific expert at the Aberdeen, Md., proving ground during the world war. He recently revisited the proving ground to study new developments in ballistics and to plan the course in consultation with army experts. Dr. Bliss and Dr. William T. Reid, assistant professor of mathematics, who will collaborate in the course, are also in consultation with artillery experts in the Chicago area.

Explaining the complexity of exterior ballistics, Dr. Bliss said that the raising of gun muzzle elevations from 20 degrees to 40 or 45 degrees in the world war necessitated the development of complete new theories.

"Today the problem is still more complex," he said. "Antiaircraft guns not only have to be adjusted for hits at the end of a complete trajectory [path of the projectile], but also for possible hits at any intermediate point.

Bombing a Special Problem.

"Firing from an airplane is similar to firing from the ground with an unusually strong cross wind. Bombing, in which the projectile is dropped and not shot, presents the problem of a trajectory which starts at the top."

In the theory of ballistics, trajectories for normal conditions are first computed, Dr. Bliss said. Then corrections are made for variations which disturb the accuracy of fire. These include wind, air density, temperature, weight of the powder charge and projectile, and rotation of the earth. Failure to account for the latter would cause an error of 300 yards in a 20 mile trajectory, he said.

Also on the university's defense program is a comprehensive aviation program, including flight training for which the university has the exclusive use of the Ford airport at Lansing, Ill.

33D DIVISION CHAPLAIN LINKS RELIGION WITH DEMOCRATIC PROCESS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp McCoy, Wis., Aug. 18.—Faith in God is the very soul of our democracy, and faith in man is its very heart, said Lieut. Col. Arthur Frederick Ewert of Peoria, Ill., senior chaplain of the 33d division, in his sermon today before a group church formation of the entire 33d division, Illinois National Guard, which is here for 2d army maneuvers.

Chaplain Ewert.

While six regimental bands of the 33d division joined in playing "Onward Christian Soldiers," the 10,000 troops of the division assembled, one regiment after another. As each arrived it was directed into one of the lanes of the fanlike formation area, marked out by white ribbons of cloth on the ground.

"Democracy," said Chaplain Ewert, "is as much the expression of a religious faith as it is a political principle—a principle of government."

"Democracy stands for the sovereignty of truth—which is the sovereignty of God; it believes in the sovereignty of the individual as the child of God; and it emphasizes the equal rights of all, under law, to freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, freedom of the press, freedom of conscience, freedom of worship. As members of the National Guard, it is our privilege and our sacred duty to defend these God-given rights of the individual and of democracy against all enemies of freedom within or without our borders."

THE SERGEANT'S HONEY STIRS UP A HORNET'S NEST

Camp McCoy, Wis., Aug. 18 [Special.]—"Honey," who lives back in Cleveland Heights, O., probably will hear from her sergeant about this. For every one from the general to the K. P. seemed to have heard how "Honey" not only wrote a letter to her soldier, Sergt. Clayton Sprout of service company, 145th infantry, but also wrote a note to the postman on the outside of the envelope just to be sure the letter reached its destination.

Her note read:

"Dear Mr. Postman: I know a guy that considers himself a pretty tough soldier. Hes about six feet 2 inches blonde and 30 years old. This guy is a tech sergeant master clayton Louise sprout. Hes now at Camp in the services company of the 145th infantry which is in maneuvers at Sparta, Wis. Please see that he gets this letter as he would be lost without a note from his ever faithful.

"Honey."

PLANE LAB BOARD TO VIEW AIRPORT IN JOLIET TODAY

Federal inspectors who are studying possible sites in the Chicago area for an $8,400,000 airplane engine research laboratory will leave for Joliet today to inspect the airport there. Yesterday they rested in Chicago following an investigation Saturday of farmland sites near Aurora and St. Charles.

The committee, from the national advisory committee for aeronautics, consists of Lieut. Commander John Rutherford, U. S. N.; M. I. Keirn, J. F. Victory, and R. G. Robinson.

The site to be selected must be large enough for a 50 per cent expansion of the laboratory in the future, committee members said. It must be adjacent to a first class airport, have good transportation facilities, and adequate electric power connections.

HUNGRY AGED PAIR GET FIRST MEAL IN 2 DAYS

An aging couple, homeless and hungry, were found sitting in a waiting room at Washington park early yesterday by Lieut. James Flavin of the South Park police. The couple, Axel Olsson, 64 years old, an unemployed decorator, and his wife, Emma, 67, said they had run out of money two days before and been forced to leave their room. They had lived in the park, Olsson said, with almost nothing to eat. Lieut. Flavin bought them a meal and took them to Northwestern university settlement, 1400 Augusta boulevard. Olsson told officials there that he had never been on relief, but that his last part time job had ended two weeks ago.

GEN. FORD VIEWS 5TH DIVISION ON DRESS PARADE

Streamlined Unit Is U. S. Answer to 'Blitz.'

BY HAROLD HUTCHINGS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp McCoy, Wis., Aug. 18.—Lieut. Gen. Stanley P. Ford, 2d army commander, and Brig. Gen. Lloyd R. Fredendall, 5th division commander, today watched a full dress parade of the streamlined 5th division, one of the units which the United States army has been developing to meet the challenge of blitzkrieg warfare.

For an hour and a quarter the heavily armed troops of the division and their vehicles—all with four or six wheel drives—moved across the half mile width of a reviewing area at Sandy Plains school, east of Shamrock.

First came the division's three regiments of infantry. The doughboys, their bayonets fixed on the Garand rifles with which they are equipped, marched in today's review, but behind them came the array of vehicles in which they would ride to the combat zone at 45 miles an hour and in which they do ride when the division moves, for this unit is completely motorized.

Doughboys Lead the Way.

The division's band—including bandsmen of the 2d, 10th, and 11th infantry regiments—played regimental music as the regulars swung along. Each infantry battalion marched with a nine man front, and the mass of parallel bayonets moved rhythmically.

The order of march of the three infantry regiments was the same. First came the doughboys of each battalion and then their motor vehicles. Mounted on trucks of the heavy weapons companies of each battalion were .30 calibre machine guns [water cooled] which, Gen. Fredendall explained later, can be ready to fire from their mountings at any time to protect the column on the road.

New 37 mm. antitank guns, of which each regiment has six; new 81 mm. mortars, of which each regiment has six, and new .50 calibre machine guns, of which each regiment has six, were on display in the full strength called for by the army tables of organization.

It was noted that those doughboys who rode in trucks sat at attention, with arms crossed, in the manner which traditionally has been the review position for artillerymen.

Artillery Next in Line.

Immediately after the infantry came the two regiments of artillery. In the lead was the 19th field artillery regiment of 75 mm. guns—36 of them—all towed by trucks carrying the gun crews.

The 21st field artillery regiment of 155 mm. howitzers, drawn by trucks with six wheel drive, followed next in the column. The 16 high trajectory weapons of this unit rolled easily over the uneven ground despite their great weight.

Auxiliary troops brought up the rear. First came the 7th engineer battalion, in trucks. Next came the 5th signal company with message center trucks equipped with switchboards; the headquarters and military police company; the 5th medical battalion with streamlined ambulances; the 5th quartermaster battalion, which has heavy transportation responsibility.

The review was accomplished at five miles an hour, and only one truck balked. It started again after a boost from the truck behind.

The only weapons which the division is supposed to have and does not have are 81 of the 60 mm. mortars and 108 light machine guns.

Near Full Strength.

Participating in today's review were 129 regular officers, 412 reserve officers now on duty with the division, 3 warrant officers, and 4,833 enlisted men. This is only a portion of the division's personnel, the others being on special duty in various capacities thruout the 1,000 square mile maneuver area. The division is only a few men short of the total personnel called for in tables of organization—435 officers, 3 warrant officers and 8,519 enlisted men.

Gen. Ford congratulated Gen. Fredendall and praised the 5th division.

"It gives me great satisfaction," he said, "to see how this division has been equipped and trained during the last few months. Today's review should leave no doubt as to the excellence of its equipment and its training."

The equipment which this streamlined unit is supposed to have and actually does, except for light machine guns and the 60 mm. mortars, follows:

Gun, 75 mm.	36
Gun, 37 mm. antitank	18
Machine gun, caliber .50	18
Machine gun, caliber .30	150
Machine gun, light .30 [not yet available; division equipped with Browning automatic rifles instead]	108
Howitzer, 155 mm.	16
Mortar, 81 mm.	18
Mortar, 60 mm. [not yet available]	81
Pistol	4,941
Rifle, caliber .30 Garand	3,192
Rifle, caliber .30 [model 1903]	50
Rifle, caliber .30 Garand or Browning automatic	111
Electric light set, motorized, 1½ ton truck, four wheel drive	1
Ambulance	25
Five passenger sedan	14
Weapon and ammunition carrier	162
Motorcycle with side car	133
Light tractor	12
Medium tractor	8
Medium tractor with bulldozer	3
Trailer, ¾ ton cargo	223
Water trailer, 250 gallon tank	2
Command truck, ¼ ton four wheel drive	192
Command radio truck, ¼ ton four wheel drive	5
Communication truck	30
Pickup truck, ¼ ton four wheel drive	48
Cargo truck, 1½ ton four wheel drive	465
Dump truck, 1½ ton four wheel drive	51
Cargo truck, 2½ ton six wheel drive	19
Wrecker truck, 2½ ton six wheel drive	2
Wrecker truck, 4 ton six wheel drive	1

It was estimated that 30,000 to 40,000 visitors were in the maneuver area today. Many were relatives and friends of men in the four National Guard divisions.

For the first time in 21 years the 32d [Red Arrow] division of the Michigan and Wisconsin National Guard passed in review. The last previous review was at Dierdorf, Germany, where Gen. John J. Pershing was the reviewing officer. Maj. Gen. Irving A. Fish of Milwaukee, division commander, and Gov. Julius P. Heil of Wisconsin were the reviewing officers today.

YARDMAN IS ELECTROCUTED.

Quincy, Ill., Aug. 18 [Special].—Amos Betts, 51, yardman, was electrocuted last night when he touched a radio aerial wire that had fallen over a high voltage wire. Firemen, police, and linemen worked more than 2 hours applying artificial respiration in effort to resuscitate him.

Hindsight and Foresight

Too Much News?

BY HOLGAR J. JOHNSON
President Institute of Life Insurance

IT'S important that we get the news of the world—and see it in proper perspective. Yet people who worry continually about the state of the world these days are apt to become so concerned that they neglect the duties nearest them.

JOHNSON

In times like these, you can't blame them for it, but there is such a thing as worrying too much about events over which we have no control.

Of course, no responsible person would recommend that we adopt the "ostrich" defense and simply hide from the facts.

Perhaps there is a sane middle course—a way to keep our eyes open and our minds on our jobs.

A friend of mine has a formula for this—he has set aside two news periods in his day—periods for reading or listening to news. At all other times he directs his mind and his energies toward his own work.

This is a very good formula to follow whenever there are hard-to-face facts clouding the future.

Face facts, yes! But don't spend your whole time worrying about them!

IN our business there are thousands of men and women an important part of whose job it is to persuade people to face facts so they won't have to worry about the future.

It's not my job to sell life insurance and it wouldn't even be my place to select an agent for you if you asked me.

But it is my job to serve the public interest in such ways as pointing out the value to you of "facing the facts" with a good life insurance agent at least once a year—just to review your program. If you'll do this, you can put away some of your worries and enjoy a greater sense of security in this troubled world.

LOANS WITHOUT ENDORSERS

You can borrow $100 on your own signature if you can pay back $6.43 a month—See table for other loan plans—No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Quick, private service.

YOU can get a personal loan—without red tape or delay—if you can repay in small monthly installments. All you do to apply for a loan at Household is to acquaint us with your problem. You need no bankable security—no endorsers or guarantors.

You may repay your loan on any of the schedules shown in the table below. Thus you may choose the payment plan which best fits your own needs and income.

Payments to fit your purse

Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will see, for instance, that monthly installments of $9.77 each will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.43 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan.

You will note that the sooner you repay the less your loan costs. Four monthly installments of $26.60 each, or a total of only $106.40, will repay a $100 loan in full. Installments shown in the table repay everything.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2¼% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.

CHICAGO — S. T. HENDERSON, PRESIDENT

Simple to borrow

You get your loan in a simple, private transaction. We require no stocks or bonds, no salary or wage assignment. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) You are spared the embarrassment of asking friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. And no questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives.

Considerate treatment

You may expect every consideration in case of sickness or unemployment while paying on a Household Finance loan. Last year we foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 20,000 loans. This action was taken only as protection against fraud.

If a loan can help you to solve a money problem, you are urged to study the table carefully. Then phone or visit us for further information. No obligation to borrow.

Cub Fans, Sally Says to Hurry with Letters

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Come on, you Cub fans!

Here's another chance for all you boys and girls to see your favorite players in action. We're going to have a baseball party out at Wrigley field on Aug. 29, and I'm looking for 100 good little boys and girls to come with me to see the Cubs play the Boston Bees.

I want this to be a real treat for my guests, so I'm going to try to select fifty boys and fifty girls to whom seeing this game would be a real privilege. I can't judge that all by myself, so you'll have to help me out by writing and telling me if you'd like to come to this party.

Anything that you think will help to convince me that you really must be invited will be all right, but be sure to write that letter all by yourself, and don't forget to tell me your real name, your address, and your age, because any letter which doesn't include those three bits of information goes into the waste basket.

All letters must be on my desk by next Thursday morning, when the winners will be selected.

Their names will be published in next Sunday's TRIBUNE, so if you hope to be in that list send along that letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago!

Circus Thrills Climax Season at Algonquin

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

"Step right up, folks, and see our great mellerdramer. Watch the villain vanquished in Penelope's plight. It won't cost you a nickel, 5 cents or half a dime. It costs you a smile. Step right up, folks." The barker was a slender towhead girl of 13. She wore brown riding trousers and a gay checkered jacket. A paper stovepipe hat was tilted rakishly over the even tan of her forehead.

Two weeks ago the same little girl arrived at Camp Algonquin. As a score of other children tumbled excitedly out of the same truck which brought her to the camp, she had stepped down, pale and hesitant. Her cotton apron was clean, but it had seen many tubbings.

Yesterday she was having the time of her life. It was the eighth annual circus day at Camp Algonquin, the high point of the summer at the United Charities camp for underprivileged children. The camp is aided financially by TRIBUNE readers thru the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Many of the 250 children, who have been learning to romp beneath trees and sun and a smokeless sky during the last two weeks, had never seen a circus. Yesterday they not only saw one, but they were the performers. They shuddered with delight as "the biggest ape in the world" waddled among them. The "ape" was one of the 100 needy mothers also vacationing at the camp.

Then there were tigers whose frisky rope tails were sewed to striped pajamas and futuristic elephants whose trunks were arms encased in cheesecloth. There was a troop of tiny trained dogs, kindergarten children with ruffs around their throats.

There was consternation when a little girl blithely whisked away the "4,000 pound weights" which "the tiniest strong man in the world" was having difficulty lifting. But nothing was missing to make the circus the real thing — complete with snake charmers, grass-skirted hula dancers, wild men from Borneo, clowns, cowboys, ice cream and side shows.

It was made possible by the donations of TRIBUNE readers. Five contributors who helped the Camp Algonquin fund over the week-end were:

A. E. Freese	$ 13.50
Robert Neil Diekman Jr.	10.00
Fred Ascher	5.00
Mrs. B. D. H.	5.00
M. M. C.	2.50
	$ 36.00
Previously acknowledged	623.52
Total	$659.52

Donations to the fund are acknowledged in these columns. They should be sent soon to permit underprivileged children to take advantage of the last few weeks at Camp Algonquin. Gifts should be addressed to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

If you think, as I do, that there has not been much savor to our movie diet lately, William Powell and Myrna Loy will restore your faith in Hollywood's ability to serve up a spicy, appetizing dish. You may never be the same after hearing Mr. Powell imitate the mating call of the love bird, but I can gudrantee that you will be much richer for the experience.

"I Love You Again" is one of those all too rare comedies with a constant mood of hilarity, an unbroken chain of impertinent dialog without a dead gag or a wasted sentence, and a basic situation that induces Mr. Powell's most completely zany mood. It seems that he has married Miss Loy during a nine year period of amnesia in which he remembers nothing of his preamnesia career. His wife knows him as a model of stuffed shirt propriety—a penny-pinching but virtuous example of civic leadership more devoted to the chamber of commerce than to his lonely wife.

On an ocean voyage—which he is taking without his wife—he leaps into the foam to rescue Frank McHugh, who has fallen overboard. On the way out of the water he is smacked on the head by an oar. This accident abruptly changes his mental orientation. The nine years of marriage and of civic propriety in Habersville are bumped clear out of his memory, and he recalls only his first personality—a slick and wily confidence man! When his wife meets him at the pier he does not know her; and you can imagine that a rare set of complications ensues.

The picture is much too surprising and much too merry to be spoiled by letting further secrets out of the bag. Whether he is receiving a plate of scrambled eggs on top of his head at the hands of Miss Loy, or darting thru the woods leaving deer tracks for a group of Boy Scouts to follow, Mr. Powell is what is commonly called a riot. Miss Loy, whose share in it all is not as extensive as it might be, joins in zestfully, and there is no getting around the fact that the two are a wonderful team.

Frank McHugh is excellent as Mr. Powell's dumb cluck of a henchman, and all the others, as they are called upon, behave effectively. The picture will certainly prove to be one of the big comedy successes of the summer.

Fur Bargains and Cool Shops Lure to Buyers

BY REA SEEGER.

Fur shops are well populated havens for sticky summer shoppers. They not only are cool but offer timely tips in fur finds for future winter occasions when the present heat is a bit of history. Short fur jackets are even more brief than last year, sometimes just clearing the belt line. Others are fitted in like a mess jacket or bolero. It's the clever dye jobs, tho, that take the money. There are light shades to wear with dark clothes, and some of the most beautiful shades of brown and cinnamon and dark beige ever displayed.

For the shoppers who limp along with a decidedly small clothes allowance the inexpensive fur finds are many. These modestly priced coats and jackets are extremely high fashion; they're smart, young, and wear surprisingly well even with daily use. For instance, civet cat; many new models come with hoods [detachable]. The dramatic contrast of black with white makes for snappy color contrasts with wool, silk or velveteen, with daytime clothes as well as evening wear.

Blended muskrat, dyed like baum marten, is another prize winning model. Blended raccoon, worked with the same beauty as fox skins, is an especial delight for the career girls who demand a fur coat to lead a useful double life, day and evening.

Lapin is a perennial favorite in longish swaggers or in the effective shorts. Ocelot is worked overtime for coats and muffs and hat trim. It's so much like the more expensive leopard that most people prefer it regardless of the lower prices.

Lapin is going strong. It's especially flattering this year in deep brown. And Laskin mouton [sheep skin] is the pet of any young girl's wardrobe. Coats of this stuff have price marks that shock even a veteran shopper.

Half a month remains of special prices, a time to order coats, to plan repairs or the rejuvenation of an old fur coat, and to order smart hats, muffs, cuffs and band trim to change the appearance of a winter cloth coat.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob M. Schimberg of the Sherry hotel announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Robert T. Blywise, son of Mrs. Ernestine Blywise and E. H. Blywise of Cleveland.

Nancy Wolcott's Betrothal to S. A. McKeown Jr. Told

BY JUDITH CASS.

FROM the east and from the west the family of Mrs. Ryland A. Wolcott gathered at home in Winnetka over the week-end to celebrate the engagement of Miss Nancy Craft Wolcott to Scott Alexander McKeown Jr., son of Mrs. McKeown of Washington, Pa. Mrs. Wolcott is making the formal announcement of the engagement today. She arrived on Saturday from a holiday in Estes Park, Colo.

Miss Wolcott and her fiancé arrived from the east yesterday. Both were graduated from college in June. After receiving her degree at Vassar Miss Wolcott remained in the east to join a group of 12 college friends who formed a summer stock company that toured up and down the Hudson river. Mr. McKeown received his degree from Bard college of Columbia university.

Miss Wolcott was a debutante of the 1937 season. Mr. McKeown will spend several days with his fiancée's family and then will enter a Naval Reserve Officers Training corps in September, before going into business. The wedding will take place in the early spring.

Elizabeth Webster's Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Webster announced yesterday the engagement of their eldest daughter, Elizabeth Fabian, to Lloyd Lewis, son of Mrs. James Perry Lewis of Redmon, Ill. The announcement was made at an informal tea given by Mr. and Mrs. Webster in their home at 905 Greenwood boulevard, Evanston.

After attending Swiss schools for two years, Miss Webster was graduated from Roycemore and took premedical work at Bryn Mawr. She recently has been taking graduate work in biochemistry at the University of Chicago. She is also a devotee of aviation and has won a pilot's license. Her acquaintance with Mr. Lewis began at the university where he is a candidate for a doctor's degree in the mathematical and physical sciences.

Assisting at the tea were Miss Webster's cousins, Mrs. William Porter Sullivan [Dorothy Fabian] and Mrs. Francis G. Fabian Jr., and some of her twenty other first cousins living in Evanston and Winnetka. Miss Webster's sister, Emily, is a sophomore at Wellesley and her brother, Ronald Jr., is a senior at Williams.

Numerous Prenuptial Parties Being Given.

August and September brides-to-be are enjoying a whirl of prenuptial parties. Craig Benson entertained at cocktails yesterday for Miss Sally Bull and Joseph H. Fall Jr., who are to be married on Aug. 31. Other especial guests were Miss Cynthia Aldrich and David P. Rowe, whose engagement was announced last week.

Miss Patsy Blackett is giving a luncheon on Tuesday next week for Miss Bull and another bride-to-be, Miss Roxane McKenzie, who is to be married to Alfred Marsden Price on Sept. 7. Mrs. James Allen Turner will give a barbecue supper at her home in Highland Park on the 28th for her niece, Miss Bull. Miss Lucy Keeler and Miss Josephine Wallace will entertain at cocktails for Mr. Price and his fiancée on the 29th at Miss Wallace's home.

Mrs. John Edgar Freeman is giving a miscellaneous shower tomorrow for Miss McKenzie. Miss Alice Blair will give a luncheon and kitchen shower on Wednesday for Miss McKenzie, who will be the especial guest at yet another shower this week, a tea and bathroom shower Miss Janet Hollister will give on Friday.

Many Affairs Precede Currier-Otis Wedding.

The John Ratcliffs of Barrington gave a cocktail party last Saturday for Miss Elizabeth Otis and Charles H. Currier Jr., who are to be married next Saturday. Mrs. A. Fuller Dean is giving a kitchen shower tomorrow for Miss Otis. Mrs. Samuel Ross will give a dinner tomorrow night.

Mrs. Charles W. Buckley II. and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert Buckley, will give a miscellaneous shower at the latter's home on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Otis, Miss Otis' brother and sister-in-law, will give the bridal dinner Friday.

After the ceremony at 2:30 o'clock next Saturday the bride's sister, Mrs. Arthur P. Scott, and Mr. Scott will give a reception at their home in Wauconda. Another sister, Miss Julia

Murder Is Not Mute

By Audrey Newell

[Copyright: 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

Detective Doyle of New York is vacationing in a small town when, while walking in the woods of the estate of Adolph Wunsch, ex-brewer, he stumbles upon a skeleton. He reports to Truman Briault, Wunsch's brother-in-law, rejects the bribe to keep quiet, and goes to the police. Returning to the scene with Policeman Madden and Judge Blain, the skeleton is gone, but by trailing fresh footprints, they discover where it has been hastily buried. Dr. Blake, the coroner, says it is that of a teen age girl who was murdered. Further search near where the skeleton was first discovered results in finding blue yarn, a watch clasp, a bullet, and a pair of high heels. The yarn is traced to Truman's sweater. The watch clasp is identical with the clasp on the watch Paula Wunsch, Adolph's beautiful young second wife, wears. Doyle learn that Paula's watch was a wedding present three years ago from her husband, but 13 months later he had a duplicate watch made. Paula married Wunsch for his money, but, tho he allowed her mother and her brother to live with them and his 18 year old daughter, Texie, and his aged father, he dominates the household. Miss Doty, a trained nurse, takes care of his father. Paula has grown to hate her husband. She tried to promote a match between her brother and Texie, to solve Truman's financial worries, and Wunsch became suspicious and sent Texie to Europe chaperoned by Mrs. Briault. They have been away for more than a year. Lately Wunsch has been driving to town every night with Follins, his chauffeur, and Paula, becoming suspicious, puts detectives on his trail. Helen Voss, Texie's companion, has not been living in the Wunsch home since Texie left for Europe, and Wunsch denies knowing where she is. Doyle finds an old clipping saying she left to take a business course in New York. When Doyle tells Paula the murdered girl wore a watch like hers, Paula faints. When she comes to she asks for Doyle, but Miss Doty gives her a drug that puts her to sleep. At 1 a. m. Paula awakes, telephones to Doyle and, just as he answers, a dark figure appears on the balcony and shoots at Paula. Doyle, hearing the shot and Paula's scream, comes over, finds a bullet, and questions the household. The elder Wunsch mumbles something incoherent about his cane being lost. Each person seems to have an alibi, but Miss Doty's only one is that she is wearing a white dress. Doyle discovers a black robe in Wunsch's room. He tells Miss Doty that Wunsch is going to fire her.

DRUGGED COFFEE.

INSTALMENT XXV.

Miss Doty shrugged. "That dratted cane. He's always losing it. I'll find it in the morning."

"If you don't," Doyle said, "let me know."

She nodded. Then the oddity of his request struck her. "Why on earth do you want to know about the Old Man's cane?"

"A cane is a weapon," Doyle said slowly. "In the Old Man's case, I'd regard it as a weapon of defense. He may have his own good reasons for wanting it always close at hand. Don't forget, there's been one murder here. And very nearly another."

"Believe me, I'm not forgetting that." Miss Doty turned her head for a quick look at Paula Wunsch. "Let's get a move on. When that poor thing wakes up I want you to find me right by her side."

Doyle nodded. "All I want you to do is tell me who occupies each of these rooms."

The forward end of the hall was glass—a magnificent leaded window framing a wide vista of lawn and park, golf course and bay.

Doyle made a cursory inspection of the guest rooms, but they revealed nothing of interest. There was no access to the balcony from them.

Miss Doty assured him the same was true of the elder Wunsch's suite, which included her room. But despite her violent whispered objections that he would disturb the Old Man, Doyle insisted on seeing for himself.

Grossvater's sitting room was at the front of the house, and beyond it his bedroom, where he lay muttering in the uneasy sleep of the aged. Both rooms were in perfect order, as were the two baths. But in Miss Doty's room a box of notepaper had fallen to the floor beside her desk, where she had evidently dropped it at the sound of the shot.

Wunsch's rooms, Mrs. Wunsch's boudoir, and Briault's apartment, Doyle had already inspected. There remained only Texie's unoccupied apartment. Doyle turned to it hopefully. Its position next to the boudoir, and its vacancy, made it logically suspect.

But the detective's intentions were balked. For the door to Texie's suite was locked.

Doyle questioned Miss Doty, and the nurse could not believe this was so until she had tried the door herself.

"That's queer," she said in a scared whisper. "The guest rooms aren't locked. None of the rooms are. Why should this be?" Her jaw dropped as though at a sudden disquieting thought. "Do you suppose there's some one hiding in there?"

Doyle said quietly, "Don't get panicky, Redhead."

And when he pinned her down to it she had to admit that, for all she knew, the door may have been locked ever since Texie's departure. And the nurse earnestly advised Doyle not to wake the poor woman at 4 a. m. to ask for a key.

Doyle said maybe that was right. And maybe, come to think of it, he could do with a little sleep himself. That was dear Maman's room, she added dryly.

Doyle grinned. He'd seen a picture of the lady, and he guessed it would give her fits if she knew a big rough cop was sleeping in her swell bed.

Doyle went into Maman's room. He did not turn on the lights and he did not quite shut the door. Nor did he have any intentions of going to sleep. Instead he pushed a chair about until it was so angled that, sitting in it, he could watch both the boudoir and the adjacent locked door.

He could see Mrs. Wunsch resting, motionless, and Miss Doty watching over her. But after a while the nurse crossed the corridor into her own room. Then she came out again and hurried back to her patient. In the next quarter hour she made three of these brief trips, while Doyle watched, frowning and puzzled. But her brow smoothed when she emerged the third time with a cup of steaming coffee.

He tiptoed to the door and whispered, "Got some for me?"

She was so startled that she nearly dropped the cup. "Haven't you got any sense?" she inquired with feeling. She gave him a disgusted look, but went back to her room and returned with two cups.

"I'm a fool to give you any," she said bitterly, handing him one of them.

He waved her off to her post and went back to his own. The hot coffee hit the right spot. Miss Doty was a bright girl to think of it. He could see her across the hall putting her empty cup aside and yawning. Doyle yawned in sympathy.

The house was weirdly quiet. Without sound or movement it waited for the dawn. Soon milky light seeped into Maman's room. Wouldn't anything happen now, Doyle thought, yawning again. Still it wouldn't do to relax. He sat erect in his chair and planted his feet determinedly. But sleep was heavy within him.

He was watching Miss Doty's nodding head and thinking that she wouldn't be able to hold out much longer, when he drifted off into heavy slumber.

Miss Doty awakened Doyle a few hours later, after a deal of vigorous shaking. She had brought him some breakfast on a tray. Both her patients, she reported, were still abed. She had showered, changed her uniform, and breakfasted.

She hung around him while he breakfasted, chattering inconsequentially.

At length he laid the trayful of empty dishes aside and lit a cigaret. Then he eyed her quizzically.

"O. K., sister. What's on your mind?"

She bridled. "You think you're smart, don't you?"

He nodded with supreme complacence.

She looked at him defiantly. "I bet you're not smart enough to be suspicious of that coffee we drank last night."

"Suspicious? Of the coffee?"

"I think it was drugged," she said tensely.

He started at her. "What makes you think that?"

She hesitated, eyeing him uncertainly. Then she blurted, "Doesn't it seem that we both fell asleep after drinking it?"

Doyle chuckled. "That's just like a woman. Does something she doesn't mean to do, and then invents an elaborate excuse for herself. Now me—" he cocked one eyebrow at her—"I fell asleep because I was dog tired. It might be that you fell asleep for the same simple reason."

"The coffee should have kept us awake," she insisted.

"Why? Because the magazine ads say it does? Don't believe everything you read, Redhead."

"Go on and laugh," she said. "I bet we'd both be sleeping yet, only somebody went through the hall early this morning. That's what woke me."

"Who went through the hall?" Doyle was interested now.

"I don't know. But I heard a door close. And footsteps. But when I went to the boudoir door and looked into the hall," she gulped, "there was nobody there."

Doyle shook his head dejectedly. "Listen, sister," he urged, "keep your head screwed on tight. Don't go around imagining things."

Miss Doty said stubbornly, "I heard something, and the coffee did taste queer."

Doyle shook his head. "I didn't notice it." He looked at her curiously. "You got that coffee from your own room, didn't you?"

"I brought it up to my room from the kitchen. Last evening."

"What did you brew it in?"

"My own electric percolator. I know that's O. K."

"Sure it is." He grinned at her. "It's just your thinking that's screwy. Why would any one want to drug you?"

She answered that promptly. "To get me out of the way so they could kill Mrs. Wunsch."

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: This Ham Is Cooked

Hospitality Is Guarantee of Social Success

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Dear Miss Blake:

"My daughter is 18 years old and I am worried about her lack of friends. After work her only diversion is to go to an occasional movie with me. We are good companions, but I know a young girl should have fun with friends outside her home.

"My mother made the mistake of preventing me from making friends, and I don't want my daughter to have the lonely life I have had as a result.

"How can I help my daughter have a more social life?—Mrs. Lawrence."

To solve her daughter's problem, Mrs. Lawrence needs to solve her own problem first. It is not too late to remedy her mother's mistake and begin making friends now. An example of sociability will help the girl more than anything else.

Church, community or club work will bring Mrs. Lawrence in contact with people and give her a happy outlook on life. Then she should create an atmosphere of hospitality in her home. For a very small amount of money she can entertain at tea or a simple lunch. From her mother's graciousness, the girl would learn how to be a charming hostess herself.

If her daughter has a home to which everyone likes to come, she will have plenty of chances to go out. Hospitality, no matter how simple, is the basis of social life.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

Defenders must wage a bitter war against the establishment of declarer's side suits. Often it actually is worthwhile to sacrifice a trick rather than permit this maneuver by the declarer. Today's hand is typical of this theme.

♦ 7 6 4
♣ Q J 10 7 6

SOUTH
♠ K Q 9 5 4
♦ A Q 8
♣ A 9

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Double	Pass	2 hearts
Double	Pass	3 spades	3 diamonds
3 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

Obviously, East and West "had their necks out" in defending against the part score. West's take-out double was shaded almost to the vanishing point, and East's second bid, on his attenuated diamond suit, was a clear case of desperation. Nevertheless, these bids succeeded in pushing South to a contract that he found impossible to fulfill against the defense that was put up. South's bidding was correct. He was justified in hoping that three spades could be made, whereas he could figure only a small penalty against the opponents.

West's opening lead, a low spade, was admirably calculated to protect his holdings in side suits. Dummy played low, and East's 10 lost to the king. Declarer saw that it would be futile to lead out the ace and another heart; the defenders had already indicated their intention to prevent a ruff in dummy. Therefore declarer shrewdly calculated his best chance was to establish dummy's club suit and use the jack of spades as an entry [the spade ace was virtually marked in West's hand].

On the lead of the ace and nine of clubs, however, West withheld his king, even tho he knew that by so doing he would be more than likely to lose it. Declarer overtook his own nine spot in dummy, and followed up his plan by leading the club queen, with the intention of throwing a heart on it. East scotched this rudely by trumping in, and after that no matter how the declarer twisted and turned he never could avoid the loss of two heart tricks, two diamonds, and the ace of spades.

Had East failed to ruff the trick that his partner could win, no subsequent defense could have availed. Declarer, as mentioned, would have thrown a heart. West would have had to win with the king, and could have made no return that would have resulted in five tricks for his side. Dummy's spade jack would have remained a certain entry for the cashing of at least one club trick.

The entire crux of the hand had been the defenders' battle against the establishment and cashing of dummy's club suit.

Van Nomikos Named Head of Hellenic Association

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 18 (AP).—Van A. Nomikos, Chicago chain theater owner, is the new supreme president of the American Hellenic Educational and Progressive association. Nomikos was chosen at the closing session of the national convention last night. "At this convention," Nomikos said, after his election, "we have reaffirmed our allegiance to the United States and we stand ready to sacrifice not only our wealth, but our lives in the defense of the government of the United States—the government which most closely approaches that of the first democracy, our motherland."

Salvation Army to Mark Booth Death Anniversary

Services commemorating the 28th anniversary of the death of William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, will be held tomorrow evening in the Chicago Temple corps, 1512 Madison street. Col. and Mrs. William H. Barrett will be in charge of the meeting. Col. Barrett is chief secretary of the central states territory.

Dr. S. B. Crosland to Speak at Lake Geneva Conference

Dr. Stanley B. Crosland, pastor of the Rogers Park Congregational church, will discuss "The American Way" Wednesday at a conference of the International Council of Religious Education at Lake Geneva, Wis. He is a representative of the Chicago Round Table of Christians and Jews.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1940: By The Chicago Tribune.]

If you are tired of plain boiled or buttered potatoes, if you can't look a scalloped or fried potato in the eye without a yawn of boredom, then you're just the housewife to be wanting these new "spud" recipes.

Well, maybe they aren't exactly new. Several of them have been in circulation for some time, but they don't have as wide a following as they deserve. Try "cubist" potatoes on your company when next you have company, and wait for some one to exclaim: "Whatever did you do to these potatoes to make them taste so good?"

Cubist Potatoes.

[Serves six.]

6 large potatoes
6 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon scraped onion
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon celery seed

Cube potatoes and boil them until tender in slightly salted water. [Or boil the whole potatoes and cube them while hot.] Drain and add to the hot potatoes the butter which has been creamed with the other ingredients. Serve hot.

You may melt the butter for these potatoes, if you like. It may be just our imagination which makes us think that the creamed butter absorbs the flavors of onion and celery seed better.

SAVORY COTTAGE POTATOES.

Peel and slice potatoes. Add them to bacon drippings or butter which has been heated in a skillet. [Use three tablespoons of fat for four potatoes.] Turn down heat, cover, and cook potatoes until tender, turning them occasionally with a spatula. Add a tablespoon of minced onion, one of green pepper, and one of pimiento, with a fourth cup of grated cheese. Season with salt and pepper, mix together well, and serve hot.

Of course, with a cover on the pan these potatoes won't be very crisp and brown. If you want them crisp and brown, leave off the cover and use a somewhat higher cooking temperature.

Caraway Potatoes.

[Serves four.]

Salt, paprika
¼ cup butter
1 teaspoon caraway seed

Boil potatoes in jackets. Peel and leave whole or cut in halves. Season with salt and pepper while browning on all sides in a skillet with the butter. Add caraway just before serving.

CRUSTED POTATOES.

[To accompany roast meat.]

Pare small potatoes of even size. Roll in beaten egg diluted with two tablespoons water, and then in sifted bread or cracker crumbs. Place the potatoes in the roasting pan with beef or pork and cook until tender, basting from time to time with the meat drippings.

And here's an easy and good way to prepare leftover boiled potatoes [or newly boiled ones, if company's coming].

CREAMY POTATOES.

Slice the cooked potatoes into a skillet in which a little butter has been melted and add cream. Season with salt and pepper and cook gently until potatoes have partly absorbed cream.

Handsome Crocheted Tie

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

One of the nicest hand crocheted ties recently to come out of Europe is this good looking design. It is crocheted in a "crazy stitch" which is easy to do. The tie does not stretch or lose its shape when made from No. 10 mercerized crochet cotton with a fine hook. All the pretty shades of brown, red, blue, and green are suitable for year round wear.

For instructions in crocheting the tie done in a "crazy stitch," No. X-468, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th Avenue, New York City.

Today's Chicago Radio Broadcasts

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.

[Central Daylight Saving Time.]

Several dramatic shows head W-G-N's broadcast schedule today. The list includes Bachelor's Children at 10:30 a. m., Linda's First Love at 10:45, The Editor's Daughter at 11, Painted Dreams, written by Kay Chase who also plays the part of Joyce Foster, at 11:30; I'll Never Forget at noon, The Lone Ranger at 7:30 p. m., and Who Knows? at 9:15 p. m.

Bill Anson, comedian and impersonator, will be heard at 7 p. m. when another program in the Play Broadcast quiz series is offered. Featured with Anson will be Bob Elson, W-G-N sportscaster; a group of professional actors, and the W-G-N Dance orchestra under the direction of Harold Stokes. Play Broadcast is presented each Monday before 600 invited guests in the station's main audience studio.

Your Music I. Q., also a quiz show, presented by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, is scheduled from 8:30 to 9 p. m. The board of experts for this evening's show consists of Ann Faulkner Oberndorfer, author and lecturer; Porter Heaps, organist; George Seaberg, concert pianist, and Harold Stokes, leader of the W-G-N Dance orchestra. Elson is the quizzer and Jack Brickhouse the announcer. Musical examples are played on the piano by Harold Turner, W-G-N's pianist.

Yesterdays, an audience studio show offering old favorite tunes, will be heard at 9:30 p. m. The program is conducted by Harold Stokes, with Edna O'Dell and Lawrence Salerno doing the vocals.

At 2:15 p. m. Bob Elson will give a wire report of the Chicago White Sox-Philadelphia game. The Lead Off Man will preceed the game at 2 p. m.

Tuberculosis Sanitarium Dedicated by Lake County

The Lake County Tuberculosis sanitarium was dedicated yesterday in Waukegan, with James F. Stiles Jr. of Lake Bluff, secretary of the board of trustees, serving as master of ceremonies. About 600 persons attended and heard Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical association, call the $600,000, 100 room institution a "model" one. The plant is said to be the first tuberculosis sanitarium built in Illinois in the last 16 years. It has been approved by the American College of Surgeons.

Your Stars ★ Today ★

By WYNN

Monday, Aug. 19.

Today's foreground vibrations are good for minor matters; attend to them early, preferably in the morning. In evening and thru Wednesday, detour temptations to do or say more than you intend—the urge is to overplay the emotions.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead, if born on this date, may seem jerky, but upsets, if wisely handled, lead to bettered conditions, change judiciously. Watch reputation. From April more opportunity. Danger: Dec. 21-31; Apr. 28-May 11, 1941.

Tomorrow.

Better early than late; test and use early ideas; avoid contests.

Do you want an individual interpretation for your own personal date? Send 10c for your 1941 horoscope (or 5c for balance of 1940 horoscope—15c for both) to WYNN, Tribune Astrologer, 286 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, date of birth, and address.

2¢ DAY AT RIVERVIEW MARDI-GRAS

Numerology

By Evelyn Holmes

Aug. 19, 1940.

Universal Day—A combination of eight, one, and five—all numbers of energy, enterprise, and change.

Personal Years—A five-day is the best selling day of all. If you have anything to promote, or want to put over an idea, try it on a five-day. Do something different. If you have always gone home a certain way, try a new way on a five-day and add to your experiences. Seek adventure even if only thru a magazine story. It is a good day for trips, advertising, and romance. Don't resist changes on this day, let your plans be flexible.

Year Ahead—September speeds things up for those having birthdays today. Be ready for some quick adjustments. Be versatile, adaptable.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Let's See—Where Was I?

Hollywood, Aug. 18.—Sunday: A long job of writing, then out to the airport to mail some rush letters, and lunch in the Union Air terminal sky room. No transports come in or leave during lunch, but a weird looking little private ship that looks like a hunchbacked mosquito flits about. The pusher propeller is at the rear of the short four passenger compartment, and the thing lands nose down and tail high on a tricycle gear . . . To the John Larkins' for buffet supper, and we are lucky enough to draw L. Olivier and Vivien Leigh as table companions.

Tuesday: To Republic, to find out about Gene Autry, Roy Rogers and the other cowboys, and to Autry's house near by. Gene, an old railroad telegraph operator, now wears only cowboy clothes that look as if they'd been designed by Earl Carroll. [Remember, Carroll did those pretty uniforms for the New Jersey state troopers?] Autry wears fancy boots, skin-tight blue pants, blue shirts with white piping, has them made by a Los Angeles tailor, shirts cost $15 apiece. "I've got a more expensive one that I wear on special occasions," he confides. "It has an American flag on it." . . . To the preview of "Lucky Partners," and I don't agree with those who don't like Ginger Rogers in dark hair. I'd like her as Grandma Lester.

Wednesday: To MGM for a look at the sets of "Third Finger Left Hand," "Go West" and "Little Nellie Kelly." In "Third Finger" Myrna Loy is sitting at a desk looking over some letters while a guy tries to talk to her. He gets the brushoff. The darn fool is trying to tell her her husband can't be much good. On "Kelly," Judy Garland has just cooked some cereal and eggs and coffee for a breakfast scene and it's steaming on the kitchen table. "I won't mind this so much," says George Murphy. "It's pickles I can't stand. Once they made me eat dill pickles all day." On "Go West," the Marx Brothers are at the serious business of being funny in a railroad station scene. And believe you me, it is a very serious business. Harpo is wearing a coonskin cap hind-end to with the tail obscuring his face except when he lifts it to look. . . . In the evening to the preview of John Barrymore's "The Great Profile," which is a lot funnier than "My Dear Children."

Thursday: A lot of homework in the morning, then move from the hotel to the new house. It belongs to a lady who used to model for James Montgomery Flagg and it has a lot of Jim's drawings on the walls. . . . For dinner at Chasen's, and Edgar Selwyn joins us. Edgar Bergen, Noel Coward and Cary Grant are in nearby booths, but we prefer listening to Selwyn reminisce about himself and another young actor, Lionel Barrymore, and their living on a budget. They had decided the only way to get ahead was to make a reputation in London first, so they were existing on $1 a day apiece and saving up boat fare so Charles Frohman could "discover" them abroad.

Another Selwyn story: When he was very young he was broke and unhappy in Chicago. He made a suicide leap off a bridge, forgetting it was winter and the river was frozen. All that happened was that he hurt his backside. He scrambled out, trudged down a dark street, was met by a holdup man, who knocked him out with a gun butt. The holdup man, however, was just a dejected kid like Selwyn. After brooding a couple of hours, the gunman returned to the scene of his crime—his first—picked up the still unconscious Selwyn, took him to his room. Next day the fellow found a job, took care of Selwyn for three weeks until Edgar found a job. Years later Selwyn wrote this into a hit called "Rolling Stones."

Friday: Was to have gone on a junket to Delmar, where Bing Crosby's "Rhythm on the River" was previewed, but can't make it. So the day is nothing to write home about.

Saturday: To Universal to begin inquiries about a couple of employés. One of them is a studio cop who, when the day's work is done, puts on a mask and becomes one of those masked-marvel wrestlers. The other is a former walking champion, who used to do his act on a treadmill in vaudeville, who now skippers a tractor about the grounds. . . . On the "Seven Sinners" set Marlene Dietrich turns up looking like a boy, except for four inch eyelashes, in a glorified marine officer's costume.

Flattery for Plump Figures

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

Here's wardrobe assistance for possessors of too plump figures! If your silhouette is on the larger side, your clothes problems are hard to solve, but we think this coat style dress is just what you'll find most flattering. There's a handsome rever collar line, softly shirred bodice, and long, slenderizing panels in the skirt. The dress buttons all the way down the front, of course. If you like, make it collarless and shorten the sleeves.

All types of crêpes and sheer woolen will make up well. Since satin is going to be top flight for fall, you might use it for this afternoon costume. Since your figure is overweight, be kind to it, and choose subdued colors or the ever popular black.

Style No. 3449 is designed for size 16 and for 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material for long sleeved dress; 3¼ yards for short sleeved version.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Miss Jean Hennessy Becomes Bride of Lawrence L. O'Connor

The marriage of Miss Jean Hennessy and Lawrence Lucien O'Connor took place at 11:30 o'clock last Saturday in St. Philip Neri church, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. James J. Horsburgh officiating. A reception and breakfast followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Hennessy. After a wedding trip to Quebec, Mr. O'Connor and his bride will be at home on the south side.

Miss Dorothy Mandabach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul John Mandabach, became the bride of Thomas Robert Masterson last Saturday. The ceremony took place at 10 o'clock in St. Ignatius church and was followed by a reception at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Wile Hamburger announce the marriage last Saturday of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Herman Elkan Ries Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ries of South Bend, Ind.

Announcement is made of the marriage on June 29 of Miss Isabelle Harvey, daughter of Mrs. Albert Harvey of Brockton, Mass., to Kenneth C. Ovitt, son of Mrs. Charles H. Ovitt of 1400 Lake Shore drive. Mr. Ovitt and his bride, who went to White Lake, Mich., on their wedding trip, are at home at 1400 Lake Shore drive.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

All the women who frankly like sophisticated perfumes and who, in addition, like pearls of little price, should discover for themselves the charms of a beautifully perfumed toilet water that came to town recently.

It has a woodsy note, but there its claims to sweet simplicity end. At least that's our opinion. We'd classify it as one of the most interesting, worldly fragrances to be found. It isn't heavy, but it is on the heady side, and as an evening fragrance it's smart and different.

Colognes and toilet waters are not ordinarily exciting to the numerous women in our office. They've gotten pretty blasé about them, but when this little newcomer arrived it was something of a sensation. The bottle is simple, the package ditto, but the fragrance is unique. And amazingly inexpensive.

This comes with one of those nice, modern little cord atomizers, and to spray a bit of it on when you feel the need of freshening up is to learn once again that a fine, interestingly perfumed toilet water is one of the joys of life.

It's not often that a scent of elegance is so reasonably priced. Charm is easy to find, but elegance usually comes high. This one, which is definitely of the mink coat character, is our idea of a dressy, chic scent. Budgeteers will love the price tag as well as they love the liquid itself.

Nancy Wolcott to Be Bride of S. A. McKeown

Otis, will be the bride's only attendant. Jefferson D. Currier will be his brother's best man. They are sons of Charles Currier of Nokomis, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reed Jerome of Highland Park yesterday welcomed their son, Robert, and his fiancée, Miss Kathleen O'Brian of Crafton, Pa., for a two weeks' visit. Mrs. Jerome will give a tea for her future daughter-in-law on Wednesday afternoon. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. Morgan Weed [Virginia Jerome] will give a buffet supper for her brother and Miss O'Brian. Young Mr. Jerome has been in business in Pittsburgh for the last two years. He and Miss O'Brian will make their home there after their marriage early next year.

Sept. 24 is the date chosen by Miss Virginia Taylor and William Bradley Walrath Jr. for their marriage. The ceremony will take place at 8:30 o'clock in the Winnetka Congregational church and will be followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Taylor of Winnetka. Mr. Walrath is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walrath of Evanston.

Pflager-Wood Wedding Invitations Issued.

Invitations are in the mail for the marriage on Aug. 31 of Miss Ruth Elizabeth Wood, daughter of the Walter Guy Woods of Springfield, Mass., and Miller Slocum Pflager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Pflager of Evanston. The ceremony will take place at 4 o'clock in the Hope Congregational church in Springfield.

From Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., comes the announcement of the marriage last Saturday of Miss Dorothy Bawden Tower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Warren Tower, to Joshua D'Esposito Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D'Esposito of Wilmette. The ceremony took place at 10 o'clock in the Church of Christ the King, Greystone, Yonkers, N. Y. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Jane Cheney and John Wilson Cutler of Garrison, N. Y., haven't yet set a date for their marriage. Their wedding plans were interrupted when Mr. Cutler went abroad to drive an ambulance in France. He returned to the United States recently, and Miss Cheney just has returned to Winnetka from a visit with him and his parents in Garrison. Miss Cheney's mother, Mrs. F. Goddard Cheney, and Mrs. Charles T. Mordock are in Mackinac Island on a short holiday.

INJURIES WORRY PACKERS AS RAIN HALTS PRACTICE

Lambeau Fears Pass Attack May Miss.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Green Bay, Wis., Aug. 18.—There was no sunshine in Green Bay today. Ten hours of continual rainfall forced the Packers into idleness on the seventh day of their preparation for the Chicago All-Star game and a résumé of the week's progress was as encouraging as a coroner's report on suicide.

Water covered the practice field when the squad assembled in Municipal stadium for a three hour drill this morning. There was nothing to do except call off practice, leaving the world champions with only 10 workouts in their first week of organized drill for the most important assignment on their season's schedule.

Craig's Case Mystifying.

The gloom was deepened when Charles Brock, star center, and Larry Craig, the Packers' great blocking back, reported no improvement in their injuries. Brock was unable to lift his arm and the swelling in Craig's infected knee had increased during the night. Brock was ordered back to the hospital for more X-rays of the shoulder jammed up in Friday's practice game. X-rays made yesterday revealed no fractures. Examination will be made now for a separation or nerve bruise, either one of which, physicians said, would keep the former Nebraska and All-Star center out of the Chicago game.

Craig's case is more mystifying. Several weeks ago the former South Carolina quarter back bumped his knee in an automobile accident. The injury was diagnosed as a bruise. Shortly before he reported for practice a boil developed on the bump. Others appeared, until the entire knee became infected. If X-ray examinations do not reveal the source of the infection it may be necessary to operate.

Squad Has Real Material.

Only one factor has developed to encourage the army of loyalists who look to the champions for revenge for the humiliation suffered in 1937 when they descended on Soldiers' field to see their heroes "massacre those college kids" and came away crushed under a 6 to 0 All-Star victory.

That factor is the squad's possibilities. This year's Packer team has the material to become one of the finest in professional football history. It may suddenly find itself and enter Soldiers' field, Aug. 29, ready to perform to the full extent of its ability. Then again it may take three or four games to transform the squad from a group of stars into a coördinated unit. The Packers are notoriously slow starters.

Condition is one of the chief problems now. A majority of the 43 players reported in good shape and need only the routine repetition of assignments and fundamentals to bring them to their peak. But others, among whom are a number of key men, are overweight. These men have been assigned special exercises and will be given additional work at each practice beginning tomorrow.

Concerned Over Passing.

Coaches Curley Lambeau and Red Smith have been concerned mostly over the passing. Arnie Herber, who is reported to be recovering rapidly from the leg injury suffered in Friday's game, has been wild. None of the passers appears as far advanced in this art as in the first week of drill for the 1937 All-Star game. With the Packers committed to an offensive game, with emphasis on passes, this situation is cause for alarm.

Among the Packers' assets at the moment are Cecil Isbell. The former Purdue star goes back into the All-Star game determined to make as impressive a showing as he did in 1938 when he led the collegians to victory over the Washington Redskins and won the first All-Star most valuable player award. Isbell in Friday's practice game gave the same kind of a performance that won him the most valuable trophy. He played the type of football Packer fans hoped for all last season and saw only in flashes.

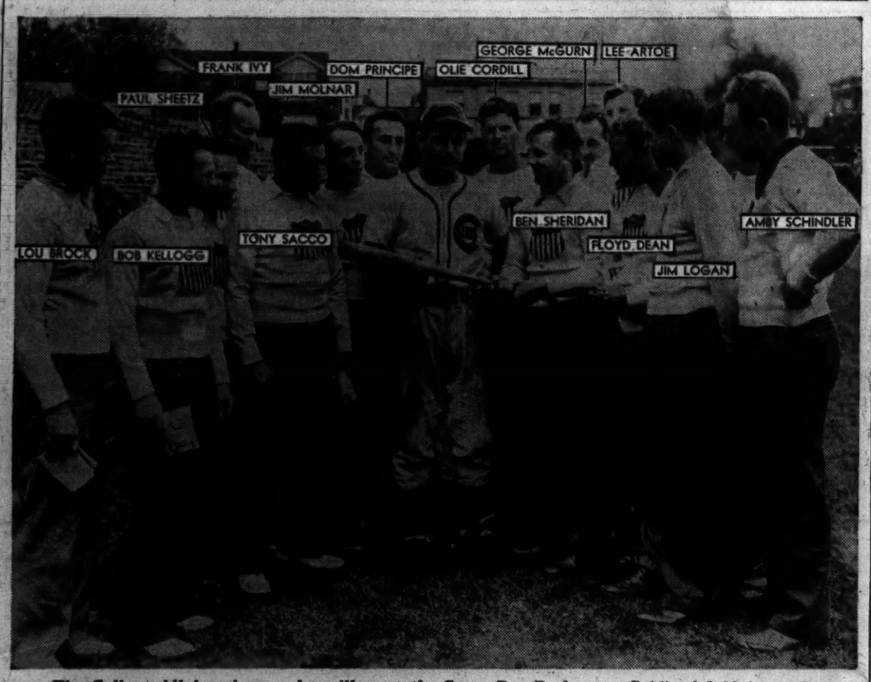
All-Stars Can Go to Bat on Any Occasion!



The College All-Americans, who will meet the Green Bay Packers on Soldiers' field Aug. 29, were given yesterday afternoon off and most of them went to Wrigley field to watch the Cubs. Bill Nicholson, Cubs' outfielder, shows Ben Sheridan, half back from Notre Dame, how to grip a bat as Sheridan's All-Star teammates look on. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

All-Stars Get Blackboard Session; Kellogg Wins Praise

BY WILFRID SMITH.

With no intermissions between showers yesterday morning, the All-Star football players had to settle their practice account with a lengthy blackboard session in the basement of the Goodrich house on the Northwestern university campus. Most of the squad visited Wrigley field in the afternoon to watch the Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Dinner time conversation of both the players and the coaches was composed of a further review of Saturday's scrimmage and speculation concerning the outcome of the scrap with the Green Bay Packers in Soldiers' field, Aug. 29. Few of the All-Stars have seen the Packers play, altho they are familiar with some of the Green Bay men from college competition. But the All-Americans have a vast and sincere confidence in themselves and among the group of ball carriers who already have won the admiration of their mates, is Bob [Jitterbug] Kellogg, Tulane half back.

Coaches Praise Kellogg.

Tulane got about the country quite a bit last season and finished with a Sugar Bowl engagement in its own stadium. Without reservation, opposing players and coaches paid tribute to the redheaded, 155 pound Kellogg. Harry Mehre, whose Mississippi team was beaten, 12 to 0, joined Jimmy Crowley, Fordham coach, whose eleven finished behind Tulane, in praising Kellogg.

Kellogg played one year at junior college before going to Tulane. Lowell Dawson, Tulane coach, was certain Kellogg would prove invaluable when he counted the 16 punt returns for touchdowns with which Bob was credited in that season. Kellogg stepped out in 1938 with a season's average per try of 17 yards. Tulane lost the Southeastern conference championship that year, however, when it was defeated, 3 to 0, by Alabama. Last fall Tulane and Tennessee tied for the title.

Takes Three Straight Titles.

Tulane's return to the football heights coincides with the return of her most famous quarter back, Red Dawson, who is one of Dr. Eddie Anderson's assistants in the All-Star camp. Dawson represents the south.

Dawson played under Bernie Bierman at Tulane in 1929, 1930, and 1931 and the Green Wave won the conference championship in all three seasons. In 1932 he was back field coach at Minnesota, Bierman having returned to his alma mater. In 1933 Minnesota was undefeated, but was tied four times. Then came the undefeated national champion teams of 1934 and 1935 after which Dawson answered Tulane's call. Dawson took with him Glenn Seidel, quarter back, and Bill Bevan, guard. Both Minnesota men were members of the 1936 All-Star team which was coached by Bierman and which tied the Detroit Lions, 7 to 7.

He's an Accurate Passer.

Kellogg's shifty running and his passing ability [he completed one-third of all attempts at Tulane] present an adequate picture of the type of men Anderson and his assistant coaches are depending upon at left half back. Kenny Washington of U. C. L. A., Nile Kinnick of Iowa, Ken Heineman of Texas Mines, Ben Sheridan of Notre Dame, and George Cafego of Tennessee, also are assigned to this position.

All have speed and shiftiness, and all can pass. Kirinick, Heineman, Kellogg, and Washington have astounding records.

Johnny Haman, Northwestern center, had a finger stepped on in Saturday's scrimmage which matched the cut hand Harry Smith, Trojan guard, had suffered earlier in the week. Ed Haas, Missouri tackle, and Tad Harvey of Notre Dame, who will start at this position against the Packers, drew black eyes in the last field session.

BLOCK THAT KICK!

The College All-Americans and the Green Bay Packers, national professional champions, who meet in Soldiers' field Aug. 29, are adept at blocking kicks. You can block a serious kick in your own household by ordering your tickets now. The Tribune Public Service office at 1 South Dearborn street is open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. and the one in Tribune Tower from 9 to 5:30. Mail orders should be addressed to All-Star Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower. Make check or money order payable to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. The prices:

INDIANS ARE ANOTHER STORY, IN LIFE OF SOX

If the Cleveland Indians win the American league pennant and fail to present the White Sox at least with their discarded teething rings and rattles, a charge of base ingratitude will be in order. With the possible exception of Bob Feller, the Sox are the Indians' most valuable asset.

By sweeping the three game series with the Tigers yesterday, the Sox won their 10th game out of 17 with the second placers. In sharp contrast, the Chicagoans have won only four out of 16 against the Indians.

Against the Sox, the Tigers have a net loss of three games; against the Sox, the Indians have a net gain of eight games. Had the Sox lost to the Tigers over the season's play in the same ratio as to the Indians, Detroit, instead of trailing the leaders by three and a half games, would be on top.

A perfect comparison cannot be made, as the Sox have played one more game with Detroit than against Cleveland. But had the Tigers won 12 out of 17 with the Sox, slightly less than the Indians' ratio, they would have 71 victories and 44 defeats. Cleveland is up-to-date won and lost record is 69 and 45.

LYONS PITCHES, BATS WHITE SOX TO 7-5 VICTORY

Score Three Runs in 9th; Sweep 3 Game Series.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 18.—The White Sox were on the verge of defeat today when they suddenly decided they might as well make it three in a row over the Tigers. They went to work in the ninth one run in arrears. They came out of the inning with a cluster of three runs, more than enough to register victory, 7 to 5, and at the same time record the ninth decision of the year for the venerable Ted Lyons. He not only did some pitching of account, but also annoyed 19,292 spectators—and the Tigers—with his bat wielding.

The ninth started as well as it finished. Luke Appling led off with a single to deep short and Taft Wright almost annihilated Charley Gehringer with a bounding drive, but it was recorded as an error, Appling going to third. Mike Tresh hoisted a fly to Barney McCosky in short center but Appling refused to quit third. Ken Silvestri batted for Bob Kennedy and boomed a single into center, Appling scoring the tying run. Lyons singled again, his fourth, but Hank Greenberg made a perfect throw to the plate and Wright was chopped down. But Jimmy Webb came thru unexpectedly with his two bagger to left center, Silvestri and Lyons scoring. Then Lyons set down three Tigers in the home ninth and everybody walked out into the rain.

Tebbetts Gives Ted Trouble.

Lyons encountered various troubles during his nine innings of work, some of which was conducted to the accompaniment of rain, but the most annoyance was furnished by Birdie Tebbetts, the Tiger backstop. Birdie singled in the second when Lyons had his toughest inning, during which there were five hits and three runs. Tebbetts hit a triple in the fourth for another run, giving his team a 4 to 1 lead. He singled again in the sixth, but Lyons got away from this safely, altho the bases were filled at the end of the inning. And in the eighth Tebbetts notched his season's fourth homer, a blow that the Tigers, for a few minutes, figured would be sufficient to keep them on the winning side.

The Sox had nine runners left on base in the first six innings, but de-

BY ARCH WARD.

KEN RAFFENSBERGER, rookie lefty, recently snatched the Cubs' cumulative rummy crown from the brow of Manager Gabby Hartnett. . . . Prior to Raffensberger's ascendancy Gabby had held the rummy championship for 16 years without a serious challenge. . . . Bill Shakespeare, a starting left half back in the 1936 All-Star football game, sends his best wishes to the 1940 squad from Buenos Aires, where he is now employed. . . . Dr. Andy Lotshaw, Cub trainer, is waxing more indignant with each report he receives on Dick Bartell's radio broadcasts intimating that Trainer Denny Carroll of the Tigers is the gent who brought him back to usefulness. . . . Says Dr. Andy: "Bartell could hardly stand up when he joined the Cubs and I got him wired together after a season of work. Carroll is a great trainer, but he might have given up on Bartell if Dick had reported to the Tigers on crutches." . . . Frivolous wayfarers report that the gayest spot in Michigan north of Detroit is Taffy Abel's Log Cabin resort at the Soo. . . . The former Blackhawk defense star brings in all the name bands on tour and provides ice skating the year 'round. . . . Mrs. Taffy is the boss of an elegant kitchen and dining hall. . . . Ford Frick, president of the National league, says he is in favor of returning the selection of the All-Star baseball teams to the fans, provided arrangements can be made for a representative vote. . . . President William Harridge always has been for the idea. . . . This department is willing to do the work, so what's stopping them? . . .

Recently unearthed financial reports of the Notre Dame Athletic association, signed by the late Knute Rockne, show that the Irish as late as 1919 received only $1,000 guarantee for the Army game at West Point. . . . The rail fare alone cost $1,381.35 and Notre Dame's net loss was $603.83. . . . Now the two teams play to more than 75,000 cash customers annually at $4.40 and $6.60. . . . On another game report there is an item of $1.20 for iodine, petrogen, and liniment—the training expenses of the trip. . . . Only three of the newspaper men who in 1908 organized the Baseball Writers' association to keep moochers and other impediments out of press boxes remain as daily reporters of ball games. . . . They are Jimmy Isaminger of Philadelphia, Sid Mercer of New York, and Ed Bang of Cleveland. . . . A fourth charter member is William Granger, a Brooklyn sports editor. . . . The 1940 edition of the film "Champions of the Gridiron," sponsored by the National Football league, is ready for release to organizations in the Chicago area. . . . Application for use of the picture should be made to the Chicago Bears or the Chicago Cardinals. . . . Joe Pawlowski, sophomore from Aurora who will be a candidate for guard on the Illinois football team, advanced to the middleweight semi-finals of the Golden Gloves tournament two years ago. . . . Biff Jones Jr. will not play football under his dad at Nebraska. . . . He plans to attend Taft Preparatory school in Connecticut as the first step in obtaining an appointment to West Point.

Is it true that Charley McCarthy is not on the air any more because he has been conscripted to serve as a rapid firing trench mortar in the fall military maneuvers?

A Hollywood columnist says that Warner Brothers are planning to film a sequel to "Gone with the Wind." Heavens, Arch, don't tell me they left anything out of the last one.

Of Thee I Sing.

According to statistics on marriage in the United States, every woman has some chance to marry. Her chance is best between the ages of 20 and 25, when 52 per cent of them wed. The ratio varies at different ages. After 60 a woman's chance for marriage is 1 in 1,000. A pretty slender figure, but then figures often are slender at that age.

A Queer Law.

'Twould be unconstitutional, they say,
To guarantee to all our drafted youth
The jobs they give up when they go away
To serve a year in training. Of a truth

Of other lands, and every mother's son
Will be without employment, if you please,
After his patriotic work is done.

Can it be constitutional to take
A boy away from work and family,
To make him labor for his country's sake
A solid year, and then in mockery
To turn him on the street a jobless man
Where he may beg or borrow what he can? —T. E. B.

FRENCH HOLDS PIRATES TO SIX HITS FOR NO. 12

Chicagoans Reach .500 Mark Again.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9 to 1, yesterday for a two hour, third share in fourth place in the National league race, but when night came and the results of the Cincinnati-St. Louis double header were in, the Chicagoans had to be content with a tie with the Pirates for fifth and sixth places. The Cardinals, following a double victory over the Reds, soared from sixth to fourth place by a margin of a half game.

The Cubs, however, in collaborating in Larry French's 12th victory of the season, swept the two game series with the Pirates and lifted themselves back to the .500 mark. The Cubs have won and lost 57 games, the Pirates have won and lost 54 and the Cardinals have won 54 and lost 53.

French Starts Strong.

French was in good form and did not yield a hit in the first four innings, during which the minimum, a dozen batsmen, faced him. The first hit off him, a double by Maurice Van Robays with one out in the fifth inning, bloomed into the Pirates' only run of the day. Van Robays got home on a double by Virgil Davis.

After those two doubles in the fifth, there was a triple by Lee Handley with one out in the sixth, a single by Vaughan and Van Robays' second double at the start of the seventh, and a scratch infield single by Handley in the eighth. French walked only one, Van Robays, and struck out three, Bill Brubaker twice and Vince DiMaggio, who ended the game with a whiff.

They Cool Off the Pirates.

The Cubs' sweep of the series left the Pirates only one up on the Cubs in the season series. The Pirates have won nine and the Cubs eight with the next scheduled business between the two teams a Labor day double header in Pittsburgh.

A week ago the Pirates were reveling over a record of nine straight, then 11 out of 12 and 20 out of 25. They were hailed thruout the baseball world as the hustlingest team extant. The Cubs hopped on them not the least awed by these figures, however. Yesterday the Pirates limped out of town feeling much like the team that didn't win the pennant in 1938.

Among the most disillusioned of the Pirates was Truett Sewell, Pirate starting pitcher, who was after his eleventh victory and came out with his third defeat. The Cubs made nine hits off him in 4 2-3 innings and he was further embarrassed by three errors, two of which were grievous from the Pirate point of view.

Cubs Score Three in First.

The Cubs made three runs in the first inning to stimulate French's usual high spirits, Sewell contributing to the cause with two walks and DiMaggio with a two run error. Stan Hack and Bonura got the passes and Hack scored the first run of the afternoon on a single by Gleeson. With two out DiMaggio dropped Dom Dallessandro's popup back of second, two more runs getting home on the miscue.

The Cubs had runners on third and second with none out in the fourth inning, as a result of Al Todd's double, a single by Bobby Mattick, and Bob Elliott's error. The bags were loaded with one out on an intentional pass to Hack, but Bill Herman hit into a double play. In

C. D. G. A. SQUAD TRIUMPHS OVER ST. LOUIS, 22 TO 8

Association's 27th Meet Opens Today.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Chicago district golfers yesterday warmed up for their individual labors in the twenty-seventh annual C. D. G. A. amateur tournament, opening this morning at Riverside, by collaborating in a 22 to 8 victory over a St. Louis squad over the No. 1 course of the Medinah Country club. The local ten man team won seven singles matches, and took three of the five doubles duels, halving another.

The event, second in the annual intercity series, was scheduled for 36 holes, but the weather man again put in his unwelcome oar, and the competition was reduced to an afternoon 18 holes. The No. 3 championship yard was to have been used, but that and the No. 2 layout were closed to play, following a freak storm Saturday, which leveled 30 trees on the three courses.

Victor, Wagner Pace Triumph.

The matches were conducted on the basis of holes won over the full 18 holes, the ultimate total of such being counted as points won. Heroes of the Chicago victory were George Victor of Glen View, recent Western amateur runnerup, and John [Pick] Wagner of Kildeer, one time Northwestern star. George took five points from Chester O'Brien of St. Louis, while Pick was collecting four against Mark Schlude. The Victor-Wagner duo scored 12 points in all, including the three they won in their doubles match from the St. Louis pair.

Wilford Wehrle of Tam o' Shanter, who defends the district title against the brightest field in its history at Riverside, was a scheduled member of the Chicago squad, but did not appear. Art Doering of Medinah, also listed as a starter, withdrew because of an ailing wrist.

Play 18 Holes Today.

The amateurs will tee off today with an 18 hole qualifying round, the 32 low scorers gaining the championship match play bracket. This will begin with two 18 hole matches tomorrow, followed by two more of the same Wednesday, and concluding with Thursday's 36 hole title battle. Thirty-two other scorers will qualify for first and second flight match play in brackets of 16 each.

In addition to Wehrle and Doering, the field at Riverside will include Jim Ferrier, Australian open and amateur champion; John Barnum, Mexican titleholder; Victor, Burkemo, Wagner, Lehman, Chick Evans, and a number of St. Louis players.

SINGLES.

Bill Chambers, Chicago [35—40—75], 1 up on Jim Black, St. Louis [38—38—76].

DOUBLES.

Chambers and Armstrong finished even with Black and Draper.

Wagner and Victor 3 up on Schlude and O'Brien.

Hoerner and Frisina 2 up on Fehlig and Benson.

Reed and Andersen, 2 up on Bockenkamp and Kane.

Salomon and Cochran 2 up on Lehman and Burkemo.

DAHLKAMP LOST TO WILDCATS; HIP BONE IS BROKEN

Fred Dahlkamp of Hammond, Ind., regarded as a prospect for a regular tackle position this fall, is lost to the Northwestern university football team, it was learned last night. Dahlkamp, a sophomore last season, suffered a broken hip bone, arm lacerations, and head injuries in an automobile accident Saturday.

Northwestern officials said last night that he will be confined to the Evanston hospital for two months. Dahlkamp was riding in a car driven by Robert Jones, an Alpha Delta Phi fraternity brother at Northwestern, when the accident occurred in Evanston at the intersection of Noyes street and Orrington avenue.

Swain Gets Tuneup Today for Futurity

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Cleaveland Putnam's Swain, winner of the rich Arlington Futurity, will go to the post today in the six furlong Sheldrake purse at Washington Park. This will be his tune up for the $35,000 Washington Park Futurity, which will be run Saturday.

Among his rivals today will be Valdina Groom, which ran second in the Arlington stake. The difficulty of Swain's test will be increased by the presence of J. D. Weil's Flying Streak, which broke the track record for five and a half furlongs last Saturday. Other speedy ones in the field are Jake Lowenstein's De Kalb and Woolford farm's Silvestra. Drumont and Valdina Myth complete the entries. Flying Streak is not among the eligibles for the futurity, but the Valdina horses and Silvestra are.

Swain's Rivals Improve.

The Futurity may develop into a rerunning of the Arlington event, the difference being that many of Swain's rivals have shown considerable improvement and are more matured. Calumet farm's Whirlaway and Mrs. Parker Corning's Attention have won stakes recently at Saratoga. They may ship out for the Washington Park event. Swing and Sway, owned by the Greentree stable, is another easterner which is a possible starter.

The Millsdale stable's High Breeze and A. C. Ernst's Aljack also may be in the field.

Distances Stepped Up.

Weights for Washington Park's other big event, the $25,000 Washington Park Handicap which will be run on Labor day, will be announced today. Challedon, Kayak II., Advocator, Isolater, Viscounty, and other high grade campaigners are on the list of probable starters.

The distance runners will step up their tasks this week, the regular Wednesday event calling for a gallop of three and three-eighths miles. This will be three times around the mile and an eighth track. Shot Put, which won a two and a quarter mile race and followed up by setting a North American record for two and three-quarter miles, will continue his quest for the distance title. The climax of the series will come the following week with a four mile event called the Marathon championship handicap.

Riverview Midget Auto Race Card Is Postponed

The program of midget auto races scheduled for last night at Riverview Speedway was postponed because of wet grounds. The same card, including the third competition of the series of four for the autumn title, will be held Sunday night.

$5,000 Prize at Washington Park Won by Woman

By naming six winners in a day of upsets Mrs. Edwin J. Pyne, 1435 West 104th street, proved the best handicapper at the Washington Park race track Saturday and captured the $5,000 award in the patrons' handicapping contest.

The first woman to win in the competition this season, Mrs. Pyne, wife of a salesman, will receive her check at the track today from Walter L. Gregory, Washington Park Jockey club.

Mrs. Pyne entered three sets of selections—the maximum allowed each contestant—Saturday and her winning card was the best of the 47,653 placed in the contest boxes.

The contest, however, was exceedingly close. Sixteen others also picked five winners in the first seven races and thus it was necessary to examine the 1 2 3 4 selections for the eighth race, which are used when a tie exists after seven races.

Ebony Boy won the final race of the day, reducing the field to Mrs. Pyne and six others. That brought the competition down to the second choice in the race. Kandahar, which ran fifth, was the best of the second choices, leaving four contestants still in the running. Then it was that victory came Mrs. Pyne's way, for her third choice, Helen's Lady, had finished second to Ebony Boy while the hopes of the three other survivors were on horses which ran sixth and seventh.

Mrs. Pyne named the following five winners in Saturday's first seven races:

Employer, $7.50, first race; Getaway Jack, $14.50, second race; Tin Devil, $15.20, fourth race; All Lizzie, $12.60, fifth race; and Busy Morn, $8.20, sixth race. Her selection in the third race, Signator, was a close second to the longshot, To A Tee, and her pick in the seventh, Tobacco, ran out of the money.

Bert Billheimer Takes Honors in Orr Regatta

Bert Billheimer of the Jackson Park Yacht club won major honors in the open Frostbite dinghy races sailed yesterday in Grant park harbor as part of the first annual Commodore George Orr regatta. Skipper Billheimer, with his wife, sailed their entry, Savoy Plaza, to first place in the Jackson park class events, then defeated the winners of the four other classes in a cock-of-the-walk race.

Jack Holbrook won the Columbia Yacht club B class races. A. Metz won the Chicago park district's Rainbow fleet events, and Commodore Henry S. Smieding of the Racine [Wis.] Yacht club won in his club's class. Ed Schnabel Jr., commodore of the Chicago Yacht club's junior club, won in the C. Y. O. class. Five of the fleet of 50 dinghies capsized in the gusty northwest wind, but all were rescued by the Chicago park district's beach patrol boats.

Northern Light Wins.

The sea scout ship Northern Light's crew of oarsmen defeated seven other Chicago ships in a rowing cutter race. The winning crew's coxswain was Al Bagdon. The sea scout ship Calumet of the Calumet coast guard station was runner-up. Steve Pavkovich was in command of the crew.

Howard La Brant of the Sherwin Canoe club won the platter, tail end, gunwale, and kangaroo races in his canoe in a series of contests which concluded the two day regatta. Bob Pomrenke and Max Deffner of the Lincoln Park Boat club and Alden Fields Jr. of the South Shore Canoe club divided honors as runners-up.

CARDINALS WIN 2 GAMES FROM REDS, 3-1, 5-4

Pull 2d Game Out of Fire in 8th Inning.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 18 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals turned on the Cincinnatti Reds today, defeating the champions, 3 to 1 and 5 to 4, to slash the lead of Manager Bill McKechnie's team to four and a half games over the second place Brooklyn Dodgers.

St. Louis came from behind twice to win in the second contest, scoring three runs in the sixth and deciding the issue with a pair of tallies in the eighth. In the eighth Johnny Mize singled and Johnny Hopp tripled to tie the score before Jim Turner, the Reds' starting pitcher was replaced. Hopp came in with the winning run on Don Gutteridge's pinch single. Scores:

Rain Postpones 7-11 Ranch Polo Game Until Tomorrow

Cleveland, O., Aug. 18 (AP).—The first match in the intercircuit polo tournament was postponed today by rain. The teams scheduled to play were the 7-11 Ranch of Chicago and the Fairfield club of Wichita, Kas. The contest was reset for Tuesday.

White Sox Open with A's Today; Smith to Pitch

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 18.—The White Sox didn't even take time to tie their shoes after today's game with the Tigers. The purpose of the haste was to catch a 5:25 p. m. train for Philadelphia, where they open a three game series tomorrow with the Athletics. Eddie Smith will pitch against Buck Ross.

Because of threatening weather the game was started 10 minutes ahead of time. The weather also caused a shrinkage in attendance that under sunshiny conditions probably would would have been 30,000. Gentle rain entered into the proceedings after the fourth.

INDIANS SAVED BY RAIN AS BROWNS SCORE 4 IN 10TH

Cleveland, O., Aug. 18 (AP).—The weatherman handed the league leading Cleveland Indians a 2 to 2 draw with St. Louis today. The Browns came from behind to tie it in the ninth, and scored four in the tenth inning, but rain washed away the lead.

The 44,686 fans came to watch a double header at the big lake front stadium. Instead, they waited around nearly four hours, didn't see an officially completed ball game and were drenched for their trouble.

The result pushed Cleveland three and a half games ahead of the losing Detroit Tigers.

Al Smith, Cleveland southpaw, had a 2 to 1 lead over Vernon Kennedy when the Browns tied the score in the ninth.

YANKEES, 9-3; ATHLETICS, 1-7.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP).—Benny McCoy, the Athletics, $65,000 second baseman who had been benched for his poor play, returned to the lineup today and sparked the A's to an even split with the New York Yankees in a double header at Shibe park. After the Yanks took the opener, 9 to 1, behind Steve Sundra's six hit pitching and Buddy Rosar's timely hitting, McCoy replaced Crash Davis, and led the A's to a 7 to 3 triumph.

McCoy started a five run rally in the fourth inning that drove Marvin Breuer to cover and assured Johnny Babich his 10th victory of the year for the A's. With the bases full and two out, McCoy singled to right to tie the score at 2 to 2. Scores:

RED SOX, 4; SENATORS, 2.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18 (AP).—Left handed Rookie Earl Johnson pitched his first full game for the Boston Red Sox today—and won it, giving Joe Cronin's team a 4 to 2 victory and sweep of the three game series with the Washington Senators. Johnson, called up from Rocky Mount in the Piedmont league a few weeks ago, had won three games in previous appearances for the Red Sox but had not gone the distance.

Jimmy Foxx, who had hit six home runs in the last five games, was held hitless, but Dom DiMaggio and Bobby Doerr each connected for homers. DiMaggio also collected a double. Score:

Dodgers Gain on Reds; Win Two from Bees

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP).—The Dodgers whipped the Boston Bees in a double header today, 7 to 2 and 3 to 1. Before a crowd of 21,178, Whit Wyatt and Luke Hamlin each pitched a seven hitter to win the two games. The double victory enabled the Dodgers to pull up to within 4½ games of the National league leading Cincinnati Reds, who lost twice today to St. Louis.

Soose Finishes Hard Drill for Zale Contest

Billy Soose, who at 6 feet, ¾ inch is probably the tallest middleweight in boxing, yesterday ended training for a 10 round overweight bout with Champion Tony Zale in Mills stadium Wednesday. After boxing three rounds yesterday Soose weighed 164½ pounds, two and one half more than he expects to carry for the forthcoming encounter, which will be his first in Chicago.

Trainer Ray Arcel said the lanky Farrell, Pa., fighter is ready for anything Zale may have to offer and will do only enough roadwork today and tomorrow to hold his edge.

Zale, who is four and one quarter inches shorter than his rival, was given a rest yesterday, his second in a week. Tony, who went four rounds Saturday, will cut his final boxing drill in Trafton's gymnasium this afternoon to two rounds. He will return to the gymnasium tomorrow for light loosening up exercises.

Zale will be in quest of his 13th consecutive triumph and his fifth straight knockout against Soose, who recently displaced Ken Overlin as No. 1 contender.

HARVEY WOMAN, 69, KILLED AS 2 AUTOS COLLIDE

Husband and Driver of 2d Car Escape Injury.

Mrs. Emma Anderson, 69 years old, was killed yesterday in an automobile collision at Turlington avenue and 155th street, Harvey. Mrs. Anderson lived at 15712 Turlington avenue in the suburb. She was riding with her husband, Benjamin Anderson. The other car was driven by Mrs. Gertrude Gordon of 15216 Loomis street, Harvey. Neither driver was hurt.

Leslie Wyzard, 19, died in St. George's hospital a few hours after he was knocked from the running board of an automobile as it brushed a parked truck at 78th street and Ashland avenue. Wyzard, a clerk living at 6724 Parnell avenue, had climbed upon the running board of the car, in which several young acquaintances were riding, at 64th street and Ashland avenue. The car was driven by Robert Hansen, 20, of 8833 Loomis street.

One Killed, Four Injured.

Sam Angeloff, 26 years old, of Arlington Heights, was killed and four persons, all from St. Louis, were injured last night in an auto collision at Route 54 and Grand avenue, near Elmhurst. Those hurt were Adolph Grossrau, 50, and his wife, Genevieve, 37; Paul Grossrau, 50, and his wife, Katherine, 50. They were taken to Elmhurst hospital. Erwin H. Pelletier of Arlington Heights, driver of the car in which Angleoff was riding, was not hurt.

Herman Koelle, 62 years old, of Route 2, Palatine, a farmer, died in Palatine hospital last night of injuries suffered early yesterday when he was struck by an outomobile as he walked along Algonquin road half a mile west of Roselle road. The driver, Ward R. Schafer, 624 Kenilworth avenue, Glen Ellyn, said Koelle stepped in front of his machine.

Max Landers, 55, of 1415 South Kedzie avenue, died in the Chicago hospital of injuries suffered Saturday night at 55th and State streets. Landers, a pedestrian, was struck by a truck driven by John Taylor of 340 Armitage avenue after it had collided with a car driven by T. A. Smith of 159th street and Claremont avenue, Harvey.

Girl Auto Victim Dies.

Miss Ruth Kaysen, 19, of 5539 South Wolcott avenue, died in Memorial hospital, Waukesha, Wis., of injuries incurred a week before when a car in which she was riding crashed into a tree near Pewaukee. A companion, Miss Marie Jodan, 20, of 7647 Lowe avenue, was injured slightly, and two out of state traveling salesmen were killed.

Bert Carlson, 2555 Rosemont avenue, was killed on route 50 between Lake Geneva and Delevan, Wis., when he lost control of his car on a curve and it crashed into a tree.

Joseph Mitchell, 74, of 811 South State street, died in St. Luke's hospital Saturday night of injuries suffered when he was struck by a fire insurance patrol truck at Michigan and Balbo avenues. The truck was driven by Joseph Cunningham of 5236 Montana street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 525 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 393 were killed in Chicago, where 14,311 were injured in the same period.

1,000 LEAVE NYA EACH MONTH FOR JOBS IN INDUSTRY

Young men and women are leaving the National Youth administration program in Illinois at the rate of nearly 1,000 a month to take jobs in private industry, Mary Stuart Anderson, state NYA administrator, said yesterday. Two-thirds of those leaving apparently are taking jobs in industries for which they were fitted by the NYA's national defense training program, Miss Anderson said.

"Our program has been undergoing changes for many weeks in anticipation of this demand," she said. "Greater emphasis is being placed on training in mechanical lines and in types of work where expansion is expected as a result of the defense program."

EARNINGS OF 80 STEEL MAKERS DIP 13 PER CENT

Total Is 99 Millions in Half Year.

The net income of steel companies representing about 90 per cent of the industry's production capacity fell 13 per cent in the first half of this year from the latter half of 1939, the American Iron and Steel Institute announced yesterday.

The 80 reporting companies had total net income of $99,780,000 in the 6 months after all charges before dividends, against $114,940,000 in the preceding 6 months, and only $25,450,000 in the first half of 1939, when operations were at a low level.

Since the start of this year the industry has increased output to near capacity rates in order to meet mounting foreign and domestic orders.

Return Is 2.9 Per Cent.

Return on capital investment in the industry in the 6 months was 2.9 per cent, against 3.2 in the preceding 6 months. In 1929, peak production year, earnings were equivalent to a return of 9.1 per cent on investment. Total investment of the industry is about $4,200,000,000.

Taxes paid to federal, state, and local governments exceeded $78,000,000 during the period, against nearly $55,000,000 a year earlier. The total tax levy was equal to almost $170 for each wage earner employed in steel manufacturing plants and represented payment of more than 22 cents in taxes for each wage dollar paid.

Steel mills are now having some difficulty delivering certain heavy products, such as structural shapes, as quickly as customers wish, the magazine Steel reported yesterday.

"Structural shape deliveries have lengthened steadily, and in some instances engineering contractors have complained of inability to obtain shipping promises," the publication said.

Railroad Buying Gains.

The magazine reported a moderate gain in railroad demand for steel, but said backlogs of sheet and strip orders are being kept in check by a slackening in buying after heavy commitments and shipments in recent weeks. It said buying of sheets and strips is expected to expand as production of 1941 model automobiles increases.

"Orders continue numerous for fabricated shape and concrete reinforcing bars, and the large volume of work still being figured assures sustained activity," Steel said.

"Export markets tend to lag slightly in some products, altho heavy shipments continue, particularly to Great Britain and Canada.

"Pig iron shipments are responding to moderate betterment in foundry schedules, the gain being seasonal to a certain extent. Consumers are not inclined to stock heavily."

JULY BUILDING VALUE HIGHEST IN LAST 10 YEARS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 [Special].—The value of new construction undertaken in July was the highest in 10 years, the federal reserve board reported today. The rise was attributed to awards for national defense projects, most pronounced on the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts. There were generally small increases thruout the central parts of the country.

The board said the rate of industrial production in July held at the level of the preceding month. The index for July was given as 121, against 104 for July, 1939.

Canada Will Sell Second Big War Loan on Sept. 9

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 18 [Special].—Canada will float its second war loan of $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 on Sept. 9, it was disclosed today. Terms of the loan were not announced, but it is not believed the interest rate will exceed the 3¼ per cent paid on last January's loan.

Foreign Bond Repatriation Is Protested

A report of the Foreign Bondholders Protective Council, Inc., yesterday contained a protest against the practice of certain foreign governments in buying up their dollar bonds for repatriation, while "making either no service whatsoever or offering what amounts to a token payment" to United States investors.

As in past reports, the council, which maintains headquarters in New York City, detailed the large percentages of foreign obligations that are in default. Because of the European war, the report was limited to conditions prevailing at the close of 1939.

Formed to Aid Investors.

The council was organized in 1933 at the suggestion of Washington government officials, and has sought to obtain payments for investors thru negotiations with foreign governments. Payments to American bondholders resulting from these negotiations have amounted to $141,142,000, of which $103,938,000 was in cash and $37,204,000 in scrip, the report said.

The report said that $5,553,517,206 of obligations issued or guaranteed by foreign governments were outstanding at the end of 1939, and that 39.6 per cent were in default.

"As in previous years, the Latin-American countries have the largest percentage of their bonds in default," the council reported. "Of the $1,610,331,794 Latin-American total, 77 per cent represented issues of national governments, with 75 per cent in default; 17 per cent were those of states or provinces, with 76 per cent in default, and 6 per cent were issues of municipalities, all in default.

Argentina Has Paid.

Only Argentina has made full payments on its national bonds, altho adjustments have been made by other Latin nations, the council said.

Of the $1,467,767,066 of European dollar bonds outstanding at the close of 1939, 82 per cent were national government or government-guarantee issues, with 57 per cent in default, according to the report. Issues of states or provinces, which accounted for 5 per cent of the total, were 91 per cent in default. Municipalities' issues made up 13 per cent of the European total, and 54 per cent were in default.

6 ORGANIZATIONS ARE NAMED FOR SERVICE AWARDS

Six trade organizations were announced yesterday as winners of the John N. Van Der Vries awards for outstanding service during the year. Certificates of excellence will be awarded to them today at the opening of the Annual National Institute for Commercial and Trade Association executives at Northwestern university.

The awards were voted for the Institute of American Meat Packers, the Illinois Association of Insurance Agents, the Indianapolis, New Haven, Conn., and the Canton, O., Chambers of Commerce, and the National Lumber Manufacturers Association of Washington, D. C.

The winners were selected on the basis of achievement in community welfare, public relations, research activities, standardization programs and employer-employé relations.

SOY BEAN FUTURE TRADING WILL BE STARTED SEPT. 3

New York, Aug. 18 (AP).—The New York Produce exchange will start trading Sept. 3 in prime crude soy bean oil for future delivery, James J. O'Donohoe, president, announced today. The contract will be for 60,000 pounds of prime oil specified grade produced from domestic soy beans.

Warehouses from which oil must be tendered for delivery have been licensed at Decatur and Chicago, Ill.; Louisville, Ky., and Elmhurst, N. Y. At the start trading months will be October and the seven succeeding months.

LATHES.

Are the lathes made by the South Bend Lathe works the kind that are used in munitions factories? Does the company have its stock listed on any exchange? Please give me the company's recent record of profits and dividends. —T. U.

Answer: South Bend Lathe works manufactures metal working lathes for large factories, machine shops, the metal trades, and for home workshops. About 40 per cent of the company's dollar sales consists of lathes for workshops.

South Bend lathes are employed in light metal tooling and the heaviest machine is driven by a one horsepower motor. The lathes are used in various government departments in making instruments and other metal equipment, but are not adapted to the making of shells or other heavy munitions.

The company has outstanding 120,000 shares of $5 par capital stock listed on the Chicago Stock exchange.

Altho the company's earnings are influenced by the varying activity of the capital goods industries, its substantial sales to home workshops have helped to stabilize its profits. Net income, earnings per share, and dividends per share in recent years follow:

1935....	$172,270	$1.44	.....
1936....	287,248	2.39	$0.30
1937....	384,790	3.21	1.75
1938....	252,473	2.10	1.30
1939....	386,869	3.23	1.75

In the first half of 1940 net income was $384,197, equal to $3.20 a share, compared with $165,418, or $1.38 a share in the first half of 1939.

Dividends paid thus far in 1940 amounted to 90 cents a share, and a payment of 50 cents a share will be made Aug. 31 on stock of record Aug. 15.

DEFENSE DELAY IS DENIED BY INDUSTRY GROUP

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 [Special].—The National Association of Manufacturers has characterized as "deliberate and unwitting statements" the accusation of John L. Lewis, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, that industry is sabotaging the national defense program thru demands for tax credits, it was disclosed today. The statement was made in a letter sent by H. W. Prentiss Jr., president of the manufacturers, to all members of the house ways and means committee and the senate finance committee which are considering an excess profits disposal.

Prentiss said that those who are making such charges themselves are delaying and confusing legislation for the tax bill, which administration experts agree is essential for defense.

"The endeavor to discredit industry's efforts and to blame manufacturers for holding up national defense is not only reprehensible but is as well a definite barrier to the accomplishment of adequate defense efforts," he said.

RUBBER RESERVE TO BE INCREASED 180,000 MORE TONS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special].—Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, announced today that the Rubber Reserve company has agreed with the international rubber regulation committee, that it will buy an additional reserve stock of rubber up to 180,000 tons during 1941 at a price range basis of 17 to 18⅛ cents a pound f. o. b. transoceanic ships at point of shipment.

This 180,000 tons, with the 85,000 tons acquired thru the barter agreement with Great Britain in exchange for cotton, and the 150,000 tons which the Rubber Reserve company had agreed to buy during the remainder of this year, will provide a reserve stock in excess of 400,000 tons.

The RFC has authorized additional loans to the Rubber Reserve company of $75,000,000 to purchase and carry this 180,000 tons.

SOAP COMPANY REPORTS LOWER 6 MONTH PROFIT

Jewel Tea Earnings Show Increase.

Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company, soap and dentifrice manufacturer, yesterday reported lower earnings in the first half of this year than in the corresponding 1939 period. Jewel Tea company of Barrington, Ill., operator of food stores and direct to consumer routes handling coffee, tea, and packaged groceries, announced an increase in profits.

M. H. Karker reports gain for Jewel Tea.

E. H. Little, president of Colgate, said the six month profit of the company was $1,278,230, equal to 45 cents a share on the common stock. In the first half of last year net income was $2,427,093, or 88 cents a share.

The latest report, Little said, did not reflect the operations of certain foreign subsidiaries.

Jewel Earns $733,760.

Jewel Tea's report covered the 28 weeks ended July 13. Profit was $733,760, equal to $1.31 a share. In the corresponding 1939 period net income was $719,835, or $1.29 a share. Profit for the 52 weeks ended July 13 was $1,597,102, or $2.85 a share, compared with $1,450,272, or $2.59 a share, in the preceding 52 weeks.

M. H. Karker, president of Jewel Tea, said total sales for the 28 weeks were $14,820,438, compared with $13,058,076 in the 1939 period.

Thompson Products, Inc., maker of auto and aircraft parts, and subsidiaries reported for the second quarter of 1940 a net profit of $525,734 after all charges and taxes. This was equal, after prior preferred dividends, to $1.67 a share on 293,290 common shares:

Extra — Extra — Extra

MEN,

The Greatest Sensation

of a Lifetime

Brand new, exclusive, basically patented, nothing like it in the world: this electrical device is spectacular, outstanding, streamlined and modernistic. Everybody is a prospect and every one can afford to buy it. The greenest rookie without any experience whatever can earn $80 per week in commission to start and at least $100 per week when he becomes experienced in the business. This is absolutely the opportunity many men have been looking for. It's a natural and the most liberal and easy payment plan in this country. This business will make you happy, comfortable and financially independent. Come prepared to spend balance of day if selected. Apply Monday 10:30 a. m. sharp—no other time. 10 N. DEARBORN-STREET, ROOM 528.

Permanent Position

for man with car to start immediately with large national concern. Products are sold through appointments only direct to consumer. THIS IS POSITIVELY NOT CANVASSING. Work is dignified, spectacular and man must furnish acceptable references. Earnings around $150 mo., plus percentage-bonus and expense arrangement. Apply Monday before noon.

CENTURY REAL CRAFT CORP.
5048 BROADWAY.

TWO MEN.

One North Side and one West Side man to fill responsible inside and outside position calling on customers by appointment thru Household Appliance Dept. Knowledge of appliances not essential. Men selected will be thoroly trained and helped to start producing good percentage earnings at once. Must have car and be over 25. Apply Personnel Office, 4th floor, Monday, 10 a. m.

WIEBOLDT'S,
LINCOLN NEAR BELMONT.

FIELD REPRESENTATIVES

2 men with cars to start work at once, contacting definite leads through our association with 5,000 Home Managers monthly. We have exclusive distributing rights on newly patented item for the home which is demonstrated to same. Men chosen now have definite commissions on sales made by us and will receive percentage on sales made outside. Apply 9 to 11 a. m. Monday, Room 909, 111 W. Jackson-boulevard.

AN 82 YEAR OLD

ordinary and industrial life insurance company offers an exceptional opportunity to married men between 25-40 yrs. of age. GUARANTEED SALARY AND COMM. Men selected have unlimited possibilities of earnings and promotion.

Call between 10 a. m. and 12.

11005 S. MICHIGAN-AV.

PEOPLES GAS COMPANY

North Side: Mr. Weber, 3318 N. Marshfield.
South Side: Mr. Geary, 45 E. Pershing-road.

ESTABLISHED ROUTES.

We want 4 good men for established food routes that have been paying from $25 to $30 per week comm. Not a gold mine, but by working consistently 8 hrs. each day you can assure yourself of a permanent income with no layoffs. Apply 8230 N. Western-avenue or 810 W. 76th-street.

SOLICIT industrial business for old established vending machine company; one with previous experience in this line or with selling to industrial plants preferred but not essential. Write giving full personal history and references. Comm. basis. Drawing account if results are satisfactory. Address L M 421, Tribune.

Unusual Opportunity

For man to take orders for "GOLDEN RULE" NASH Clothing. Good comm. No exp. req. Mr. R. C. Taylor, between 9 and 12 tomorrow morning. 37 W. Jackson. Room 33.

Agents.

Miscellaneous.

COLLECTOR—$21 once for regular accounts. Age 21 to 37. Permanent work. Exp. not necessary. Surety bond required. Rm. 400, 208 W. Wacker-drive.

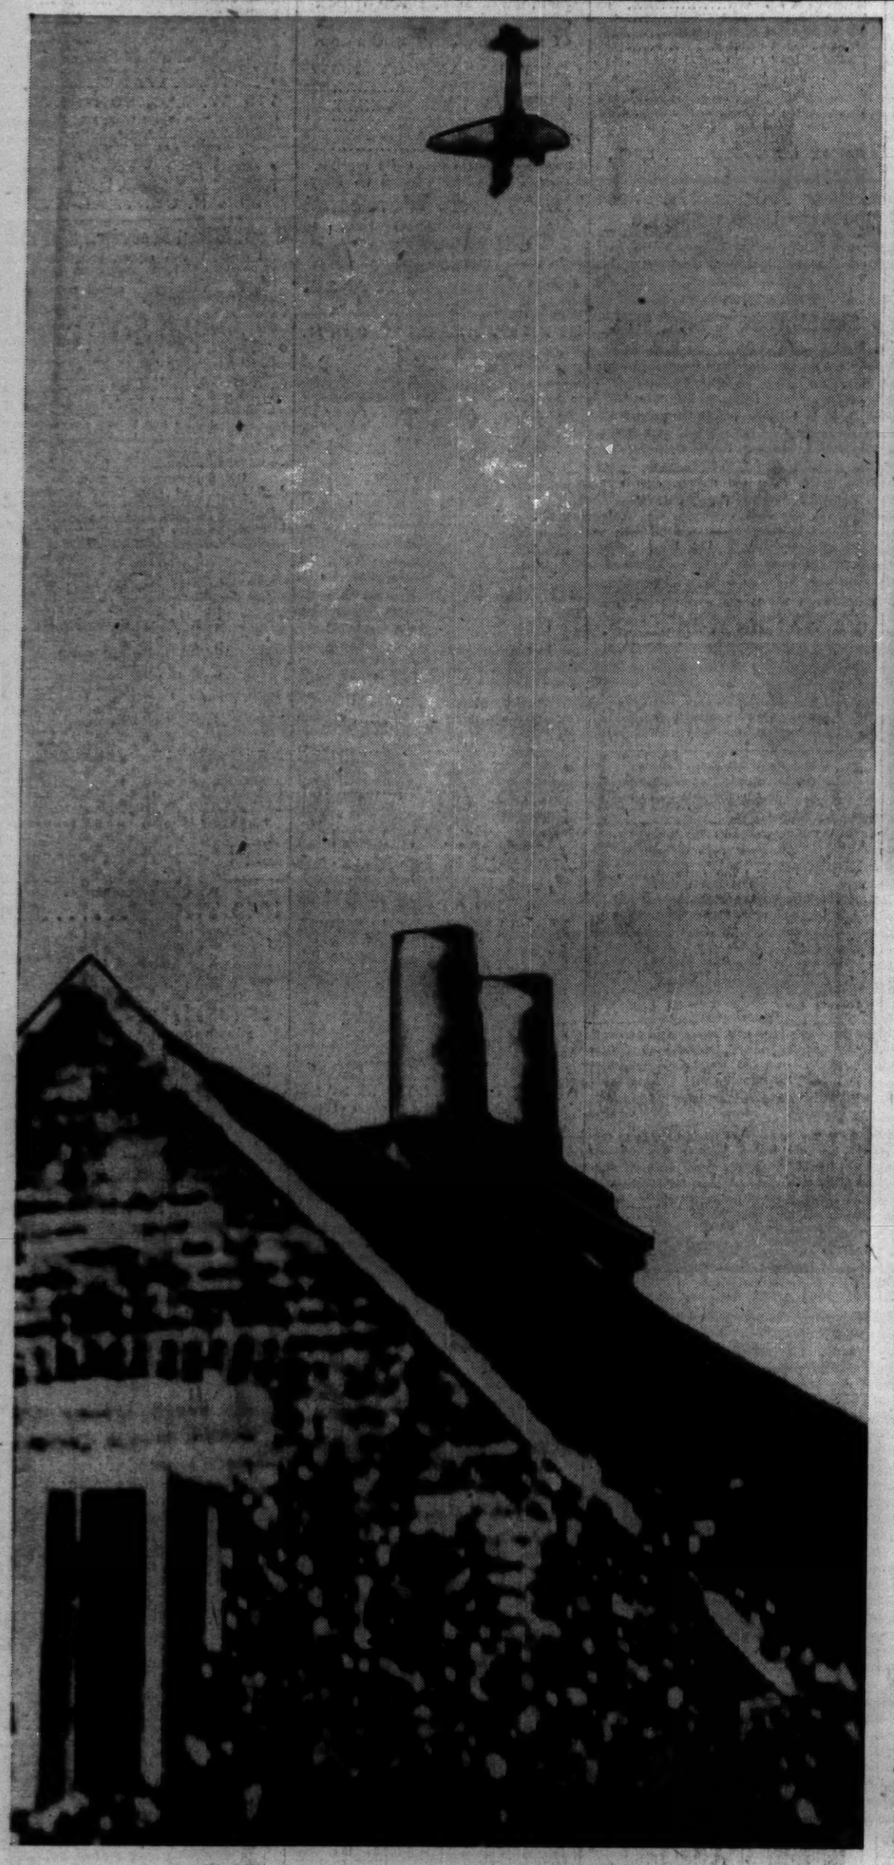
British Bombers Blast Nazi Bases in France—Germans Strike Twice at London Suburbs and Airport



According to British censor approved caption, this German fighting plane is plunging to earth after having been shot down yesterday during raid on England.

[Associated Press Wirephoto: Cabled from London yesterday.]

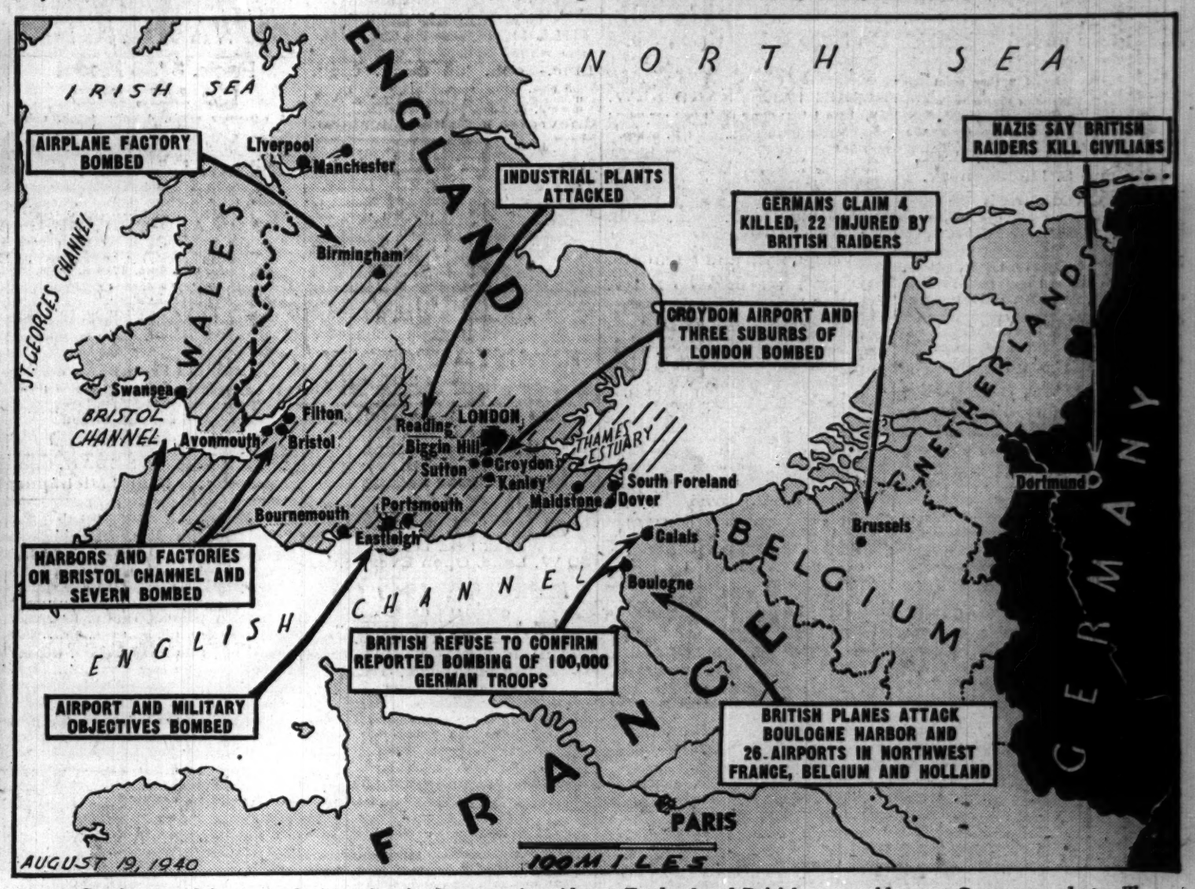
[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Householders of Surrey, south of London, shown as they spent yesterday afternoon scrambling over smoking ruins of their bombed homes in an effort to extinguish fire. Picture cabled from London late yesterday.



Captions explain yesterday's action in German air raids on England and British counterblows at Germany and at military objectives in occupied France. Principal areas attacked by German flyers are diagonally shaded.
